ALVARO de VARGAS vs. JACK HALCYON

DDK:

Folks, welcome to UNCUT and we're about to get the show rolling with some in-ring action! Two weeks ago, we had a good luck at BRAZEN star "One Shot" Jack Halcyon. He's been making waves with some wins on BRAZEN shows but tonight, he gets to follow up on his match with "Black Out" Patrick Cassidy... but tonight, he steps up in weight class against the 6'7", near 270-pound Alvaro de Vargas.

Lance:

De Vargas is an arrogant brute, plain and simple. Halcyon impressed many with his match against Cassidy, but this match is going to be very different.

DDK:

Indeed. Take nothing away from that great match with Cassidy, but ADV doesn't care about star ratings or great matches... he wants to HURT people and he wants to make money. Halcyon better have his guard up.

Darren Quimbey:

The following contest is set for one fall! First, making his way to the ring from Las Vegas, Nevada, weighing in at 220 pounds... "ONE SHOT" JACK HALCYON!

♪ "Lonely Boy" by The Black Keys ♪

Jack Halcyon's theme plays and gets a mostly modest reaction from The Faithful in attendance this time around. The young wrestler emerges from the back, wearing simple blue trunks and black boots. His hair is slicked back and with a little more gusto than he had before, he approaches the ring. He gives a nod to some of the fans as he makes his way to the ring, and he adjusts his elbow pads as he walks. After he gets back in, his music fades out and his opponent's music plays...

♪ "Living Legend" by Ankla ♪

The crowd's hatred intensifies as out comes the tall, brash and cocky Cuban-American known as Alvaro de Vargas! With his frizzy hair, sunglasses, and of course his purple fire-adorned gear, he shoots the crowd a corny-ass grin. He's without Tom Morrow or Ken Ellis tonight and as Darren Quimbey starts to speak...

Alvaro de Vargas:

¡No! Tengo esto, hijo de puta calvo!

Darren shuts up the crowd jeer as ADV already has a mic in hand, ready to rock and roll tonight.

Alvaro de Vargas:

Look at this little pendejo in the ring. Some little BRAZEN kiddo trying to get famous off us ESTABLISHED stars! Especially ME! El Sol Dorado de DEFIANCE! Who the hell even does that?

DDK:

The irony of Alvaro being a BRAZEN hanger-on to Trashcan Tim until Tom Morrow picked him up isn't lost on me.

Lance:

Nor I.

ADV approaches the ring and then walks along the apron, flashing another smile at his opposition.

Alvaro de Vargas:

Escucha, Make-A-Wish Kid! ADV isn't here to make your dying wish to be a star come true... El Sol Dorado is here to make a POINT! Those over-the-hill pendejos, Scott Stevens and Oscar Burns, will be BURNED once and for all at DEFtv 150 and I want them to see what happens to those who fly too close to me...

ADV now enters the ring and stares down at Halcyon.

The crowd jeers as Alvaro backs up and holds the ropes open for the young BRAZEN star to take his leave. The crowd starts to jeer when ADV smirks, holding them open. He comes back and slides under a big boot, but when he turns around, ADV CLOCKS him with a massive lariat!

Lord, what a lariat! Halcyon embarrassed him and now I think Alvaro is done toying around.

ADV certainly is as he picks up Halcyon by his waist and then drags him up to his feet. He starts to hook him up and then hoists him high in the air. To show off his strength, he holds him and walks around... then DRIVES him down to the canvas with a huge belly to back suplex! The young Las Vegas native looks hurt now but Alvaro de Vargas sits up and looks coldly over at the young kid.

Lance:

Look at that glare of de Vargas. He’s just become a proverbial killer in that ring as of late especially when he’s against top competition.

DDK:

True, but he doesn't have Morrow here and he keeps playing down to Halcyon just cause he's BRAZEN. BRAZEN stars have defeated established DEFIANCE talent before so this isn't entirely unheard of if he looks past Halcyon.

He doesn't pin Halcyon, but instead he stands over him, yelling at the BRAZEN star to get up. Halcyon starts to crawl to get back up to his feet and pulls on de Vargas' pants, but when he starts to get up, he gets WALLOPED with clubbing shots across the back. ## MOVIE THEATER POP

The word graphic 'LAST FRIDAY' in white lettering appears superimposed on the lower left hand portion of the television feed as a panning shot shows a single cinema movie theater sitting within a small rural town.

