

NEW GAME

The start of DEFtv programming shows the WrestlePlex parking lot and a caption reading "earlier today". Conor Fuse walks into view sporting a new Legend of Zelda inspired green and black leather jacket and his hair slicked back like something out of Grease. Fuse turns to have a conversation with a person behind him, off camera.

Conor Fuse:

You got the goods, my little buddy?

And this is when The Game Boy walks into the scene holding a duffle bag. Game Boy looks down at the bag and then up at Conor. The Character Formerly Known as Player Two nods.

Conor Fuse:

Okay, well we are ready to- OH MY GOD THERE HE IS!!

Conor shouts like a teen girl, or Debra Warenstein looking over the DEFIANCE roster for the first time. He sees the new FIST of DEFIANCE walking towards the arena. Black shirt, black jeans, it's nothing fancy although Gage has the belt draped across his shoulder. Conor stands upright and puts a smile on his face as he catches Gage's attention before The Noble Raider enters the building.

Gage Blackwood:

Uhhh... hi Conor.

Fuse turns to The Game Boy.

Conor Fuse:

He knows who I am!

Blackwood raises an eyebrow.

Gage Blackwood:

Aye. We've met before. A few times.

Blackwood stands with a hand on the WrestlePlex entrance door while Conor continues to gush.

Gage Blackwood:

Have you... been eating those mushrooms again? Honestly, I don't know if they're legal.

Conor shakes his head no as he walks over to Blackwood and puts an arm around him. Fuse walks Blackwood towards The Game Boy.

Conor Fuse:

Hey Gage, listen. I am just SO pumped you're the new FIST of DEFIANCE and mIkEy UnLiKeLy is gone forever like the 2-bit bitch boss he is. #499FTW am I right? Am I right!?

Blackwood smiles uncomfortably.

Conor Fuse:

Anyway, I'm jacked ATM. It's a fresh start for DEFIANCE. Everyone's a new champion so let's gooooooooo!!

Conor snaps his fingers to The Game Boy. The Mini Boss opens the backpack up.

Gage Blackwood:

Your Game Boy is back?

Conor shakes with delight.

Conor Fuse:

Damn skippy he is. Fireball healed and all. I know he's really looking forward to getting back out there, too. He told me.

Blackwood is dumbfounded.

Gage Blackwood:

He talks?

Conor Fuse:

Telepathically, yes.

Conor reaches inside the bag and reveals a FIST trophy holding an Xbox controller. It looks like something out of the DEFy Awards but with a gaming twist. Fuse holds it out for Blackwood.

Conor Fuse:

Here, friend.

And Blackwood cautiously takes it.

Gage Blackwood:

Thank you?

Conor snaps his fingers in a circle.

Conor Fuse:

Na, bro, you don't gotta thank me. I am thanking you with this Achievement! Thank you Gage Blackwood for giving DEFIANCE a much needed reboot! New coat of paint!

Blackwood can't help but look at Conor's hair. The "Locker Room Leader" catches on rather quickly.

Conor Fuse:

I know, I know, I look like a dumbass.

Fuse rearranges his hair to stand upright and messy like normal.

Conor Fuse:

I just wanted in on the reboot, too.

Blackwood smacks Conor across the back, perhaps a little too hard.

Gage Blackwood:

You're fine. Are you... [peering into the backpack] giving a trophy to every new champion?

Conor nods with passion.

Conor Fuse:

Yes, sir! Got one for Brock, Pat and Matt!

There's silence until Blackwood speaks up.

Gage Blackwood:

...Rezin?

The Gamer immediately trembles.

Conor Fuse:

Oh no no no no no. Kabal are too scary. Hard pass.

About to head inside, Blackwood nods once to The Game Boy and then to Fuse, holding up the trophy.

Gage Blackwood: [trying to figure it out as he goes]

Well, thank you. I'll make use of this somehow.

But before Gage exits, he's stopped one more time by Conor smacking the side of his head.

Conor Fuse:

Damn, almost forgot!

And Fuse reaches into the back to reveal a VHS tape marked "THE MOMENT IT ALL GOT BETTER". He hands it to Gage.

Conor Fuse:

This. This right here. Most people in DEFIANCE don't know but I'm a big tape trader, huge vintage guy. This is a copy of your FIST of DEFIANCE victory. Every camera angle possible! A tribute to Gage Blackwood, the saviour of DEFIANCE! The real DEFIANT! The true DEFIANT!

