TITANESS vs. RACHEL TENNISON

After the camera pans around to all sides of the Delta Center, the camera finally lands on the Commentation Station with Darren Keebler and Lance Warner!

DDK:

Ladies and gentlemen, welcome to UNCUT 187! We saw THREE huge title matches last week! The Favoured Saints, Southern Heritage and the FIST of DEFIANCE were all on the line and bigger challenges await the champions at Acts of DEFIANCE!

Lance:

Tyler Fuse revealed himself as Malak Garland's attacker! Levi Cole must run a gauntlet and so much more! OSCAR BURNS returned for vengeance on Mil Vuelas and Dan Leo James!

DDK:

And tonight, we have two matches! In our main event, we have BRAZEN's unlikeliest NEW BRAZEN Star Cup Champion, Butcher Victorious in action against "Not A Nice Fellow" George Othello! Coming up first, we have Titaness from Titanes Familia taking on former BRAZEN Women's Champion, Rachel Tennison!

Lance:

It is downright despicable what Titaness and Siofra have been doing to "Black Out" Pat Cassidy! He'll have his shot at payback, but first... we go to the ring for action!

One gold spotlight begins to shine on the stage, revealing "The Pretty Powerful" Titaness as she looks out to The Faithful, flexing her gold weightlifting chain. She nods and right behind her in a black peacoat and black torn jeans, "La Angelita" Brooklynn Rivera looks over at the matriarch of the Familia and nods. They move to the side as a spotlight shines on the entrance bay where we see Siofra right behind her.

DDK:

And to hear Titaness say that she was the big sister that would replace her? After she took digs at Cassidy as a man and a father?

The opening bells ring as Titaness walks to the ring with Siofra leading her down the ramp.

Darren Quimbey:

The following singles match is set for one fall! Introducing first, accompanied by Siofra and representing Titanes Familia... accompanied by Brooklynn Rivera and Siofra... she is to be known as The Mother of Suplexes... Breaker of Backs... Bringer of Big Boots... Baroness of Bombs... She is "THE PRETTY POWERFUL"... TITANESS!

Once she reaches the ring, the matriarch of the Familia throws off her sleeveless coat and hands it over to Siofra at ringside for safe keeping. Behind her already in the ring, her opponent receives her introduction.

Darren Quimbey:

And her opponent, from Sin City... weighing in at 167 pounds... she is a former BRAZEN Women's Champion... "THE TEN OF HEARTS" RACHEL TENNISON!

The woman in the red and gold gear is in the ring, flashing a ten of hearts card for the people. She winks at The Faithful and gets ready for the match. Titaness doesn't look too impressed as she folds her arms standing across from the BRAZEN talent. Referee Carla Ferrari calls for the bell.

DING DING

Titaness looks down at The Ten of Hearts and laughs. Tennison locks up, but right away the Familia's matriarch grabs her and slams her down to the canvas! The Pretty Powerful takes in the jeers as saunters around calmly like she's already got the match won.

DDK:

Tall task here for Rachel Tennison! I can't believe how proud of herself she has been lately with these antics against Pat Cassidy!

Lance:

I can't, either! Tennison is a great athlete and already a former BRAZEN Women's Champion, but she's outmatched right now against Titaness in terms of size!

Titaness runs the ropes to go on the attack for Tennison, but the Ten of Hearts hits a dropdown! Tennison leaps back up just as Titaness comes back off the rebound and catches her square in the chest with a huge dropkick! The Pretty Powerful is caught off-guard and then knocked into the ropes as The Faithful cheer on the young BRAZEN star!

Lance:

Rachel Tennison caught her off-guard!

DDK:

That she did!

Rachel hits the ropes knowing that the attack has the Familia's matriarch off her game. She hits the corner and comes flying with a big flying shoulder thrust to the midsection of Titaness before she hits a backflip to wow the crowd, then comes flying again and lays into the larger Titaness with another big shoulder thrust to the midsection in the corner! Titaness is hunched over and hurt as Tennison climbs out of the ring and then climbs towards the top rope. When she gets there...

DDK:

Great offensive by Rachel... NO! Titaness is already up!

Titaness has her up and then military presses Tennison off the top rope! The Salt Lake City Faithful are in shock as she holds her up before letting her faceplant hard into the canvas! Rachel hits the canvas with a big splat, but things go from bad to worse for the Las Vegas native when Titaness hits the ropes and comes back with a big jumping senton in the middle of the ring! Tennison coughs up while holding her midsection in pain while Titaness sits up, arms folded. Siofra claps and cheers for "big sister" outside the ring!

