DDK:

Welcome, everyone, to DEFIANCE TELEVISION! We find ourselves once again amidst an ever escalating war with WRESTLEUTA! My name is Darren Keebler, and I'm joined, as always, by my partner Angus Skaaland, and Angus, last week we saw Eric Dane return to the WRESTLEPLEX and the subsequent announcement of WAR GAMES! That of course will take place at MAXIMUM DEFIANCE live on pay-per-view!

Angus:

And not a MOMENT too soon, Keebs! Mark my words, Eric Dane will fix this - bad knees and all! McFuckass doesn't have a snowballs chance in an oven! And the rest of these mormons will be on the breadline Monday morning!

Angus:

That slimey always Been a Dick Arnold ... Impulse better take care of him tonight!

DDK:

Well speaking of Impulse and Dan Ryan - one has to think they would be front runners for those WAR GAMES teams - last week we saw the current Southern Heritage champion, Scott Douglas, teaming up with Impulse, to take on Kendrix and Dan Ryan! And ...

Angus:

And Douglas let DEFIANCE down once again! Guess he let his parents down enough - it's our turn at the wheel of failed bands, careers and relationships.!

DDK:

... because of that win, we'll see here tonight one half of the Tag Team champions one on one with the SoHer! And as mentioned before - Impulse taking on Dan Ryan! The Marathon Man is a consummate professional and always remains composed under fire, will that be the case tonight as he takes on DEFIANCE's friend turned foe.

Angus:

CRISTIANO CABALLERO VS. NICKY SYNZ

DDK:

Coming up next we've got our third straight week of BRAZEN action as Nicky Synz takes on Cristiano Caballero! Both have picked up victories over other BRAZEN talent in recent weeks, and a war of words between the two on the last show lead to this match being made. What are we gonna see between these two this week, Angus?

Angus:

Well Keeps, Caballero made it quite clear last time out he's not happy being overlooked. I might not like Nicky's wrestling style, but the kid has something about him that could make him a lot of money in the future and he knows it. Both of these guys are determined, but for very different reasons. I think we're gonna see a hard fought contest where, ultimately, the guy more determined to make his mark on this industry will come out on top.

Hector Navarro seems just as confused as Kerry as he watches on from a distance, careful not to approach as the situation could drastically change at anytime. Finally after repeated questioning Kerry steps to the other side of the ring and asks for the time keeper's mic. It's handed to him fairly quickly.

Kerry:

Jessica, I am not interested in these games. I asked for a match against you because of your constant meddling. I am here to wrestle not mind games. No one wants your mind games.

Reaper Prime slowly stands to her feet, looking at Kerry she gives a slight shrug and exits the ring through the middle ropes. The masked Reapers follow, again all of this is done in silence. Hector immediately starts a count out.

The camera opens to one of the many, many, many backstage hallways that make up the interior of the DEFIANCE Wrestle-Plex. It's none other than a very excitable and fired-up Oscar Burns pacing around and looking like he's carrying on a conversation with himself.

Oscar Burns:

Wow, I'm not a patient bugger, not at all. I'm gonna finish what I started two weeks ago on Steven Stooivins and mangle his other foot when Elise and I get our hands on them UTAers tonight!

He keeps on pacing around, and doesn't see somebody else in his way, about to crash into him.

Oscar Burns:

WHOA, GC! I'M RIGHT... Oh.

He gets quiet when he sees none other than the King Poop of DEF Mountain standing before him now. The reigning FIST of DEFIANCE and resident Scot, Cayle Murray! The crowd in the arena goes absolutely nuts as Burns puts his hands up defensively.

Oscar Burns:

Crikey dick! Cayle Murray! Wow, fella, nice to meet you and sorry for almost running you over back here! I'm... I'm just excited to finally get my hands on that lying idiot Stevens!

The Totally-Not-A Squid is tired and weary. He's been through the wringer these past few weeks, and still has his brother's questionable medical status hanging over his head, but he's not about to snap on a guy like Oscar Burns.

Cayle Murray:

Settle down there, Kiwi.

He raises a hand himself, calming the situation... if such a thing is even possible with Burns.

Cayle Murray:

Come to think of it, I wouldn't mind slapping Mr. Stevens in the face a couple of times myself. That's if him and his mates even stick around after I take care of their boss tonight. I'd hate to rob you of a scalp, though...

Burns nods at the FIST of DEFIANCE.

Oscar Burns:

DEFIANCE has certainly seen some turbulent times, eh?

Cayle silently nods in agreement.

Oscar Burns:

But look, GC... I want you to know that I look up to all that you've done in trying to rally the troops behind you. I just want to say that if you need anybody else to get your back, you've got my support. I'm a bit knackered from all these UTA ponces working together trying to jump me. I can tell you that tonight when Elise Ares and I get our hands on Stevens and Harmen, they're gonna get STRETCHED, fella. STRETCHED.