This gift actually seems to resonate with Blackwood. He takes it with a genuine smile.

Gage Blackwood:

Thanks, pal.

Conor Fuse:

You're welcome.

Blackwood looks behind Conor before entering the WrestlePlex.

Gage Blackwood:

Looks like you have company.

Conor turns to see Brock Newbludd and Pat Cassidy standing in front of him. The Faithful pop as they watch on the DEFFlatron.

Conor pats Brock on the shoulder. This is followed by a minor, uncomfortable smile as Conor is about to pat Pat but pulls back. Cassidy looks at The Game Boy and in a quick and unexpected motion, he feigns like he's going to hit the monster of a man. The Game Boy doesn't flinch or react at all. Cassidy pulls his hand back.

Pat Cassidy:

Yeah you'd better.

Cassidy looks toward Conor. He nods curtly.

Pat Cassidy:

Hey.

Conor Fuse:

Hey.

There's a long drawn out silence until Conor remembers what he's doing. Game Boy lifts the bag and Fuse takes out two trophies in the same design as the one he gave Blackwood. One has "BROCK NEWBLUDD" inscripted, the other has "PAT KASSIDY". Conor hands them the trophies.

Conor Fuse: [to Pat Cassidy]

Sorry for the typo.

Cassidy reaches over and takes his trophy, making sure to flex right in The Game Boy's face.

Pat Cassidy:

Oh, sorry man. Hope my immense strength isn't throwing you off.

The Game Boy says and does nothing.

Conor Fuse:

So glad you guys put mAIaK in his place. Hate that guy, seriously. Was I ever THAT annoying?

Fuse looks at Cassidy with a glint of hope in his eyes. Cassidy looks prepared to say something snarky... but then he folds.

Pat Cassidy:

Well... ah, fuck it. No. No you weren't. Nobody is as big a dickwad as Malak friggin Garland.

Cassidy holds up the trophy. Then averts his eyes as he says the next thing begrudgingly.

Pat Cassidy:

This is a nice gesture. Or whatever. Thanks.

Newbludd grins at his grumbling partner and takes a brief second to examine his new trophy a bit closer. Looking up to Conor, Brock slaps him on the shoulder and chuckles.

Brock Newbludd:

Thanks, bud. We'll put these babies on display behind the bar at Ballyhoo. Whaddya think Cass? Wouldn't that framed picture we have of you punching Conor in the face look cool in between our new trophies?

Cassidy snorts, and Brock shrugs his shoulders as he focuses back on Conor.

Conor Fuse:

You got yourself a damn good teammate, Brock. Don't turn on him and if you sing karaoke, sing with your heart. Also, don't do an 8-bit rendition. It doesn't work out well.

Brock Newbludd:

Well, it's a ballsy move to go full 8-bit, Conor. Especially sober. And as for Cass...well...I know I got the best damn tag partner a guy could ask for. Because not only does he sing with heart, he fights with it too. Plus, I'm pretty sure his sister would straight up murder me if I screwed this tag team up, so there's that too.

Conor agrees.

Conor Fuse:

You guys sport those AWESOME POSSUM BLOSSOM Tag Team Championships! I know you'll gonna rock it!

Suddenly, a white van SCREEEEEEACHES into the parking lot. It comes to a halt, the side door slides open and Rezin is thrown out of it. The van peels away but not without the side door opening back up and the Favored Saints Championship being tossed beside The Escape Artist.

Rezin:

OOF!! Where am I?!

Brock and Pat look at each other, then back at Conor. The younger Fuse pretends he didn't witness a thing.

Conor Fuse:

HEY is that Matt LaCroix off in the distance! OMG I think it is! Hi Matt LaCroix!!!

Fuse grabs the backpack and races off to see if it's Matt LaCroix, leaving Pat Cassidy and Brock Newbludd with The Game Boy. Cassidy bows up right in Game Boy's face, flexing and cracking his neck.

Pat Cassidy:

You feeling froggy, kid? Then LEAP!

Brock puts an arm on his partner's shoulder.

Brock Newbludd:

Let's... let's go.

Pat allows himself to be pulled away, but not before pointing and getting one last jab in.

Pat Cassidy:

Yeah, you're lucky!

Slowly, Rezin shuffles to his feet, shouldering the Favoured Saints Championship over his shoulder and scanning his surroundings with distant, fluttering eyes. Then he notices the Game Boy still stoically standing nearby.

