The Faithful JEER the crap out of The Stevens Dynasty as it takes both of them to do some damage to Angel, backing up the tall Bronx native in the corner. We see a WrestleUTA Contingent walking down the long corridor, at the rear entrance of the DEFplex. Many of them have their bags slung over their shoulders, just arriving for the nights action. At the end of the row of superstars is Dan Ryan and Mikey Unlikely. Dan Ryan walks in front of Mikey a half smile on his face. Mikey wears a scowl and watches Dan Ryan the entire time, his eyes never leaving the back of the head of the former FIST of DEFIANCE.

They are soon interrupted by Christie Zane who's always first on the scene, trying to get the latest scoop.

Christie stumbles into the picture quickly, eager to get both Mikey and Dan Ryan together. The two stop, Dan Ryan looks happy to see her, Mikey looks very annoyed.

Mikey Unlikely:

Oh dear God, what could you possibly....

Christie Zane:

Guys! Guys! Quick interview?

Mikey begins to walk past her but Dan Ryan obliges her which pisses of the WrestleUTA owner further. He stops and backs up into camera shot again.

Dan Ryan:

Christie Zane smiles and puts the mic to her mouth.

Christie Zane:

Dan, just last week you were made the special referee for the FIST match between Cayle Murray and Scott Stevens... During the match you called it down the middle, and in the end, you made the three count for Cayles improbable win... With time running out, what compelled you to count Stevens down.

Mikey raises an eyebrow, clearly interested in the same answer.

Dan Ryan:

That's simple Christie.... Integrity. At the end of the day, me and Mikey want the same thing... we want to beat Cayle Murray, and we want the FIST over here in WrestleUTA! That said... we don't want to cheat our way to the title...

Let me assure you that after tonight, all your concerns will be quelled, because I'm going into this tag match with you, with one thought in mind.... Destroy the Murrays... ROBBERY, INNIT!?

The scene opens up in the Hollywood Bruvs locker room. We know this as there's ridiculous Bruvs merch laid out everywhere, the most ridiculous of which appears to be a pair of "JFK Bruv Goggles" as well as various memorabilia, such as the bruv's various title reigns, hanging from the walls. The camera continues to pan, bringing in Lance Warner standing by with none other than Jesse Fredericks Kendrix, dressed in a rather dapper looking suit...no goggles though.

Lance Warner:

Ladies and Gentlemen, my guest at this hour is the last ever DOC and one half of the greatest Tag Team to ever grace God's green earth...

Jesse basques in his praise as Lance takes a deep, disappointed in himself, breath before finishing trudging through his sentence.

Lance Warner:

Jesse Fredericks Kendrix...was that better?

Kendrix comes back down to earth, shooting a quick embarrassed look into the camera lens before angrily focusing his attention at a rather worried looking Lance.

Kendrix:

Bruv, how many times do I have to tell you how JFK should be introduced? Seriously? You're so unprofessional! No wonder Angus interviewed Douglas the other day.

Jesse shakes his head, takes the mic away from Lance and points in the direction of the locker room door.

Kendrix:

That was your last chance to interview JFK bruv...

Lance's eyes light up with glee

Kendrix:

Get the hell out of here!

Without a moment's hesitation, Warner leaves to finally never do another JFK interview ever again, Jesse meanwhile turns his attention to the lens, his arms causally held out by his side.

Kendrix:

Listen, yeah?! JFK is out here to report a crime. A crime so heinous, yet has gone unpunished. Two weeks ago, at DefTV 98, JFK was robbed.

His cheeks are puffed out in frustration.

Kendrix:

Two weeks ago, JFK made Scott Douglas tap right in the middle of the ring. I know it, Scott Douglas knows it, the whole world knows it!

He nods at the camera, leaving a little glint of a smirk before taking a step towards the lens.

Kendrix:

Senior Official and official official for the SOHER and HOHER title match, Benny Doyle even called it. Just like the rest of the world, the most important man, the man whose official job it was to call the match right down the middle, Benny Doyle...

Jesse takes a step back to compose himself.

Kendrix:

Benny Doyle saw Scott Douglas tap his hand to the canvas...like the bitch I made him.

Jesse's eyes light up, a wide smile across his face bursts into nothing more than an ironic chuckle.

Kendrix:

But of course a simple title match in DEFIANCE can't go to plan. The better man cannot simply just win like JFK did fair and square. Oh no. Instead, they decide to call the match a draw because of the opinion of an UN-official official..Martin Swords?