He emphasizes by pulling an imaginary limb. Cayle isn't quite sure what to make of this.

Cayle Murray:

Yes. "Stretched." Absolutely.

He squints.

Cayle Murray:

I appreciate the support. We all do. They're more united than this locker-room has ever been, at least under my watch. That means we need every single person to be on the same page, no matter how long they've been here... otherwise? This place goes away.

Though he remains composed while speaking to Burns, Cayle's clearly on edge tonight. So would you be if you had to face Mikey Unlikely in a high-stakes main event, though.

Cayle Murray:

Just be careful. You're... "exuberant," I get that, but these guys are wolves. It's never one-on-one: there's always two or three guys lurking 'round the corner, so don't go jumping into any fights that you're 100% sure you can't control. Last thing we need's another man on the shelf.

Burns nods.

Oscar Burns:

You got it, GC. I don't know what Stevens is thinking trying to fight tonight with this whole injury thing, but I'll try and be ready. Besides... I'm working with the PCPs later with a bit of a last-minute cramming session. Got me training dummy from storage and everything, then we're gonna give Stevens and Harmen a bit of the graps!

The man known as Twists and Turns nods at Murray and then mimics more of the imaginary limb-snapping.

Oscar Burns:

I'm gonna take Stevens's other leg tonight!

Cayle Murray:

Good lad.

He nods, then extends a hand.

Cayle Murray:

Just... don't go getting your head kicked in.

Burns shakes the hand quickly.

Oscar Burns:

You got it, mate.

The two nod before they each depart and with that, the parting of said ways leads to the scene moving elsewhere.

Nigel:

Harry nods in agreement and both men make their way past Courtney who seems frustrated in her own right.

Courtney:

STUDENTS OF THE GAME

“All right, here’s the gameplan!”

The scene opens up to the backstage area with none other than “Twists and Turns” Oscar Burns with a life-sized training dummy in hand on the ground in front him with Elise Ares, The D, and Klein (complete with box) watching onward. The D strokes his chin skeptically.

Oscar Burns:

I’m going to demonstrate on this training dummy! Elise, you run circles around that Harmen fellow.

He starts to spin the dummy overhead... his best rendition of running circles, I guess.

Oscar Burns:

Then when Stevens tries to get involved, I’ll be grappling Stevens to the mat, then I’m going to tear that dag’s other leg right out of the socket, like so!

He demonstrates on the training dummy by picking it up, tackling it to the ground, and then cranking back on the knee in a knee bar submission.

Oscar Burns:

[in mocking Stevens voice] Oh, no! Burnsie has me leg! [normal voice] But if he tries to get his way out of the hold, then I’m gonna roll him up like so!

The Kiwi grappler then shifts his body weight into a rather complex pin and keeps the shoulders down.

Oscar Burns:

Now... any questions?

Elise Ares:

Just a small... teeny, tiny little problem.

She clears her throat and steps forward.

Elise Ares:

You see, Jack Harmen trained me... so he kinda knows all my moves. When you tie people up like complimentary gift bags, they look like they’re in a lot of pain, right? I want to do that. So I was hoping that if you taught me how to twist Jack Harmen into a knot, that I could put him in as much pain as humanly possible.

Oscar pauses for a moment and stares back at her. In thought he begins to lay the foundation that will become an instrumental teaching moment for the Leading Lady of DEFIANCE. His eyes are unmoved in a distant stare as he calculates the best possible result for her request. The D moves in for a not-so-subtle whisper.

You lock in either of these and blokes are gonna have a hard time getting free! And in a pinch, if you need it, you can maneuver into a pinning combination like so!

He flips him over into a rather exotic-looking hold that has the shoulders pinned down in a tight cradle. Klein jumps down and begins the three count. Burns looks back at him confused as he suddenly jumps up and calls for the imaginary bell. Elise's eyes are wide and she tilts her head to the side much like a confused puppy.

Oscar Burns:

She looks over at her shoulder back at The D, who nods confidently.

Elise Ares:

Elise Ares:

So I start like... this?

Oscar Burns:

Yeah, that looks pretty good so far.

As he responds, Elise lifts her leg and tries to find purchase on the back of Klein's box. It's definitely awkward but eventually she gets her leg into what appears to be the correct place.

Elise Ares:

And then... I do this?

Oscar Burns:

GREAT form so far. Now you just...

Elise reaches over and begins to wrench the arm, but instead moves her hands over to the front of the box and rakes the eye holes. Klein drops to the ground with a thud and Elise falls on top of him.

Oscar Burns:

NO. That's not it at all!

Elise Ares:

Oh. I thought for sure that was it.

