The smooth twang of an acoustic guitar leads into the sensual beat of a 90s R&B classic. It's a stark contrast to the thing that walks out onto the entrance ramp.

♪ "Candy Rain" by Soul For Real ♪

Enter Muriel Puddings. Tonight, she is really taking professional wrestling seriously in her choice of attire. A pair of bedroom slippers depicting famous Looney Tune character Wile E. Coyote cover her hooves, gray sweatpants that feature cargo pockets on the sides, and an orange midriff tank top. The tank top reads "DINNER is SERVED" across her chest in black block lettering. Pink elbow and knee pads line out the ensemble. Within both the cargo and regular pockets of her sweats, slices of pizza protrude from out of them. Yes, it's not the most sanitary of places to keep food, but what can you do?

Rooted on by a chorus of support from the audience, Muriel delivers a closed-mouth smile as she nods her head to the beat and struts with a sway of her hips toward the squared circle. She pauses briefly to take a large bite of one of the pizza slices, chewing with her mouth open all the while and thus spitting food particles everywhere.

Muriel places her items in the corner and scales up the steel steps to enter the ring. "Candy Rain" by Soul For Real continues to jam over the sound system. She then walks toward the middle of the ring to perform her trademark "sexy entrance." Ducking under the top, her legs straddle the middle and she proceeds to grind on the ring rope as if she were a dog suffering from jock itch. Once satisfied, she enters and strikes a few provocative yet hilarious poses for the fans.

Suddenly the music cuts and the arena plummets into darkness. The cheers of the Faithful and the illumination of cell phone screens fill the DEFplex as a low guitar strum cuts through the air. Red lights ignite a smoke covered stage, silhouetting a man in a kneeling position. As he rises, the music grows into a pause, and a voice.

 ♪ "The Dark Sentencer" by Coheed and Cambria ♪

Matt LaCroix breaks forth through the red-lit smoke with the DEFIANCE Favoured Saints Championship above his head. The Faithful chant "HEY!" along to the music as he stares down towards the ring, where Muriel Puddings rubs her hands together with a smile. Then proceeds to lick the pizza grease off of them. The Reaper of the Pontchartrain smirks back as he throws the championship over his shoulder and heads towards the ring, uncharacteristically taking a look over his shoulder along the way.

DDK:

Now with a successful title defense, Matt LaCroix finds himself back in a familiar position, three defenses away from a shot at what is currently Dex Joy's Southern Heritage Championship. What a match that would be!

Lance:

Well he's had a little help along the way. Arthur Pleasant is not only responsible for Southern Strong Style having the championship back in the first place, but also the first successful defense. He's since went on to welcome Matt to The Scourge, but we've heard no response from the champion... who appears to have come out here alone.

DDK:

I actually had a minute to catch Matt backstage right before we went live tonight and asked him about just that. He says the entire thing is fiction. The Scourge, Arthur's claims, the whole thing.

Lance:

Well then why hasn't he come out to address it on air?

DDK:

Matt claims he doesn't want to give credence to that kind of "bullcrap," although that wasn't the word he used. As a long-time member of the BRAZEN roster he says he understands how hard it is to get on-air, and doesn't want to waste the Faithful's time or take away time from someone else addressing such ridiculous claims.

Now in the ring, Matt LaCroix stands on the top rope holding the Favoured Saints Championship into the air. As he returns to the ring, he hands the championship over to Carla Ferrari, who shows Muriel Puddings. Muriel goes to grab it but Carla jerks it away, leaving Muriel to just shrug before returning to her corner. As the lights return and the music cuts, LaCroix takes an extra lap around the ring looking down at the floor before going to his corner.

DING! DING!

Matt LaCroix approaches the middle of the ring with his arm extended for a handshake, Muriel paces forward... cautiously at first, but finds the confidence to go right in while licking her lips. However, instead of shaking the champion's hand, she immediately pulls him and locks him into a small package! The Faithful gasp as Carla Ferrari hits the mat for a count!

ONE!TWO!THREE?NO. TWOOOOOOOOOO!

Matt LaCroix manages to just sneak out at the last minute, but the Faithful are buzzing. They almost saw a title change in under five seconds to start the show.

DDK:

That was close, Lance! That was REAL close!

Lance:

I'm not sure if that was just dumb luck or that was genius?

DDK:

It could be a little of both!

The champion immediately looks to Carla to make sure he got free on time and breathes a sigh of relief when the official shows him a two count. Meanwhile, Muriel is determined to win this match and win it early as she clocks the Reaper of the Pontchartrain with a cannonball splash, bouncing his head off the canvas as she rolls awkwardly across the mat. She gets up and leaps on LaCroix!

ONE!

TW...NO!