Inside, a few patrons buzz about, grabbing their favorite buttery and salty comfort snacks as members of Screen 7 run the show.

"Sticky Floors" Alan Goldstein is the ticket taker, wishing a pleasant blessing to everyone that walks by.

Alan Goldstein:

Thank you and welcome. Thank you and welcome. Thank you and welcome. Yes, we will have an intermission, Mrs. Bastion. I haven't forgotten about last time.

The sight is serene in and around the lobby and theater. Red velvet curtains bracket the large projection screen. "Free Refills" Berry Chernobyl ushers people to their seats as his muscles nearly burst out of his corduroy suit.

Berry Chernobyl:

Tonight, we will be showing a special double feature screening of The Pond Place and The Book of Notes. I hear these director cuts are amazing, Mrs. Bastion.

The patrons, young and old, find their seats. In the lobby, "Horror" Hector Harris parks himself in the manager's office, counting money like the greedy schmuck he is.

Hector Harris:

Who needs to sell t-shirts when you can just screen rehashed movies old people throw money at?

He verbally pats himself on the back like a fat cat kingpin surrounded by wads of cash. "Extra Butter" Gilbert Rogers finds himself belly up, drinking hot butter from one of the many dispensers as Teresa Ames storms into the lobby.

Teresa Ames:

WHERE IS HE!?

Needless to say, she is furious. Her hair is all frizzled out and her eyes are wide and crazed. She marches over to Rogers, pulls him up from his kegstand and demands answers.

Teresa Ames:

With a mouth full of liquid gold, Rogers has a hard time speaking.

Teresa violently shakes the man. He simply shutters in fear. He eventually points towards the theater sanctum.

Teresa Ames:

Gage Blackwood. Now. I am seething.

The overly skinny ticket taker wants nothing to do with Teresa's aura so he promptly backs off in fear.

Alan Goldstein:

The Cute N Qwerty Gurl stampedes down to the first row where Berry Chernobyl finishes seating a couple and sure enough, it's Gage Blackwood and a guest.

Teresa Ames:

What. The. Fuck.

Her eyes can't believe it.

Berry Chernobyl:

Excuse me, may I see your ticket so I can seat you, please?

Ames finds none other than Kristie Bellis sitting next to Gage Blackwood. An awkward glance is exchanged between all those involved. Kristie looks super cute in her little black dress as Gage's facial expression is entirely disinterested about his current surroundings.

Teresa Ames:

What the absolute holy fu—

Berry Chernobyl:

Miss, may I have your ticket please or I'm afraid I'll have to ask you to leave.

Teresa Ames:

You are scum, Gage Blackwood. I can't believe you! I picked out this niche date for us and yet here you are, with this tramp, Kristie slut-ass Bellis. Why? I just want to know why!?

Tension rises as Gage gives his entirely disinterested reply.

Gage Blackwood:

Aye, I never said I'd go with you. I said, "sure?" Then you stalked me backstage after my match with Thomas Slaine. I was getting uncomfortable.

Blackwood turns to Kristie.

Gage Blackwood:

Besides, Kristie and I are just friends.

Ames is fuming! In fact, she's even more fuming at how casual Blackwood is over this.

Teresa Ames:

I am going to cut off your baws—

Berry Chernobyl:

Okay, that's enough.

Before a fight breaks out, Chernobyl grabs Ames by the arm and begins escorting her back up the aisle. Kristie's face turns red at the scene being caused. Ames goes ballistic in Chernobyl's arms.

WOOOOOOOOOOOOOSSSSSSSHHHHHH!

A gust of air whistles between Bellis and Blackwood's heads and no, it isn't from any ASMR finger flutters. They turn in confusion. It's not exactly easy to see in the dimly lit theater. Gage finally looks down and notices a full, unopened can of soda on the ground. It has a large dent in it. He picks it up.

Kristie Bellis:

Did she just throw an unopened soda can at us?

Blackwood nods.

Gage Blackwood:

Aye. She missed, though.

Teresa's banshee screams echo for a few more moments until she's removed from the property entirely. The lights dim and the long venture of about six hours of sappy romantic movies begins as the television feeds ends.