Oscar Burns:

Let's start again. Leg around leg.

Elise follows instructions, helping Klein get back up to his feet before wrapping her leg around his. Then she instinctually reaches for the arm, just like she did before. She hesitates in mid move, struggling to remember the next step.

Oscar Burns:

Now you take your other leg and you...

Elise begins to move her other leg, but instead of trying to lift it over the head of Klein she swings it back between Klein's legs and is met with a muffled yelp. The former tag team champion brushes her hands confidently as Klein falls down to the floor in a fetal position.

Oscar Burns:

Klein's reach for help from the ground is completely ignored as Oscar Burns facepalms. The D gives a couple of pats on the back to Elise.

Elise Ares:

Jack Harmen is never going to see it coming! Thanks Oscie, now I know who to come to next time I need some extra training.

With a smile Elise goes in and gives the dumbfounded Oscar Burns a huge hug. As she backs away, she shoots him a wink before The D opens the door. As she exits the room Klein begins to crawl after them across the floor.

Elise Ares:

Angus:

Either way Keeps, we'll have one less fuck from UTAH to deal with!

Stevens gets to his feet and says he's ready only to slip on his crutches and fall to a knee once again causing Oscar to question the referee about letting Stevens compete and that momentary distraction is all Stevens needs to blast Burns with a crutch.

DDK:

The heck?!?!?!?

Stevens waits for the stunned and wobbly Burns to turn around before blasting him in the face with the top of the crutch sending him to the canvas.

Angus:

DQ! DQ! Disqualify him you idiot!

DDK:

I don't think the match started Angus.

Angus:

You're shitting me!

The crowd boos as Stevens tosses his crutches to the outside of the ring and slowly undoes his brace and wrappings on his leg as he gingerly stretches it out before quickly doing the boot-scoot-boogie to show his leg was never really injured as he claimed it to be. Harmen shouts "I knew it!" and claps in approval from the ring apron.

DDK:

That lying snake.

Angus:

You mean son of a bitch and why do you seem surprised?

Stevens yells at the ref to start the bell who grudgingly does so and once the bell rings Stevens mounts Burns and begins to deliver right hands until the Slater gets to a count of four. Stevens grabs Oscar by the face and yells that he cannot beat him before slamming his head onto the canvas and tagging in Jack Harmen.

Harmen looks giddy enough to go right after Burns as he hops into the ring, looking to do some damage... but not before he runs and takes an unexpected cheap shot at Elise Ares, knocking his pupil off the apron! The crowd boos Harmen before he turns over and goes right to work on Burns, attacking him with a wild bevy of lefts and rights!

Burns is still trying to cover himself up and is still reeling from Stevens' sneak attack. When Brian Slater starts his five-count to disqualify Harmen, he backs up at the count of four and raises his arm threateningly toward the ref. Slater eyeballs him as Jack goes and pulls up Burns by the neck, only to bring down the submission specialist with a Spinning Neckbreaker. That next move leads to Harmen going at the corner and heading to the top...

DDK:

Traveling Through Time! Could that do it?

ONE!

TWO!

NO!

The pro-DEFIANCE crowd POPS when Burns gets his shoulder up! Harmen then makes the tag to Stevens who wastes no time trying to pull Twists and Turns up... only to get a SHARP Elbow Smash in his grill! He defiantly (see what I did there?) fires about two more shots to the head of Stevens and has his rival reeling. Burns grabs for the leg that he worked last week and tries to get at him again, but Harmen runs right back and stomps away at Burns like he was on fire to make him break free of the hold!

An angry Stevens checks his leg to make sure that no lasting damage has been done before locking a clinch in and throwing several knees to the head of Burns, then delivers a big Superkick!

DDK:

He calls that Remember the Alamo!

Angus:

Don't call the enemies signatures, Keebs!

And another cover follows.

ONE!

TWO!

NO!

Ares is back on the apron looking for any chance to make a tag, but Stevens and Harmen have worked well enough together to keep that from happening. Stevens continues to attack Burns with more rights before he throws him over to the corner to make the tag to Harmen. The Lunatic of the UTA jumps over the ropes into the ring and puts more boots to Burns. He then hoists him up and tries for a double underhook - perhaps Hypothermia...

DDK:

NO! Burns counters!

He uses his strength advantage to lift The Lunatic over with a Back Body Drop, but unlike the last time they fought and he reversed, Harmen flips over and lands on his feet! He grins like he has the advantage and turns to dole out more damage to Burns...

Angus:

DAY-UM! HARD OUT HEADBUTT!

The crowd goes nuts when Burns CRACKS Harmen in the chest with what has become a calling card of Burns - the European-influenced Headbutt! Burns looks wobbly himself from the shot, but he does get in a NASTY European Uppercut to Stevens, knocking him off the apron as well! Now Ares is clearly ready for the hot tag. She wants it, the crowd wants it...