Southern Strong Style gets out of this one, but he's reeling trying to escape Muriel's unexpected assault. He attempts to crawl to the ropes but Muriel jumps on top of him and slaps him on the butt trying to ride him around the ring like a horse before the startled technical marvel escapes under the bottom rope and outside of the ring. Puddings immediately follows and gives chase! LaCroix rounds the corner and slides back into the ring where Muriel follows but she's met with a front headlock that keeps her grounded and LaCroix brings sanity back to the match.

DDK:

That was... certainly an exchange.

Lance:

You can tell something is just a little off with Matt LaCroix tonight. These types of shenanigans wouldn't usually happen to a wrestler who is so calculated.

DDK:

The unorthodox offense has completely thrown him off of his game. That's apparent. Maybe with the developments that have happened in recent weeks though, Lance, he's also looking over his shoulder a little bit more.

Muriel tries desperately to claw her way free from the headlock, but LaCroix uses his advantageous position to bring her to the center of the ring. Puddings churns her legs, trying to run her way out from the hold as Matt looks outside the ring... and she does! LaCroix is suddenly being bull-rushed backwards by Muriel and is speared into the corner. Muriel follows by monkey flipping LaCroix back to the center of the ring. Puddings tries to get the Faithful rowdy as she slaps her belly and goes for a running splash on LaCroix, but he rolls out of the way!

DDK:

Another close one there, Lance!

Lance:

I just can't believe what I'm seeing right now. This is the LAST thing I would've expected!

Both wrestlers reach their feet simultaneously, but Muriel immediately latches onto the Favoured Saints Champion and spins LaCroix into the Tapioca Sunrise swinging neckbreaker... but Matt reverses! He grabs the arm and turns it into an absolutely brutal looking arm spin and then back into a kimura. Muriel screams out in pain as the Faithful gasp at the painful looking exchange. Carla jumps down to the canvas, asking for a submission but Muriel refuses. She felt the adrenaline rush of becoming the new Favoured Saints Champion and just can't let it go.

LaCroix continues to push down on Muriel with his knee, applying more pressure onto the back while cranking the arm in the kimura. Wrenching more on the kimura, Muriel screams again before Matt gives up on the lock and moves back into a front headlock to control his opponent. He hits some stiff knees into the head of the challenger, who simply goes back to the same strategy as before and begins to pump her legs. Again she powers out her way up to her feet, but this time LaCroix uses that momentum against her and steps aside leaving Muriel to charge head first right through the ropes and tripping awkwardly onto the apron before rolling off to the outside of the ring.

DDK:

That's a trio of REAL nasty looking falls and exchanges for Muriel in just a matter of about a minute or so, Lance. Carla is probably going to have to start checking a little closer on Muriel to make sure she isn't seriously hurt.

Lance:

That's exactly what she's doing right now, Darren. You're on it tonight!

Carla stops LaCroix from setting up for a suicide dive and appears to be explaining that Muriel needs to be checked first to make sure she's still able to compete after that tumble. Matt argues his case in the ring when the Faithful begin to boo, startling the champion and causing him to turn towards the entrance. However, it's with Muriel that they notice as Arthur Pleasant crawls out from under the ring and grabs the calf of the challenger and pulls her under the ring without either Carla or Matt noticing.

It doesn't take long for Matt LaCroix, who has been on high alert all night, to run over and check to see what Muriel was up to only to find she's not there anymore. Frustrated, the Orleans Outsider begins pacing each side of the ring looking for where Puddings ran off to, almost completing a round trip before Arthur Pleasant crawls out from under the ring... face covered in lipstick. He has an unsettling smile on his face as he locks eyes with Matt LaCroix. Carla Ferrari begins the count as LaCroix approaches the ropes.

DDK:

Uhh.. what exactly is going on under the ring out here?

Lance:

This might be the most bizarre opening match in the history of DEFtv, Darren. What is even going on tonight?

DDK:

Obviously Arthur Pleasant has come to assist the Favoured Saints Champion, whether he wants him to or not... and LaCroix doesn't look very pleased about it.

Matt begins screaming for Arthur to come into the ring and talk this out. Arthur doesn't react initially. He doesn't flinch or move until suddenly bursting into a round of applause for the champion. Pleasant points to LaCroix in the ring, trying to gain the support of the Faithful by throwing his arms into the air, wanting them to shower his Scourged champion with the affection he deserves. LaCroix scowls and sits on the middle rope with the top rope over his shoulder, begging Arthur Pleasant to come into the ring... but all the provocateur does is continue to shower his champion with praise.

Seeing his requests don't seem to be heard, LaCroix goes to the opposite corner of the ring and asks for a microphone... which is provided to him reluctantly by Darren Quimbey. Matt taps on the mic to make sure it's on before walking back over and inviting Arthur into the ring once again.