THE LUCKY SEVENS vs. LOUISIANA BULLDOGS

Lance:

Up next we have the Lucky Sevens about to compete and I will be honest ... after how close they came to becoming number one contenders to the Unified tag titles I would not want to be the Louisiana Bulldogs right now.

DDK:

I gotta agree with you Lance. The Saturday Night Specials will now be challenging The Fuse Bros ONE in a great first-time match that fans are already clamoring for, but The Lucky Sevens have been fighting for an opportunity. Let's see if the Louisiana Bulldogs can have any hope of victory tonight.

The Louisiana Bulldogs are both in the ring warming up. Denver and Oliver Brandt are both raising arms for the crowd and get ready. While they do that camera is on the stage now where Tom Morrow is standing and Ken Ellis holds out his mic for him so he doesn't have to.

Tom Morrow:

I have nothing cute to say to you swamp-loving inbreeds tonight. Big Money Max and Big Money Mason got ROBBED last week! Mason clearly kicked out Brock's stupid roll-up before the three, but that official was clearly related to Helen Keller cause he was too blind and too deaf to see who should be the real number one contenders!

More booing tries to drown out Tom Morrow but he won't let it.

Tom Morrow:

Now my guys have to face ... YOU ... and I'm not going to bother learning either of your names because as far as I'm concerned the only thing people will be saying after my guys are done with you is "oh, God, stop! Call an ambulance! They're beating them to death! Ahhhh!!!"

Tom Morrow does not acknowledge any more jeering because he points up and the 7 7 7 appears on the DEFIA-Tron but it is now no longer gold ... but solid green!

Mason walks over and tags Max before he dumps Oliver over with a huge suplex. But before Oliver can even recover from that, Max is already right there on him like a hungry dog on steak. He grabs him by the sides and then hits his own released gut wrench suplex. Max shoots off the ropes quickly and then delivers his signature running jumping elbow drop right into Oliver's heart.

He runs past Max and then hits Mason on the corner with an upper cut and then turns to Max. Max tries to grab the much faster Denver but he continues running off the ropes. But much to his surprise Max runs to a corner to misdirect him as he hits the ropes and then runs him down with a stiff clothesline.

You little boys don't know what you just did by taking something that doesn't belong to you. That title shot should have been OURS! You're just some flavor of the month team that got a lucky win and people only like you cause they want free drinks at your shitty little bar.

Mason now takes it back.

Mason Luck:

The next time that we see the both of you, you better start walking in the opposite direction or your career are over.

The rage-filled Luck brothers leave the ring with Tom Morrow and Ken Ellis behind them looking very impressed with the mean streak shown by the brothers.

DDK:

Nothing unclear about that warning. The Saturday Night Special will challenge for the Unified tag titles against the Fuse Bros at our big DEF TV 150 show.

Lance:

And I have no doubt after tonight the Lucky Sevens aren't done with Brock Newbludd and Pat Cassidy!

FAITHFUL NO MORE

Black screen. We hear the sound of a single droplet hitting the surface of water.

Fade into a stage. Same set up as last time that we were here: dimly lit stage area, so everything around it is obscured by darkness. On the stage, Ned Reform sits on a single stool with a bottle of water in his hand. He's wearing the same clothes as last time: thick, dark-rimmed glasses and a dark blue sports coat. He's again fitted with the headset mic. His head is down and his body slumped as he looks toward the floor, as if he is deep in thought. In the corner of the screen, we get the following information:

NED TALKS - March 8 - New Haven, Connecticut

Reform looks up and out into the audience - people who we once again cannot see due to the lighting. Reform appears thoughtful as he speaks a single word.

Ned Reform:

Faith.

Reform repositions himself, no longer slumped forward, but now sitting at full attention.

Ned Reform:

Faith is an interesting term. Philosophically, I mean.

Reform stands. He puts his hand to his mouth to indicate deep thought.

Ned Reform:

"To one who has faith, no explanation is necessary. To one without faith, no explanation is possible." Thomas Aquinas said that. Write that down, please.

Reform pauses, looking out to his yet-to-be-seen "class."

Ned Reform:

Faith is certainly a virtue by modern standards. We speak openly about. We expect our leaders to have it. To have acted on faith is an acceptable answer when questioned about one's motives. Aquinas certainly celebrated the virtues of faith. But I wonder if we truly aspire to be... faithful?

Reform holds up a hand.