Angus:

Do it!

And the groggy Burns makes the tag to Elise! She hops in over the top rope as Harmen tries to recover from the headbutt. Elise lands, Harmen stands, and then Harmen notices Elise and just IMMEDIATELY bails out of the ring to wild boos from the crowd. Harmen waves it off, clutching his chest and begins to walk around the ring back toward the entrance ramp.

DDK:

Harmen looks like he's had enough?!

Angus:

Good riddance! Count out wins count all the same in the record books!

The crowd boos Jack as he makes a turn around the ring. But he's only halfway around a side before Elise charges toward the ropes and dives to the outside, catching him with a tope suicida to a wild pop. Elise lifts Harmen up quickly and slips him in under the bottom rope, before she follows suit. Harmen to his feet, Elise charges with a flying crescent kick. Harmen back up, Elise with a quick savate kick. But Harmen won't stay down. Elise goes for another kick, but Harmen catches it, INTO the enziguri.

DDK:

Harmen is on dream streak here! Oh watch out Elise!

Stevens has slid back into the ring, and grabs Elise from behind by her hair. Elise screams, but then falls pele kicking Stevens' square in the face to a short quick pop. Stevens falls back and slides out to his tag corner. Elise heads back to the fallen Harmen, and hooks her leg inside of his, before grabbing his arm from behind.

DDK:

Oh, is Elise going for Oscar Burn's signature Octopus Stretch?! We saw earlier Burns trying to teach it to her.

Elise then lifts her leg behind Harmen's neck, as Burns looks on from the outside. He shoots her a thumbs up, before she RAKES THE EYES! Burns holds his head in his hands and shakes it no, as Elise looks on for approval. Brian Slater admonishes her.

Angus:

GOOD! That crazy UTAHer who's car I keyed is blind now! He'll never see the scratches. BWHHAHAHA.

As Elise is admonished by the official, Harmen dives and tags in Stevens. Harmen clutches at his eyes and rolls completely out of the ring. Stevens charges in like his tag team partner's finisher (a locomotive) and swats a clubbing forearm to Elise's back. Ares forward rolls in a tumble to her corner, dazed and confused. Oscar Burns reaches over and tags himself in and gets right into it with Stevens, the two men exchanging Elbow Smashes and punches respectively.

Stevens gets an Uppercut to his jaw to win the exchange and goes for his Toxic Sting finisher (Diamond Cutter), but Burns locks up his neck and tries a Dragon Suplex. Stevens elbows his way free from that and boots him in the stomach before elevating him with a Fireman's Carry...

DDK:

NO! BURNS TRYING FOR GRAPS OF WRATH !! THE OCTOPUS STRETCH!

Stevens may have done his homework and tries to fight his way out when Burns shifts his weight, about to lock in the Graps of Wrath !! Harmen tries to break it up, but Elise comes back, grabs him by the neck and leaps over the ropes, dropping him with the Cuban Necktie! Stevens continues to struggle and fight. Burns then shifts his weight forward in the Octopus Stretch into a modified pin - the one he showed off with the PCPs earlier!

ONE!

TWO!

THREE!

Burns rolls off of Stevens and then scurries out of the ring along with Elise Ares right behind him! She runs in and gives him a celebratory hug as the crowd goes nuts!

Darren Quimbey:

Here are your winners of the match... OSCAR BURNS AND ELISE ARES!

Angus:

Yeahhhh! Score one for the DEF! Burns and his geeky grapplefucking saved the day!

DDK:

Scott Stevens and Jack Harmen had a game plan tonight with Stevens faking his injury, but Burns and Ares came through tonight! They just proved they're gonna be ready for Jack Harmen and Scott Stevens at Maximum DEFIANCE!

Oscar and Elise head back up the ramp while Stevens protests with Brian Slater, yelling at him for being a biased DEFIANCE official. Harmen grabs his neck, seething over the fact that Elise got one over on him tonight but the final shot for this match is Oscar Burns and Elise Ares continuing to celebrate the big tag team victory tonight!

THAT MEANS NOTHING TO ME.

Static.

We open to THE Jay Harvey and Catalina in the WrestleUTA locker room. Harvey is dressed for ring action and Catalina is in a number even sexier than the last.

THE Jay Harvey:

Tonight has been a long time coming if you ask me... Bronson Box you are the reason why I am not the current Southern Heritage Champion. Your interference cost me the title that should rightfully be around my waist!

Catalina begins rubbing the shoulders of Harvey in an attempt to calm him down.