DDK:

Ooooh! Rachel Tennison tried to muster some creative offense there, but Titaness beat her to the punch with that military press slam and the senton!

Lance:

And I don't think there's much left Tennison can do!

The Ten of Hearts is hurt on the canvas while Titaness casually strolls over to her side. She grabs her by the side and then elevates her before THROWING her up and over with a huge gutwrench suplex! She hits the canvas once again with a thud while The Mother of Suplexes sits up and flexes an arm.

Titaness:

Strength! Conviction! I have it all!

She rolls backwards and then right to her feet to the shock of The Faithful as she hovers over the beaten and battered Tennison. She then casually goes for a cover.

ONE!

TWO!

But Titaness pulls her off the canvas first!

Lance:

I wouldn't want to be Tennison right now! She's a great athlete for sure, but Titaness is playing with her food right now, so to speak.

Titaness then shows off the strength once again by hooking her neck in a front facelock while she's on the ground, only to DEADLIFT her off the canvas and right up! Titaness walks around the ring with her a few times and casually in a circle around the squared circle. Siofra watches from the outside and grins as Titaness continues the punishment.

Lance:

She's been up in the air for at least fifteen seconds... WAIT!

DDK:

No! Titaness loses her grip! Rachel gives her the slip!

Rachel lands behind her and then hits the corner. Titaness turns around and charges towards the corner with a running uppercut in mind, but The Ten of Hearts moves again and Titaness finds nothing but back pain! The Pretty Powerful is then hit with a series of right hands by a fired-up Tennison. She has Titaness rocked in the corner and then hits a rolling elbow towards the jaw. Titaness is stunned when The Ten of Hearts hits the ropes and comes back with a flying dropkick against the jaw!

Lance:

Tennison is still fighting back! Titaness is rocked from those strikes in the corner!

With Titaness nursing a sore jaw, Siofra points in the ring and warns her. She turns around and looks up, to hit a triple jump and then a moonsault off the top, catching Titaness to the shock of The Faithful!

DDK:

No way! A triple jump moonsault body press!

The Salt Lake City Faithful count along!

ONE!

KICKOUT WITH AUTHORITY!

Titaness kicks out with such ferocity, Tennison gets thrown back! She tries to get back to her feet, but Titaness beats her to the punch... with a STIFF flying lariat!

DDK:

OHhhh! LADY LARIAT!

All the cheering and celebrating of The Faithful gets shut down quickly as Titaness angrily sits up. She leans back into a corner and grits her teeth.

Lance:

I think I know what's coming!

And without warning, Tennison gets CUT right in half from a massive spear from Titaness!

DDK:

Pretty Striking! Was that what you were thinking, Lance?

Lance:

Titaness hooks a limp leg.

Chris Trutt is here to conduct an interview and she doesn't look pleased by the appearance of her guest.

Chris Trutt:

Hello again! I'm Chris Trutt here on Uncut! We are just one week away from watching the final match in the Ace of Tag Teams between the Atomic Punks and Les Enfants Terribles! With me at this time to talk about that match ... Tom Morrow! Mason, Max and Mark Luck. The Triple 7s.

Tom Morrow slides right into the shot. Behind him towering over the entire set are the twins, Mason and Max Luck along with their brother-in-law, Mark Luck. All three have on the new set of Triple 7s pullover hoodies with their respective nicknames.

Tom Morrow:

You see these three fine tuned killing machines, Chris? Show 'em the new merch, giants!

Mason, Max and Mark spin around to show the hoodies with the new logos.

"Mase The Ace"

"Max The Jacked"

"Mark The Spark"

Tom Morrow:

Freshly made and ready to fly off the damn shelves, Mister Trutt! And check this out ...

Once again he has to show off his own "Tom The Bomb" hoodie.

Tom Morrow:

These are great. You gonna buy one of these hoodies after the show?

Chris Trutt:

Well ... I dunno my mom says I gotta save my allowance and ...

Mason Luck slowly towers over Chris Trutt.

Mason Luck:

Let me ask him, Tom.

Tom inches out of his way. Mason gets uncomfortably up close to Trutt.

Mason Luck:

So you gonna buy a hoodie Chris?

He stammers a little. Possibly voids his bladder as well.

Chris Trutt:

Yuh ... yes sir.