Rezin:

Let me tell you what... I miss having my own personal Uber driver.

Rubbing the feeling back into his neck, the Goat Bastard moves to enter the arena.

"TWISTS AND TURNS" OSCAR BURNS vs. NATHAN EYE

DDK:

It's a new era for DEFIANCE tonight! All new champions crowned! And in our opener, we've got "Twists and Turns" Oscar Burns about to go one-cba-one with one of the true rising stars of the company, "The Handsome Face" Nathan Eye!

Lance:

Oscar Burns has made it no secret he's gunning for the FIST of DEFIANCE, currently held by our new champion, Gage Blackwood! But tonight, he's got Nathan Eye standing across from him! The young man overcame everything that Doctor Ned Reform threw at him to win!

DDK:

Easily the biggest match of young Nathan Eye's career! Can he pull off an upset in our opener against one of the best in DEFIANCE today? Let's get right to the action!

The camera goes inside the ring with Darren Quimbey.

Fired the hell up tonight, Burns heads on down to the ring with a brand new "Team Graps Cap" shirt on his way to the ring. Nathan Eye:

Let's do this Burnsie!

DDK:

Big opportunity for Nathan Eye! Easily the biggest win of his career if he can pull this off.

Lance:

Without a doubt, Darren. Burns has to keep it on the mat and can't let Eye get in the air or overpower him cause he can do both!

Both men meet up in the middle of the ring with Eye offering a hand. Burns hesitates for a second but then takes it to show him respect. Referee Benny Doyle calls for the bell.

DING DING

And Eye tries a big dropkick off the bat, but Burns moves! The crowd gasps when Burns then tries to grab a leg, but Eye recovers and uses his other leg to kick him out of the way. He rolls to his feet and then boots a stunned Burns in the stomach before sending him to the ropes and then drops down. Burns keeps running and when he gets back up, Eye finally nails one of his signature dropkicks!

DDK:

Lance:

He sure did! Eye's already going up top? He's wanting to throw Burns off his game with a fast start, isn't he?

DDK:

Two count right from the jump! Eye's taking this match seriously, isn't he?

Burns gets picked up and then thrown into the corner where Eye nails a jumping forearm smash in the corner and then taken over with a huge swinging double arm suplex! After getting Burns down, Eye kips up to his feet to cheers from the crowd and heads to the ring apron. When Burns is back up, Eye slingshots over and then takes him down with another shoulder block, this time a slingshot shoulder block! Then another cover!

The crowd cringes from the shot, but Burns isn't done. He whips Eye to the other side and follows up with a another running European uppercut in the corner! The former holder of many of BRAZEN's titles gets rocked again. Burns then grabs his left arm and then runs out of the corner with a running single arm DDT!

Big series of moves by Burns to come right back! And now he's got that arm worked over. It'll be a lot harder for Eye to use some of his power moves as well as get around the ring like he does!

DDK:

You and I have both called enough of Burns' matches to know that's true!

The Faithful watch on as The Technical Spectacle grabs the arm after the stomps and then slams it against the canvas! Eye howls out in pain when Burns then grabs the limb again then twists around to slam it into the canvas a third time.

DDK:

And when Burns forces you to wrestle his type of match, it's hard to get out from underneath!

Eye tries to push Burns away, but he comes back with a solid knee to the chest, dropping Eye back to the canvas. This leaves him wide open for Burns to set up a hammerlock... then DROPS Eye with a northern lights suplex on the arm! Holding with a bridge!

Holy moley, Keebs, this could be a real clash of the titans here tonight!

However, on the orders of his old man, George Stevens simply shrugs and steps out of the ring, joining his father and cousin, who has by now rolled out. The Dynasty slowly moves away from the ring, keeping their collective gaze on the King of the Monsters, who turns to his fallen former partner.

DDK:

Mushigihara were once tag team partners turned bitter rivals; the last time they stood in the same ring in DEFIANCE, they nearly killed one another, but what could the God-Beast be doing now?

Troy begins to come to his senses, and looks right into the face of his fellow former Philosopher King as he rises to his feet. Mushigihara does not move a muscle, until Troy stands fully erect and walks up to his face, offering an extended hand.

Lance:

You and I have been here long enough to recall their triumphs as a team and their grizzly battles against each other, Keebs, so seeing Mushigihara offer peace is NOT what I expected!

Troy states down at Mushi's hand, then looks him in the eye expressing confusion and worry, before slowly dipping out of the ring, not breaking his gaze as he slowly backs up the aisle.