THE Jay Harvey:

I know you think I should be afraid of you like all these other piss ants in DEFIANCE. I know all about Bronson Box. All your accomplishments, all the accolades but let me tell you... that means nothing to me. Cuz I know exactly who you are Bronson Box.

Harvey smirks into the camera.

THE Jay Harvey:

You're just the next casualty of the most marvelous man to grace God's green earth.

The two exit the picture and the feed soon gets cut.

BRONSON BOX VS. THE JAY HARVEY

♪ "Natural One" by The Folk Implosion blares over the sound system ♪

The song is in full swing as Catalina walks through the curtain, with a big smile on her face. She turns and extends her arm as "The Natural One" Jay Harvey steps out onto the ramp. Harvey raises his arms into the air as he winks at Catalina. The crowd boos as the two walk down the aisle.

Quimbey:

Hailing from Raleigh, North Carolina...

When the two finally get to the ring, Jay Harvey walks up the ring steps and onto the apron. He sits on the middle rope and signals for Catalina to enter the ring. As she does she gives Harvey a kiss on the lips, shaking her ass in the process.

DDK:

Jay Harvey is in for a real war tonight, Angus...

Angus:

I hope Bronson caves his head in!

Quimbey:

He is accompanied by the lovely Catalina... He has informed me to refer to him as "the most marvelous man to grace God's green earth"... "The Natural One" THE Jaaaaaaaay Haaaaaaarveeeeeyyyyy!

Jay Harvey comes to a halt in his corner and gets one last kiss from Catalina before she exits the ring; "The Natural One" wipes his feet clean as the fans continue to boo.

DDK:

The fans are ravenous!

Angus:

They want blood and I hope they get it.

The fans pop to the sound of war drums and traditional bagpipes. The intense Celtic beat whips the entire arena into a frenzy.

Angus:

The Wargod cometh.

RAAAAAAAAAAAHHH!

The drumming ends with a snap. The silence hangs heavy in the air as the last hum of the pipe and drums fade into the darkness.

The house lights come up and there, already standing on the ring apron, is the man himself. Sheared head and freshly waxed mustache. The reaction is overwhelmingly negative... but the faithful, the true faithful are pounding guardrails and chanting his name. Boxer slides between the ropes and raises his arms high. Boos, cheers, jeers, it's obvious he doesn't care one bit. They're all on their feet.

Quimbey:

The two juggernauts stare each other down while standing in their corners. The fans are electric and then the sound of the bell cuts through the crowd. Box and Harvey met in the center of the ring and lock up. Box wins the encounter with his immense power, bringing the two into the corner. Harvey hooks his arm over the top rope, yelling for the referee to get Bronson off. Box pushes Harvey, allowing Harvey to take a swing. Box ducks snatches Harvey around the waist. Box tosses Harvey across the ring via a Belly to Back Suplex, causing the crowd to cheer.

Jay Harvey slides out of the ring and goes to the floor. Bronson Box lets out a massive roar getting the crowd and himself even more pumped up. Catalina has gotten to Harvey's side and the two get a heckling from the fans at ringside. Harvey starts walking around the ring and fakes a slap to a fan drawing more hate from the DEFIANCE Faithful.

DDK:

It looks like the Faithful are getting into the head of THE Jay Harvey.

Angus:

He should get his back in the ring.

Harvey grabs the middle rope as the referee continues his Ten Count on him. Box pushes passed the ref and Harvey quickly grabs Box by the back of the neck, snapping Bronson's throat against the top rope. Box staggers off holding his throat, coughing trying to get air. Harvey ever the opportunist gets back into the ring and lands a Dropkick which sends Bronson through the ropes and crashing to the floor. Harvey stalks his prey waiting for Bronson to get back to his feet.

Harvey takes off and dives through the top and middle rope. The two men smash into the guardrail as the fans along ringside cheer and wave to the cameras. Harvey gets vertical first and gloats in front of the Faithful. He blows the sold-out crowd a few kisses, getting more hate from them. Harvey flips the crowd off and then sends his attention back toward his opponent. Harvey rolls Bronson into the ring and then follows him in.

DDK:

Jay Harvey taking it to Bronson Box here.

Angus:

Box crawls and Harvey eyes him up. Harvey moves in close and stomps on Bronson's left hand. Bronson tries to shake off the strike while Harvey lays the boots to him. Harvey in a fury continues his attack on Bronson. Box remains on all fours as Harvey bounces off the ropes, nailing him in the side of the head with a boot. He goes for the cover.

ONE!TWO!*KICKOUT!

Box kicks out getting the crowd back into the match. Harvey goes in for a Rear Chinlock, keeping Bronson on the mat. Harvey wrenches in more and more, causing Box to turn a bright red from lack of oxygen. The crowd starts clapping trying to the Original Defiant back into the match. Harvey lays down on the mat and kicks his legs out, slamming down on the mat.