Max smiles and slaps Trutt on the back so hard, he almost falls right over before Tom catches him!

Max Luck:

Attaboy! You're my favorite backstage talking head, Chris.

Mark Luck:

You're all right in our book. Buy them all and get the whole set my guy!

Chris tries to calm himself down. When he gets himself correct he starts to do his job.

Chris Trutt:

This week was a big debut for the Triple 7s. You avenged a previous loss to the Masked Violators and now you'll fight the winner of the Atomic Punks and LET. Is there a preference to which team you'd like to face the semifinals of the Ace of Tag Teams?

Tom Morrow:

A fine question, young man. Fine question. Mason and Mark showed Lord Nigel that you don't take from us! You don't take from the 7s! We got our pound of flesh and now we gotta look at the competition.

Mark Luck:

Yeah.

Tom Morrow:

On one hand ... you have the Atomic Punks. Gigaton, Fission and Doctor Sato have made a great team. Nobody is going to tell you otherwise. Fission's technical prowess and Gigaton's unstoppable force? That's a lot for any team to contend with. They beat Mason and Max at DEFCON earlier this year!

Mason growls under his breath and Max shakes his head.

Tom Morrow:

And those LET kids are impressive! High Flyer is a fine, young talent and you have to admire the way that Archer Silver said how he didn't like how his career was going, he's grabbed opportunity by the balls and said "Hey! DEFIANCE! You will pay attention to me!" And people are doing it! Guys, who do you want to fight?

Mason Luck:

Punks. Give us the f[censored] Punks!

Max Luck:

I'll throw you a twist right now ... give me LET! We'll get our lick back on the Punks. I like what LET are doing, but this company already has successful wrestlers continuing their legacy so taht

Tom Morrow:

All right. Mark. You're the tiebreaker.

Mark Luck:

I know I'm the new giant here ... but man I gotta tell you. I'm a proud equal opportunity ass-kicker. I'll say it's a tie. No Lucks Given!

Tom Morrow:

Well there you have it, Chris. We are 1-1-1 with who's gonna win. I'll tell you what. We're gonna talk to some of the DEFIANCE Wrestling brass about watching that match up close so both teams know what's coming their way. My Seven-Foot Savages behind me are towering over the competition and they're stepping over everyone to get to that Ace of Tag Teams!

Tom points off to the side and then the giants walk away with him.

Chris Trutt:

Thanks for your time, guys.

They leave but Mason Luck comes back.

Mason Luck:

I'll leave after you go to the DEFIANCE website and buy all our hoodies, Trutt.

Chris looks up. Mason is as serious as a heart attack, so he pulls out his phone.

Mason Luck:

Your mommy put your credit card info on that phone, Trutt?

Chris Trutt:

Actually ... yes.

Mason Luck:

Good. Ms. Trutt is a sharp-ass mom. Now, get to buying the merch.

BRAZEN STAR CUP: BUTCHER VICTORIOUS vs GEORGE OTHELLO

DDK:

We've reached our main event and coming up next in action, we have BRAZEN star - a former Onslaught and BRAZEN Star Cup Champion, George Othello, taking on... well, he's now calling himself a BRAZEN Supersenior after he made a brief stop this past week in BRAZEN to win the BRAZEN Star Cup himself, Butcher Victorious!

Lance:

Butcher Victorious and Janna Ray were helping out at BRAZEN Studios this week when an open challenge was put out by former BRAZEN Star Cup Champion Aleczander the Great! Butcher had his tights ready, answered the call and won the Cup!

DDK:

The Cup is on the line tonight, but for a special One Fall To A Finish in tonight's main event! The standard BRAZEN Star Cup 15-minute Iron Man Rules have been waived tonight for this special occasion! So let's get to ringside for things!

Othello almost takes offense to the nickname before he climbs into the ring. He offers Janna Ray a handshake, which she does take albeit pensively.

Lance:

It seems George Othello wants to play nice! Like we said, he's one of only two wrestlers to hold the BRAZEN Star Cup and Onslaught Titles, the other being another talented young man, "The Hound" Aiden Harlow who currently holds the Onslaught Title today.

After George shakes hands with Janna before she climbs to the floor, he then does the same to Butcher, who takes it back...

Then punches him in the mouth to boos!

Lance:

Why'd you shake hands with him, Butcher? His nickname literally is "Not A Nice Fellow!"

DDK:

That's the code of The Lads! They shake hands or throw hands, but it seems George Othello is only interested in the latter!