DDK:

Troy Matthews is not very receptive of this, apparently, but somehow I don't think we've seen the end of this. We'll be right back, fans.

The camera cuts away on Troy's face, still focusing on Mushi in the ring.

JUMP START

A car pulls up, as the door opens The Faithful pop when they see PCP member Klein exit the vehicle. He looks a bit solemn, his head hung low. He walks to his trunks and pops the hood. He pulls out a small onesie from the trunk that has a little dandelion flower on it, and sighs. Suddenly two bright car lights blind him as a car speeds toward him. Klein covers his eyes. With burnt rubber and a loud screech, the car stops just a few feet from where he stands.

Klein ignores it entirely, doesn't even look up, but there's a slight snuffle as the car engine dies. Klein sighs, throwing the onsie to the floor, before retrieving his Odessa Gym bag.

As Klein closes his trunk, revealed where the open trunk door was propped open is none other than Jestal, who blindsides Klein! Klein is unable to protect himself as Jestal lays in the blows over and over. All Klein can see is starbursts from the bright lights.

Jestal drags Klein over to a street light and rips and tears Klein's box clean off his head, throwing to the side. He then grabs Klein's head and slams his skull into the steel post, over, and OVER. Only after four strikes is Jestal temporarily satisfied, dropping Klein to the cold New Orleans concrete with a sick thud. A trickle of blood trails down the steel post and drops onto the floor by Klein's feet. The jester unloads with kicks to the skull and ribs.

Jestal:

Where is my answer, you predator!

Jestal picks up Klein and bends him like a bow in an arrow with the street light buried into his lower back!

After a few moments of painful shouts from Klein, his body goes limp and he no longer seems to be fighting back. Jestal releases the bow and arrow. He grabs a limp Klein by the hair and drags him across the parking lot.

Jestal:

This is what happens when you don't answer me.

Jestal drags him over to his car and opens the trunk. He slams Klein's head into a toolbox before grabbing the trunk lid and slamming it over and over into the lower back of Klein who screams in pain with each strike. Klein finally gets tossed out on the street in immense pain holding his ribs and lower back.

Jestal:

This is only the beginning sweetness.

Just as Jestal is about to continue his assault another vehicle pulls up. Jestal covers his eyes as Elise and The D exit the vehicle.

The D:

HEY! Not fair!

Jestal makes a prompt retreat. As Elise rushes out and checks on Klein. The D climbs out of the driver's seat, and snarls his nostril.

The D:

STATE OF THE LOCKER ROOM ADDRESS

DDK:

I hear we're heading backstage for something very important right now.

The backstage area is bustling with the usual sorts of DEFIANCE employees. Ring crew members are fixing jigs. Makeup artists are preparing their stations. Wardrobe consultants are folding their laundry. Heck, even some talent are congregating nearby. Butcher Victorious is watching his match against Dan Leo James and cackling to himself, No Fun Dean is trying to leave while Slightly Fun Jen is chatting with some of the makeup girls, and the entirety of Les Enfants Terribles - Killjoy, Archer Silver, Kazuhiro Troy, and High Flyer IV - are huddled up and game planning for the Happy Hour Tag Team Battle Royal later on in the evening.

Everyone is focusing on what they're doing until a portable stage and podium is wheeled in by the hulking Cyrus Bates. LET cease their conversation as Bates pulls the stage-on-wheels right by them, forcing them to move.

Cyrus Bates:

IT'S IN PLACE! ATTENTION! ATTENTION!

As Bates shouts, the busyness of the area dissipates. Interested or not, everyone turns their attention to the podium on the stage as none other than Malak Garland assumes the power position behind it.

Cyrus Bates:

THERE HE IS! EVERYONE CLAP FOR HIS ARRIVAL!

No one except Cyrus claps as Malak pretends like he's receiving a hero's welcome. The Keyboard King extends an arm in hopes to quell the raucous crowd only he can hear and wipes away a fake tear from his face. Malak is wearing a decadent six piece eggshell white suit, of course.

Malak Garland:

Thank you for the warm embrace, everyone and welcome to my state of the locker room address. Oh wow, tickle me nervous.

While Malak takes a brief step back, Thurston Hunter runs up to the podium and deposits a speech written out on cue cards.

Malak Garland:

I know what you're all thinking and yes I can confirm that I am still devastated coming off the loss of my beloved shiny tag titles but I feel it is IMPERATIVE I push forward with this locker room address so all my colleagues and subordinate underlings know exactly where I stand.