The referee is checking on Bronson Box who looks dazed. Harvey extends his legs and puts his feet on the bottom rope, gaining more leverage in the choke. Harvey drops his feet before the referee can catch him in the act. The crowd is shaking the arena trying to get Bronson Box charged up. Box slowly gets back into the contest and brings Harvey and himself up to their feet. Harvey lets the hold go and lands a forearm shot to Bronson's back, knocking him back down to the mat. TEAM BUILDING

We move backstage, where the Southern Heritage champion, Scott Douglas, walks the hallway. He slows, and finally stops as he sees a familiar face.

Scott Douglas:

What's the word, sir?

The camera moves a bit more, to show Impulse leaning against the wall next to a closed door, arms folded. He's dressed in his gear - apparently already ready for his match later on against Dan Ryan.

Impulse:

Champ. What's good?

Scott Douglas:

WAR GAMES. Eric Dane said he wants to bring his five best, I'm hoping to be one of 'em.

Impulse smiles a half smile.

Impulse:

We've got the same idea, sir. But that belt around your waist is all the proof you'll need. I might take some work.

Scott Douglas:

Seriously? Former FIST, Former SoHER?

Impulse:

We've got a bit of a history; it's likely the only reason Dane backed me against Penn was because he hates Penn even more than me. Hopefully we can clear any air that might still be there.

Scott Douglas:

Alright then, let's do it.

Before they can go anywhere, Impulse raps his hand on the door.

Impulse:

Hey, Scotty's found us so we're leaving.

A muffled voice can be heard calling 'Ready...'

...and Codename Reaper steps into the hall. Douglas backs up, defensively.

Scott Douglas:

What the hell is--

...and Reaper removes her mask, to reveal her face.

Calico Rose:

Happy Halloween, and Happy Birthday to me!

Surprise leads to confusion, but Douglas relaxes.

Scott Douglas:

So... you're Codename Reaper for Halloween. Won't that get confusing if the real Reaper and Red show up?

Cally:

Don't be ridiculous, I'm not Codename Reaper.

She reaches into her bag and removes a cowbell.

Cally:

I'm 'Don't Fear the Reaper.'

There's at least five seconds of silence, which only ends when Cally starts beating the cowbell with a stick.

Scott Douglas:

I don't even have the words.

Impulse:

Every day is an adventure.

They walk together, but don't make it twenty feet before another door on the hallway opens, and Eric Dane himself steps out. Dane stops in front of Impulse, and they look at each other - not threateningly, but not backing down.

Finally, Cally steps between them.

Cally:

Scotty D? Eric D. Eric D, Scotty D.

And she looks towards the 'fourth wall.'

Cally:

No relation.

Eric Dane:

I know--

He stops, looks at the 'fourth wall' for half a second, and returns his gaze to his SoHER Champion.

Eric Dane:

I know who you are. I also know you've been doing what you can to defend this place, my place, in my absence. I want you to know I appreciate it, all of you....

He drifts off a bit, taking a moment to gather his thoughts.

Eric Dane:

Look. I know it's been a shit show around here for a while. I know all about Michael Unlikable and his derpy parade of assholes and idiots and how they've all but taken over what is rightfully mine. I could lay the blame in a lot of places, but in the end it's my fault for not being here. Kelly's good, but she's not prepared for this kind of a fight. I, on the other hand...

He smiles his trademark smile.

Eric Dane:

Let's just say, I'm asking for you boys to trust me, and to follow my lead.

Cut.

THE LAST OF US

The scene cuts to black.

Angus:

Um, did we get cut off again?

DDK:

[frustrated] I don't know...

Angus:

If this is another UTA add I swear I'll...

The scene goes back to the DEF Wrestle-Plex, as the audience sits in darkness and the DEF Tron turns on. A black static screen is shown for some time, to silence and confusion from The Faithful. That is, until a neon orange and green lightning bolt crosses the screen and a voice is heard over the PA. The lightning bolt moves with the sound of the voice.

Ominous Voice:

Survival is the real plague.

The DEF Tron shows the arrival of the UTA during DEFCON Night 2 and the attack on Cayle Murray.

Ominous Voice:

In August, 2017, an outbreak of mutant wrestlers calling themselves the UTA Fireflies ravages the once prominent organization of DEFIANCE, transforming its fan-friendly hosts into cannibalistic monsters known as the infected.

Video of Dan Ryan turning on Cayle, Jack Harmen betraying PCP and the UTA roster beating on Andy Murray plays.

Ominous Voice:

Now, two months later and most of DEFcivilization has been destroyed by the infected. Survivors live together in heavily policed quarantine zones...

A shot of the bus appears.

Ominous Voice:

...independent settlements and nomadic groups.