He scrunches his nose in apparent confusion of Mark Shields' name.

Kendrix:

I think that's his name, who cares. The point is. The very reason DEFIANCE team WrestleUTA found it so easy to run DEFIANCE out of business...was due to the idiocy within the company in the first place.

That smile fades quickly.

Kendrix:

MARTIN SWORDS WASN'T THE OFFICIAL OFFICIAL! THEREFORE, JFK SHOULD BE STANDING IN FRONT OF THE WORLD RIGHT NOW AS THE DOUBLE SOHER AND HOHER!

Seething, absolutely seething with angry energy.

Kendrix:

THEREFORE, JESSE FREDERICKS KENDRIX IS DEMANDING THAT DEFIANCE DO THE RIGHT THING. STRIP SUB POP SCOTT DOUGLAS OF HIS TITLES AND PUT THEM AROUND MY WAIST IN THE MIDDLE OF THE RING, TONIGHT!

Puffing his cheeks out and taking a much needed breath, he nods his head and holds his arm out presenting the chaos of merch behind him.

Kendrix:

Look how deadly serious JFK is about the robbery. I've even made sure all Hollywood Bruv merch is safeguarded in the Bruvs' locker room for safe keeping!

He looks back at the lens and takes a step forward, eyes focussed.

Kendrix:

Scott, do the right thing with those belts tonight. In fact, scrap that. Sub Pop, do the right thing with the HOHER. JFK couldn't give a monkeys about the other red neck thing you carry around with you.

Ryan and Unlikely are staggered, but not wiped out. This changes when Andy, easily the bigger of the Murrays, comes outside and starts throwing forearms, elbows, and whatever else is good. The frenzied assault catches the evildoers all the way off-guard. 'The Ego Buster' reverses a whip attempt from Cayle, but the FIST hops onto the barricade, then springs back with a leaping forearm. Andy, meanwhile, has rolled Mikey into the ring, and the bell goes.

DING! DING! DING!

Months and months of frustration come out as Andy wails on his former employer, hammering away in the corner, before throwing him across the ring. Mikey tries to scamper away but runs right into Cayle on the outside, with the FIST having used the element of surprise to briefly stifle Ryan. The WrestleUTA head honcho gets caught between the two Murrays and eventually rolled back inside, with Andy taking great pleasure in chopping his chest raw.

Tag to Cayle. Ryan has long since taken his position in his own corner, but is forced to watch as the FIST attacks with trademark speed and technique. He goes for a German Suplex, but Mikey's athleticism comes into play, and he flips out onto his feet. It's not a comfortably landing, though. He stumbles back against the ropes. Unlikely then mounts, blasting away with some closed fists, before rising to his feet and spitting on the mat where Andy lays. Referee Brian Slater has to intervene to prevent Cayle from charging in.

Tag to Ryan, but only after some hesitation from Mikey, who isn't totally sure of his partner's allegiances yet. They work some classic isolation-based offence. Unlikely's trust grows a bit, and soon, him and Dan are tagging in and out, keeping Andy stifled in their corner.

Murray fights back, but eventually gets clobbered by Ryan. One veteran ties the other in a grounded headlock, wrenching away at Andy's neck, before digging sharp MMA-style elbows into his skull. Ryan eventually takes Murray back to his feet and whips him to the ropes, catching him with a belly-to-belly side slam on the rebound. He doesn't go for the cover this time, though.

DDK:

And now the WrestleUTA contingent take control, but do they have the cohesion required to maintain this for any great length of time?

Angus:

Murray fires back, countering what looks like a powerbomb attempt by throwing Ryan overhead, but he's on the wrong side to make a tag. He recovers first, and tries to dash over to his brother's outstretched hand, but Ryan hauls him back into the center then connects with a standing Lariat.

Tag to Mikey, and things get cunty. The King Shit of Mount UTA talks all kinds of shit to Cayle as he's slapping his brother another. Mockingly, he lets Andy to his feet, toying with him in a game of cat and mouse. The 40-year-old vet throws a sloppy blow at Mikey, but Unlikely dodges easy, then knocks him down with a Superkick!

DDK:

Wow did you hear that!?

Mikey laughs and steps away from Andy Murray who lay on the mat holding the side of his face. He goes to an empty corner and sits on the top turnbuckle taunting over to Cayle that it's over. Mikey leaps off for a diving fist drop but just at the last second Andy gets a boot into the air, which connects clean on Mikey's jaw, sending him ass over teakettle to the middle of the ring.