Pregnant pause.

Malak Garland:

You see, I'm going to take this opportunity that everyone wants me to have to declare how I intend to move forward from this.

Everyone tries to go back to minding their own business but Malak is relentless.

Malak Garland:

You see, my situation is rather complex. There's levels to this. You could even say there's lots to unpack here.

Suddenly, Lindsay Troy emerges from around the corner, warmed up for her match against Ned Ref....oh, sorry....DOCTOR Ned Reform. She walks over to the watercooler and obliviously starts refilling her water bottle. She notices her son, Kaz, and gives him a nod hello. Malak stops his speech immediately as he eyes The Queen of the Ring intently.

Malak Garland:

Ex-excuse me.

Malak rushes down from the podium and over to Troy, who is about to put the bottle cap back on. Cyrus and Thurston follow him.

Malak Garland:

Yes, hi there. I'm sorry but you literally just ruined my State of the Locker Room Address by walking in here and making a ruckus.

Lindsay Troy:

Oh, a ruckus you say.

She looks around the room, at all the once-bored faces who now seem to be very interested in this conversation.

Lindsay Troy:

Well, I suppose my getting some refreshing water was far more entertaining than ... whatever it was you were just doing.

Malak Garland:

Who even are you? How did you get backstage? This is my State of the LOCKER ROOM Address. Employees only. No outsiders.

Lance:

I'm not so sure Malak knows exactly who he's talking to right now.

DDK:

Oh, you think?

Malak Garland:

Was your little refill so important that you had to interfere with my train of thought just now?

Malak speaks, completely ignoring the fact that almost everyone else was paying him no attention before the Queen walked in. Garland gets real close and sticks a finger into Troy's collarbone.

Malak Garland:

Are you here to pick someone up? Are you someone's MOM because all the soccer moms are usually told to wait with the rest of the useless parents in the crowd, which I hate because crowds give me immense anxiety!

The reaction of the Faithful can be faintly heard in the background. A stormy look crosses Kaz Troy's face, and he starts to step up at the literal disrespect Malak shows for not only his mother but one of the most legendary wrestlers ever, but Killjoy's hand holds him back.

For her part, Lindsay simply plucks Malak's finger off her body and lets it fall away from her, then offers the Source of Envy a sarcastic little smile.

Lindsay Troy:

I'm not here to pick anyone up, but I will be sending someone somewhere. We'll see if it's the hospital or the morgue after my in-ring appointment with "Doctor" Ned Reform.

Malak Garland:

Oh, you'll be wrestling later tonight? Tickle me intrigued then. Lots to unpack. I guess I'll be watching. Yeah. Watch your back, soccer mom.

Malak taps Cyrus and Thurston on the chest before departing. The two flunkies follow the Grammar Grappler, mean-mugging Troy as they go; in Thurston's case, it looks more like he's constipated.

Lindsay doesn't watch them go, taking a sip from her water instead, the sarcastic smile never leaving her face.

Reform takes a moment to yuk it up with Levi Cole. Cole doesn't crack a smile.

Reform points to the DEFtron, where... a PowerPoint presentation appears? In the center of the PowerPoint is a single word: STAGNATION.

Ned Reform:

Today's word, children, is stagnation. Do me a favor, if you will.

Reform raises his hand and points a single finger to his own bald head.

Ned Reform:

Take a moment, and put your imagination caps on. I want to go to a place in your mind. Go on a journey with me. I want you to think of a time in your life when something BIG was set to change... and it made you uneasy. Go on. How about this: everybody close your eyes and take two minutes and think about that time.

Reform's voice becomes soothing and calm.

Ned Reform:

Think about how you felt in that moment. What was going through your mind? What emotions were boiling up inside you? How did you react?

Reform walks around the ring, speaking calmly, urging people to close their eyes and take part in his "activity." As he looks to the fans, many of them take the chance to tell him what they think about him.

Ned Reform:

It appears that I only have about 25% of you with me. Perhaps you can't remember a time? Let's... let's use TA Cole as an example!

Reform walks over and places a hand on Cole's shoulder. Cole doesn't react or move to this.

Ned Reform:

Levi Cole made a big change recently. He chose to ally himself with yours truly for the good of his career. I can tell you he fretted over this decision. He knew it came at a cost, and he went back and forth before making his choice. But in the end, he overcame his fears and did the right thing... didn't he, children?