Images of the DEFIANCE heroes and teams roll frantically across the board.

Ominous Voice:

These wrestlers hunt down Mikey Unlikey and the other UTA Fireflies, trying to limit the outbreak and take over. Can they be successful?

Long, drawn out silence and blackness.

Until the DEFIANCE FIST logo replaces the lightning.

Ominous Voice:

Join the fight, as DEFIANCE stars and soon-to-be newcomers are brought together by these harsh circumstances and must survive a brutal journey across DEF TV in this dangerous, post-pandemic world.

The orange and green lightning bolt disappears from the screen. Then, it's replaced by a white lightning bolt flashing quickly across as DEF Tron and the scene goes to black again.

The house lights come on and everything goes back to normal.

DDK:

I have no idea what that was.

Angus:

Yeah, me too. The infected? Well that's one way to put it. Crimson Lord does look pretty pale...

IMPULSE VS. DAN RYAN

DDK:

We're only moments away from a true Clash of the Titans, Angus!

Angus:

If there's a run-in by some weird, creepy stop-motion skeletons, I swear to fuck I'm going home and never coming back.

DDK:

Two former FISTs, in Dan Ryan and Impulse, though they took drastically different paths to get there!

♪"ZERO" - The Smashing Pumpkins♪

Angus:

BOOOOOOOOOO! BOOOOOOOOOO!

DDK:

I don't think he can hear you over the rest of the fans, Angus... and if he did, I don't think he'd care.

Angus:

It's the principle of the thing. BOOOOO!

Dan Ryan does not, in fact, acknowledge Angus - or any other fans. The closest he comes is pulling his arm sharply away from a fan who manages to reach out and grab him - and the fan falls over the guardrail in the process. He doesn't even bother trying to dodge any of the trash being thrown at him from the fans.

♪"Cannonball" - SIRS♪

And the mood suddenly changes. The fans turn to the entryway in anticipation of the Marathon Man and his manager/valet.

DDK:

This will be the third singles match, I believe, between these two men. Of course we all recall Dan Ryan narrowly defeating Impulse to retain his FIST of DEFIANCE in Impulse's second match here, and they previously wrestled in a World Championship tournament elsewhere in a match in which Impulse came out on top.

Angus:

Oh, you've gotta be...

All eyes are on Calico Rose - she is dressed like Codename: Reaper, only she has eschewed the facemask for a pair of steampunk goggles (likely to avoid confusion with any Reapers hanging around), and she carries a cowbell in her hand.

Angus:

'Don't Fear the Reaper.' Clever.

DDK:

You just figured out Cally's intentions without effort.

Angus:

...Dear God, I'm in trouble.

Cally waves at the announce table and hits the cowbell on the guardrail as she and Impulse walk to the ring. Impulse is focused - he does not take his eyes off the Ego Buster.

DDK:

Don't let the size difference fool you, FAITHFUL... Impulse is a dangerous man and he has proven his ability to take down wrestlers the size of Dan Ryan on multiple occasions.

Angus:

Oh, I hope so... but I also know that when you're nearly seven feet tall and well over three hundred pounds, when you're literally twice as big as your opponent you just need to get one hand on his head and squeeze. This could go either way in a second.

Impulse takes off his leather jacket outside the ring, clearly not trusting Ryan once he enters. The T-shirt peels off and is thrown into the crowd, and the Marathon Man tentatively climbs the stairs.

DDK:

Mind games on Impulse's part, Angus?

Angus:

If he can get Ryan off his game, he's got a better shot at it, Keebs. We know Impulse is good at that part.

Referee Hector Navarro backs Dan Ryan off, and directs Impulse to enter the ring so the match can begin - RYAN WITH A SUDDEN RUSH!

DDK:

And with that, Dan Ryan shows the power of brute force! He just ran up on Impulse and drove his knee into his opponents' head as he tried to enter the ring! Ryan drops to his knees and clubs Impulse on the back of the head and between his shoulder blades with a series of broad forearms!

Angus:

This is why you don't trust mormons, and you never trust Dan Ryan. Or anyone, ever.

DDK:

Really, Angus?

Angus:

If you always assume your opponent is gonna jump you and you jump them first, you never lose. Of course, even if you assume it but can't get there, it's a little murky.

After Ryan clubs Impulse down to his hands and knees with his forearms, he wraps a large hand around the back of the Marathon Man's neck, and jerks him to his feet, and sends him, chest first, into the corner! Clothesline flattens him!

DDK:

On the outside, Cally trying to rally the people behind Impulse!

Angus:

They're already there, but the people don't win matches.

DDK:

German suplex from Dan Ryan! Impulse rolls out of the ring!