Ned Reform:

Now, now, hold on! Quite obviously, there are times when it is preferable to be faithful. To a romantic partner. To a friend. To your own moral code. But today, I'd like to talk to you about times when being faithful causes harm. When being faithful means giving up your critical thinking and capacity for rationality. Today, I'd like to talk about... THE Faithful.

Reform shakes his head and chuckles rather condescendingly.

Ned Reform:

How deranged, how demented, how indoctrinated does a fanbase have to be to refer to itself as "The Faithful"? It's telling. You see, the fans of DEFIANCE, the maladjusted mutants from New Orleans, are not fans at all. They are a cult. A brainwashed contingent of emotionally stunted imbeciles cheering on nonsense. They worship mediocrity. They make heroes out of scoundrels and fools. But...

Reform again shakes his head, but this time as if he is pitying the DEFIANCE fans. He sighs.

Ned Reform:

It's not their fault. You see, the cure for ignorance is education. Sadly, the DEFIANCE Faithful have simply never been taught anything better. The system has failed them. But that's where I come in, children. Dr. Ned Reform is headed to DEFIANCE as a model. As an example. As the dose of education that the people need to free them from this spell. I will bring the cult down. I will save The Faithful from their unfortunate fate.

Reform swells up, as if he can barely contain his own brilliance.

Ned Reform:

I will be the education they so desperately need. Don't worry, "Faithful"... help is on the way.

The pair seem to be at odds but Stalker pushes it aside, shaking his head and ignoring the masked 'useless' watchers and he points his finger to Courtney's laptop once more.

I'll keep looking, Jason. But I already started, hospitals, airports, hotels, the power The Kabal has to get 'information', and I haven't seen or heard anything - it's like he... poofed.

The Goat Bastard's eyes narrow as he holds up his hands, a la Giorgio A. Tsoukalos.

Stalker braces his hand against the desk before leaning towards Rezin.

Stalker:

We ALL need to make it clear that the DEATH of DEACON is only the beginning. Whether it's Keyes, Lindsay Troy, Deacon... or perhaps even the one who's evaded me... hahahaha.

Stalker starts laughing like a maniac as he clutches Courtney's shoulder who looks back up to him awkwardly.

Courtney:

I'll be in attendance for that one....

Slinking away from Jason's grip, Courtney Paz, attorney for the dark power behind Stalker's mission, closes her laptop and starts looking for her purse. Which for whatever reason happens to be in Rezin's lap.

Rezin:

OH, uhh... sorry, dunno how that got there. I wasn't trying to steal your ID and sell it on the black market or anything. Nope! Nothing like that!

Paz snatches her purse up, gives Rezin a glare but shakes her head in a disbelieving motion. She makes a quiet exit with her laptop under her arm, the task given to her by Stalker, of ensuring Deacon is 'gone' is already weighing heavily on her shoulders. As the camera pans around the target board, to catch a glimpse of who Stalker and Vacio are looking at, Stalker turns to face the camera completely blocking the view of just who it might be.

Stalker:

A special example will be chosen, someone you all love.. And just like Deacon... i'll be sure to show them that Stalker's World is going to be the darkness of DEFIANCE. History will be written and in the books you all will remember my name and my name alone at 150!

Spinning on a heel to put his back to Brock, Cassidy adjusts his grip on the half-barrel and proceeds to German Suplex it back towards his partner! Brock and Pat are both hunched over, hands on their knees, panting with sweat dripping down their faces. LaRue walks over, and opens his mouth... when Cassidy holds up a single finger, shooting LaRue an angry look.

Pat Cassidy:

Not a word, Cajun Spice.

At that moment, the rear door to Ballyhoo opens. Siobhan Cassidy pokes her head out.

Siobhan Cassidy:

Hey, uh, guys - we have a bit of a situation here. The New Orleans Saints cheerleader's bus broke down and now they're crowding the bar looking for service. I could use an extra set of hands.

Cassidy and Brock look at each other, blinking twice before breaking out in grins. Davey LaRue, however, blows his whistle.

Davey LaRue:

Nawnaw boys, ya'll busy trainin'!. Remember: de titles. Ol' Davey can help out de broke down chers. De lookin' for service and I will go service dem now.

With a grin, Davey walks with Siobhan back into the bar. The Saturday Night Specials are left speechless, starting at each other in amazement.