BOO!

As the crowd jeers Reform's smugness, The Good Doctor reaches into his coat pocket and produces a small clicker. He clicks once and the PowerPoint presentation shifts from the word STAGNATION to a stock photo of a young woman looking terrified. Probably came from a horror movie of some kind.

Ned Reform:

Many people do not have the courage of Levi Cole. Many of us become frozen with fear at the prospect of change, whether at an individual or organizational level. We become... stagnant. The idea of sweeping changes, even those that would result in improvement, become frightening to the animal parts of our brain. The part where our emotions dwelling and logic has no home.

He clicks again. This time it's a photo of the human brain.

Ned Reform:

We begin to wonder: if there's sweeping change, what will I lose? What will happen to my interests? Will I be forced to confront some truths that I am not yet ready for? And then we allow that fear to paralyze us. To control us. We become stagnant. And why are we talking about this today?

DDK:

My question exactly.

Ned Reform:

Because although I've received countless letters of support, I've also discovered that there are... if you can believe this... people who do NOT want me to be appointed as the General Manager of DEFIANCE.

A pop!

Ned Reform:

And why? Because... and you'll never believe THIS... apparently there are those who LIKE DEFIANCE the way it is.

Reform turns to Levi Cole and shakes his head as if that's the craziest thing he's ever had to say. The Faithful cheer their approval for their favorite wrestling company.

Ned Reform:

And so I need to be the bigger man and realize that this resistance to change comes from a place of fear. And it's logically my duty to alleviate that fear. Perhaps I can offer you a concrete example, yes?

Reform clicks again - and the next slide on the PowerPoint is a stock photo of Conor Fuse all five of the Unified Tag Team belts from a few months ago. The crowd cheers for the appearance of the fan favorite!

The sound cuts out with the lights. The Faithful try to illuminate the DEFarena with their cell phone flashlights but the darkness is just too consuming, with the only light catching DDK trying desperately to fix his headset. Seconds feel like minutes as the DEFIANCE team scrambles to regain technical control of their show before then, just as chaotically sudden as it came, it went away. Lights, sound, everything return to normal... except Matt LaCroix, who lays unconscious face down on the interview stage with the DEFIANCE Southern Heritage Championship laid flat across his back.

DDK:

Are we back on air?

Lance:

I think we are Darren, but we need to get medical out here right now. Matt LaCroix is out cold.

On cue, the DEFIANCE medical team runs out onto the stage and attends to the DEFIANCE Southern Heritage Champion. Right as they arrive he appears to try and push himself up to his hands and knees, catching just a glimpse of blood trickling down his face before he collapses back onto himself. Doctors begin asking him questions but he waves them off wildly, turning around and looking for his championship when suddenly the tron in front of him begins to write.

"I'm not afraid to bleed."

LaCroix wipes the blood off from his face.

“Are you?”

Sneering with frustration, Matt LaCroix grabs his championship and tries to walk away before stumbling forward and falling to his hands and knees where the doctors on staff attend to him once again.

DDK:

I'm not afraid to bleed?

Lance:

Matt LaCroix had just told the world he would take on anyone who wanted the opportunity and immediately someone, under the guise of darkness, assaulted the champion in a cowardly attack and ran away before anyone even knew what happened! What's the point of that?

DDK:

You're right, Lance, Matt LaCroix made it very clear that if you want a shot at the Southern Heritage Championship all you have to do is ask... but someone clearly has very different methodology, but why?

Lance:

You know we're used to people coming out here on the television show after the Pay-Per-View to announce their intentions to challenge another wrestler for a variety of reasons... but why attack a man anonymously who would accept all challenges?

DDK:

Regardless, Matt LaCroix is in a world of hurt after this obviously premeditated assault. From that video they had every intention of making the champion bleed and they did just that. We just hope the champion recovers quick enough to defend this title that obviously means very much to him. To have it taken away in an attack like this would just be devastating.

Lance:

Well if I know one thing about Matt LaCroix, it's that the guy has waaay too much fight in him. If he's breathing, he'll be fighting. Let's all put our thoughts and prayers together for Matt LaCroix and hope this isn't a setback to his Southern Heritage aspirations.

The Faithful let out a cheer as Southern Strong Style finally gets back up to his feet with the help of the medical team. Grasping his championship and frustrated, he stumbles out of their grasp and makes his way backstage with the doctors quickly in pursuit.