On his knees, Impulse breathes heavily, trying to get his air. Cally joins him, and is immediately cautioned by Navarro not to get involved: he's a fair man. Behind him, Ryan waits, unconcerned.

DDK:

The count is at four, and Impulse grabs the middle rope!

Angus:

Don't trust the Asian!

DDK:

...Really?

Navarro has the same idea, and he backs Dan Ryan off while Impulse reenters the ring; however, the second Impulse lets go of the ropes, Ryan fires off a huge baseball swing!

DDK:

Impulse ducks it! HE SWEEPS THE LEG!

Angus:

Justice For Johnny!

Ryan doesn't go down, but he staggers and has to steady himself on the top rope. Impulse uses the moment to go through the ropes on the other side and hold onto the top, waiting.

DDK:

Dan Ryan turns, Impulse with a slingshot dropkick! Ryan staggers back - HE TIES HIMSELF UP IN THE ROPES!

Angus:

You see, this is where Impulse screws the pooch. You've got the advantage, press it. Instead - yeah, like I thought, this boy scout is gonna step back and wait for Hector to free Ryan.

He does. The second he's free from the ropes, Impulse moves in to lock up, but Dan Ryan fires a right hand square to the middle of Impulse's forehead! Navarro warns him about the closed fist, but the damage is done and Impulse collapses like a downed tree! Ryan hooks him...

DDK:

HUMILITY BOMB!

Angus:

Son of a... This is when Impulse loses me. PRESS THE ADVANTAGE, YOU SILLY GOOSE!

Ryan stands over the Marathon Man after delivering the Bomb... and he thinks.

He remembers their last match, and he picks him up again, for a second Humility Bomb! The fans are largely silent, and those who haven't lost their voice boo terribly.

DDK:

Enough is enough, Dan!

Apparently not. Ryan scoops Impulse again, lifts Impulse up, and drops him with a third Humility Bomb!

The three count is academic.

Angus:

Well, that was short and brutal. Next time, can we get someone willing to do what's necessary to beat the shit outta Dan Ryan?

DDK:

The former FIST is leaving the ring while Cally checks on Impulse... we'll be right back.

TURNING A NO INTO A YES

“Damn sure wish Rocko was here.”

Camera catches up to Kerry Kuroyama with a duffle bag hanging loosely from his shoulder, he is wearing street clothes and looks to be making an early exit from the building with his match ‘that never happened’ in the books.

Courtney:

What would he do, if he was Kerry?

The voice almost pains Kerry, in the gut, as he looks to double over when he recognizes who has entered the frame of the camera.

Kerry:

Well... well. If it's not Courtney Paz. Shouldn't you be slumming it somewhere working for Perfection? Or your 'clients'.

He uses air quotation marks to get his point across, already tired of looking at her he tries to start walking away again, but Courtney reaches out grabbing his arm to get him to stop.

Courtney: [halfway whispering]

Look, Perfection was obviously a mistake. That has become clear to me, but my current client, I've worked with on and off for them for years. Even back in IWF. They are the real deal, a legit threat.... To all of this.

Kerry: [jerking his arm away]

What makes you think I would be interested in working with or for anyone else but DEFIANCE? Or much less what makes you think I would want to associate myself with the likes of you?

Courtney: [raising her voice slightly]

Have you looked around? DEFIANCE is crumbling at the very hands of another federation. This is the perfect time to strike at all of them while they are weak!

Kerry looks at her for a few moments, trying to gauge if she's actually serious or not.

Kerry:

You do realize.... You are talking to a show opener here right? I haven't been dominant in a long time, I am trying to establish myself here and if you think me jumping into some half brained scheme is your idea of a career jump start, you are truly psycho.

Courtney:

My clients will compensate you well, you'll be put in a position to really make an impact here. An IMPACT that no one will see coming. Not Mikey Unlikely, not Eric Dane, none of the champions. NO ONE knows what's coming. If they think it's bad now....

Courtney starts laughing, half hysterically and it makes Kerry very uncomfortable.

Kerry:

I appreciate the persistence Courtney, but again ... my answer is no.

Courtney:

My clients are very interested in you, they feel you can inspire something that is needed to make this work.

Kerry:

Inspire... wait.. What?

Courtney:

They also are very... very capable of turning a no into a yes.

Kerry still confused about her use of the word inspire, almost like it triggered something.

Kerry: [walking away]
I have to go.

Courtney:
So is that a yes???

She doesn't get a response as he quickly makes haste around the corner, reaching into her business skirt she pulls out her cellphone. Looking at the camera she smiles and makes a swift exit into an adjacent room.

Fade to things.

Both Douglas and Kendrix circle each other, Kendrix instinctively swipes for the leg but Douglas is too far from reach. The two tie up, Scott gets the upper hand and forces Kendrix into the corner.