Brock Newbludd:

STALKER'S WORLD MATCH: REZIN vs. NO FUN DEAN

Fading in back into the WrestlePlex, NO FUN DEAN is in the middle of making his entrance. Once he's ringside, he begrudgingly hauls up the apron and pulls out a few chairs from underneath and takes one with him as he rolls in.

Darren Quimbey:

Ladies and gentlemen, the following contest is a "Stalker's World" match scheduled for one fall. Introducing first, hailing from Morrisburg, Ontario, Canada, and weighing in at two-hundred and fifty pounds... please welcome NOOO... FUNN... DEEEEEAAAANNN!!!!

DDK:

Welcome back to Uncut, ladies and gentlemen, as it appears we're in for some extreme rules action in the form of "Stalker's World".

Lance:

Wait a sec, why does it have to be his world? Stalker may be a hardcore icon in his own right, but it's not like he invented extreme rules.

DDK:

In any case, ever since his return to DEFIANCE, it would appear that his nefarious following in THE KABAL are doing everything they can to bring this violent form of wrestling back on the upswing.

Darren Quimbey:

The Goat Bastard, clad in his patch-covered battle vest that no doubt adds volumes to his absolute PUNK ROCK credibility, has something suspiciously draped in black cloth slung over the shoulder. He is brimming with spiteful delight as he obnoxiously taunts the crowd on his trip to the ring.

Lance:

I couldn't help but notice that. But I'm also interested to hear what sort of challenge he's going to give to Henry Keyes, who is hungry to even the odds with the man that woefully pinned him at DEFIANCE Road.

Hopefully, this isn't a preview to the sick ideas Rezin has in mind. Meanwhile, looks like Brian Slater is ready to get this match underway!

Rezin pounces on the kendo stick and winds it back for a baseball swing, but No Fun Dean finds one of the chairs he pulled out from earlier, deflecting the cane strike with a swing of his own and sending the Goat Bastard's weapon out of his hands and into the ring.

Rezin:

DDK:

A wild chairshot from No Fun Dean keeps that stick out of Rezin's hands for just a bit longer... hang on, Dean cuts off Rezin trying to make a break into the ring... and instead gives him a GERMAN SUPLEX to send him across the ringside floor!

Rezin gets tossed with enough force that he rolls back to his feet and falls against the guardrail in a complete daze. Seeing an opportunity, No Fun Dean pulls the apron up and digs around, pulling out a fold-out table. The Faithful brim with excitement.

CONOR FUSE vs. "BANTAM" RYAN BATTS

DDK:

Are you ready for a huge main event, Lance? Cause we got one coming up! Conor Fuse, who we just saw last week make a HUGE return in grand fashion -- becoming the Unified Tag Team Champions as part of Fuse Bros ONE -- goes one on one against "Bantam" Ryan Batts! Batts has had his share of issues with both Fuse Bros in his career. Just two weeks ago, Batts and Tyler Fuse settled their grudge with Batts winning via submission!

Lance:

And while Batts didn't win against The D, we understand this match was made earlier this week. Conor Fuse wanted to offer a sort of olive branch to Batts regarding their past history to bury the hatchet to show that he and Tyler Fuse have changed. Based on that, tonight, Batts will look to follow up on his win over Tyler Fuse and if he can somehow defeat Conor, too? That's huge.

DDK:

Indeed, that would be big for him if he wants to get another shot at gold down the line. Let's go to the ring for the main event!

DDK:

Here comes a determined Batts! He lost against The D in a very close match with The D now heading to DEFTv 150! Now Batts, we understand is also lobbying for a match against Matt LaCroix for the Favoured Saints Championship!

Here is your winner of the match... "BANTAM" RYAN BATTS!

Batts pulls it from the jaws of defeat! With all respect to the victor, after Conor's recent success, I would have to call this an upset!

Lance:

I could see that!

The Young Scrappy Wrestle-Lad is still reeling from his own finish surprising Conor under the chin, and crawls over to the corner to ask for a microphone.

I gotta say... this is pretty fun. (crowd applause) I can't stand your brother's ass for the whole "attacking me from behind many times" theme... (sighing) ...But if you'll indulge me, I want to do this again... and again... and again... and fight you.

Batts smiles, but Conor looks at him confused.