Flex Kruger yells that Titaness can't be there, but she rolls her eyes. Minute, with legs still upright, rolls back and puts his feet under the ropes to then PULL HIMSELF UP back to the apron with massive applause from The Faithful! He then leaps over the ropes, lands on the second rope, and then nails Bobby Horrigan with an inside springboard dropkick!

Newbludd and Cassidy:
WOAH!

DDK:

That has to be one of the most creative ways to stave off an elimination I've ever seen!

Lance:

The Most Interesting High Flyer in the World indeed!

Elise takes note from her and The D's corner when Minute flashes a cocky smirk, telling her to top that. Minute runs back in and he and The D trade shots now! Back to the other side of the ring, Bobby Horrigan is left stumbling when Titus sees his chance. He has him up in a fireman's carry and the Wingman hits... the Airplane spin! He gets a few rotations in on him before DUMPING him over the ropes and out to the floor! The 6'7" Campbell pumps his fists and yells out to a cheering crowd!

DDK:

Another elimination by Campbell! Well done!

Pat Cassidy:

Hit the showers, Horrigan! How's ya motha?

Brock Newbludd:

Tired from fuc...

Lance:

Pump the brakes, fellas.

Roosevelt Owens tries to land a chop on Uriel as he tries to eliminate him now! With The Lucks going after Elise, The D, Minute and the rest of the Gulf Coast Connection. Uriel shakes one off and then NAILS Owens with another huge headbutt! He looks out to the crowd and then POWERS the 400-pound man in a body slam! The crowd freaks out as Uriel DUMPS him over the ropes and to the outside just like Bobby Horrigan was!

HEAVY ARTILLERY HAVE BEEN ELIMINATED!

DDK:

Down to four teams now and both members are all in. Los Tres Titanes, The Lucky Sevens, The PCPs and The Gulf Coast Connection!

Brock Newbludd:

My money is on one of those four teams winning this thing, DDK.

The action gets heated when The D and Minute continue to fight! CCK gets full of himself and goes after both Max and Mason while Titus and Uriel Cortez duke it out. CCK goes after both of the seven-foot giants with kicks to the legs but when he tries a springboard from the inside... he gets the Winning Hand by Mason! Mason then moves him backwards and then CCK gets dumped over the top rope to jeers from the pro-GCC crowd!

Titus sees this and keeps on battling with Uriel Cortez, hitting The Titan of Industry with a number of clubbing forearms to the chest, but off the rebound, Cortez nails The Biggest Dropkick in DEFIANCE! He gets knocked back to the ropes and that gives Elise and The D... AND Minute a chance to get the big man over.

THE GULF COAST CONNECTION HAVE BEEN ELIMINATED!

Titus looks disappointed with himself, but CCK comes over to help him up, along with their third partner Theodore Cain coming down the ramp. The partying trio head to the back.

DDK:

They had a great showing in this Battle Royale, they really did... but now we're down to three!

Pat Cassidy:

YOU GOTTA WONDER WHICH TEAM WANTS IT MOST, LANCE!

Cortez and Max Luck go after one another again with stiff shots while a swarm of Elise Ares, The D and Minute work together to try and eliminate Mason Luck! The giant seven-footer puts a knee up and tosses Elise aside, then when Minute runs in with a dropkick, he gets knocked back! The D then nails D In Your Face on Mason! All three come back up, but the BFTA member comes back with a roar and nails Minute with a stiff right!

The D tries for another Dick-Punch-A, but Mason grabs The D's leg! When Max Luck tries to get Uriel, Minute leaves to help his own partner. Elise comes back, but Mason nails her with a big boot... Then he grabs The D and yanks him (tee hee) over the ropes! He tries to hang on when an angry Mason STOMPS him against the apron before he falls out!

DDK:

NO! It's up to Elise now for the PCPs! The D is out!

Brock Newbludd:

The D started out hard and fast but now lies limp on the floor!

Lance:

This is getting intense!

An angry, focused Mason goes after Uriel and then helps his brother, but Minute and Elise nod and and then try to help out. Cortez fights back and goes after Mason as Max grabs the throats of Elise and Minute! The dynamic high flyers get shoved over the ropes... BUT TITANESS CATCHES ELISE! AND FLEX CATCHES MINUTE!

DDK:

What the...? This isn't against the rules, but... what just happened?

As Cortez is in the ring all alone against The Lucks and they try to get him up and over in a corner, Flex threatens to drop Minute on the outside. Titaness threatens to drop Elise!

Pat Cassidy:

Dude. I feel like I've watched a porno like this before...

Brock Newbludd:

Uh-huh. Usually you have to pay double for this kind of action, but not in DEFIANCE, baby! We're pulling out all the stops, tonight!

DDK:

Wait... what?

Pat Cassidy:

Well there definitely was a muscular woman holding a smaller woman and I think there was a dude in a box... MY GOD! BUSINESS IS PICKING UP!!

Back inside, Cortez fights off Max Luck! He elbows him with a shot and then... THWACK! Chop for Max! THWACK! Chop for Mason! The blow reels him... then he nails the CHOP OF AGES MAX across the throat of Mason! He then knocks him over!

Brock Newbludd:

YES!

Lance:

Mason Luck is gone!

DDK:

NO! MAX IS BACK!

Brock Newbludd:

NO!

He kicks Cortez below the belt and then DUMPS The Titan of Industry over the ropes to loud jeers from the crowd! As the group continues to argue, Both Minute and Elise protest, but when they see Cortez knocked over, they both nod in agreement when the high flyers of the respective groups point back to the ring. Flex and Titaness nod, then throw them both back in!

DDK:

Another save! And they're back in after Max Luck!

Lance:

This is how much the Unified Tag Titles mean!

After throwing Uriel Cortez out, Max Luck doesn't see them coming but Elise and Minute come back with stereo dropkicks to the knees to cut him down to size. Elise nails a superkick and then Minute bounces off the ropes and hits a big springboard enzuigiri to lay him out!

Lance:

Elise Ares and Minute want to win this thing... but they gotta get through Max Luck first! They gotta get him up and over to eliminate him!

The two high flying dynamos of their respective group continue to fight and pick apart Max Luck with kicks. He tries to swat them away when they are now near the ropes. Elise nails a low tiger feint kick through the middle and bottom rope to stagger him, then Minute comes OVER the top rope with a tiger feint kick of his own! The crowd cheers when Max Luck comes to and Minute and Elise look to dump him... but Ophelia Sykes runs out through the crowd and grabs Elise by the hair!

DDK:

Wait... where did she come from?

Ophelia Sykes moves so that way Mason Luck can come back from the outside, grab her with a Winning Hand then DRAG her over the ropes to the floor!

THE POP CULTURE PHENOMS HAVE BEEN ELIMINATED!

Minute sees this coming and tries to stop Max Luck, but he stops The Most Interesting High Flyer in the World as he tries a springboard... then DROPS him with a Winning Hand Slam over the ropes onto the ring apron, sending him bouncing tto the floor in impactful fashion to end it!

DING DING DING!

DDK:

IT'S OVER! THANKS TO OPHELIA SYKES AND MASON LUCK, THE LUCKY SEVENS WIN!

Darren Quimbey:

Here are your winners... earning a Unified Tag Title Shot at Acts of DEFIANCE... THE LUCKY SEVENS!

Lance:

There are your opponents, boys! We have seen some slugfests between The Lucky Sevens and the Saturday Night Specials before, but now they'll meet with the gold on the line at Acts of DEFIANCE!

Cortez comes back and helps Minute up while The D and Flex do the same for Elise. But the story right now is back in the ring. Max, Mason and Ophelia Sykes celebrate the huge win! The group make sure to look up at the commentary booth where the champions sit.

Max Luck:

We came in and won your little battle royal!

Mason Luck:

And next we're gonna take your titles!

We cut back to the announce station, where Pat Cassidy and Brock Newbludd have both stood up.

Pat Cassidy:

...you know what this means, right?

Brock Newbludd:

You betcha. That no matter how hard you and I try, we'll never be rid of dealing with the fucking Better Future Talent Agency.

Pat Cassidy:

Bingo. Shall we?

Cassidy motions to the ring.

Brock Newbludd:

We shall.

The tag champs toss their headsets aside and break out into a sprint toward the ring as the crowd comes alive. Ophelia Sykes quickly ducks for cover as The Saturday Night Specials hit the ring and rush The Lucky Sevens! It's a brawl and right hands are flying as the fans are on their feet!

DDK:

Cassidy may have been clowning around earlier... but it really is a donnybrook!

Lance:

And unfortunately, we are outta time! For Darren Keebler, I'm Lance Warner... we'll see you at Night 2!

The Lucky Sevens and The Saturday Night Specials are unloading bombs on each other as we fade out.

THIS.

IS.