LaCroix:

'Ey friend. Mista Pleasant, if ya wanna shot at tha champ, all ya gotta do is ask my friend. If ya wanna be a Favoured Saint, just step right in here an' laissez les bons temps rouler! Lance:

I mean... I don't know what else to say here. Clearly Matt LaCroix was trying to get a piece of Arthur Pleasant, but he also never left the ring. He never broke the count that would've saved the match for Muriel. He could've done more.

DDK:

But is he playing us all and letting Arthur do his dirty work for him, or does all these games from Arthur just have him so off of his game that he's just out of sorts? It's so hard to tell.

As if it were some form of magical spell (or strategically placed fishing twine), the ham is actually physically rolling itself around the ringside area and up the ramp as Puddings gives chase to it in an attempt to violate the popular Christmas meal. Muriel is of course giving chase as fast as she can, but to no avail. The ham quickly disappears behind the curtain followed by the Insurance General in hot pursuit.

Jestal lowers the microphone and hears no music, and grows quickly annoyed by this.

DDK:

I guess Jestal has no desire to perform/wrestle here tonight.

Lance:

It's clear he has no love for the management of Defiance either.

After a few minutes, Jestal is about to leave when...

Tom Morrow with Ken Ellis and Jack Mace who has a tall shoe box under his arm. Jestal notices them and walks to the center of the ring. With his side turned from them as they make their way to the ring.

DDK:

I see Ken is looking okay for being mauled by Titaness two weeks ago. But... why IS Morrow out here? Does he want Jack Mace to be his opponent?

Jestal:

How many times do I have to tell you Tom, I don't want anything to do with your Band of Misfits!

Tom Morrow:

Oh, trust me... after tonight, you will, Jestal.

Jestal doesn't pay him any mind, but Morrow smiles.

Jestal:

Blah...blah...blah...Lets get this over with...Jack Mace is it? You're clearly my opponent here tonight get in the ring so I can go home.

Tom Morrow:

Oh, we have an opponent for you. Truly. The man next to me, Jack Mace, is someone that knew you very well when he was a... ugh... WrestleFriend.

The Jack of All Holds visibly shudders at the mention of his old tag team with "Bantam" Ryan Batts. Ken Ellis looks unsure of what's going on while Morrow smirks back at him.

Tom Morrow:

Get ready, Jestal...

Jestal gets ready... then Jack grabs a unaware Ken and slides him in the ring, taking the box back from Morrow! Ken however is in shock as he questions Jack and Tom from in the ring.

Jestal:

DING...DING

Ken realizes just what Jestal said, and has a look on his face like he just soiled himself.

The referee is in the ring, and Ken tries to beg, before trying to escape. Jestal grabs hold of his coat and locks in a german suplex and launches Ken halfway across the ring in a release german suplex. Ken flops around the mat, in pain. Jestal picks up Ken and tosses him in the corner and drives a few european uppercuts across the jaw, and Ken sells it like a champ...some of the shots though he really seems to oversell as he almost flips over the top rope from a few blows.

DDK:

This is not what we are used to from Jestal. He is taking no enjoyment in beating one of Tom's goons at all.

Lance:

I am starting to think Klein really broke the Mad Prince here.

Jestal snapmares Ken over and then drops a elbow on the top of Ken's head. He picks up Ken who can barely stand.

Jestal:

I got a few more minutes to spare. How about a tour of the square.

DDK:

Tour of the Square? What could he mean by that?

Jestal drags Ken over to the turnbuckle and starts slamming his head into the top turnbuckle, with the Faithful counting all the way to ten, only for Jestal moves to the middle turnbuckle for another Faithful count of ten, then to the bottom turnbuckle only this time he uses his foot in another ten count stomping Ken's face into the bottom turnbuckle.

Lance:

Ken is getting the crap kicked out of him, and Tom and Jack are smiling about it.

Jestal picks up Ken and runs his face across the ropes. Ken by now has no idea where he is.

Jestal:

As we move from Turnbuckle Avenue, down Dragstrip Rope, we come to Cement Row!

Jestal tosses Ken out of the ring. Ken slams into the floor outside the ring. He picks up Ken and ushers him to the ring post before slamming him head first into it, quickly making Ken drop on his back holding his face.

Jestal:

Steel Post Lane.

He picks up Ken and irish whips him! Making ken flip over the steel steps.

Jestal:

Steel Ladderville.

Ken is begging Jestal desperately, Jestal ignores him and grabs him and slams his head into the barricade, then into the apron!

DDK:

Jestal is literally taking Ken on a tour of the squared circle, I guess not all his humor is gone.

Jestal:

Barricade Avenue, make that U-Turn to Apron Central....and finally.

Jestal picks up a jello legged Ken around the ring and slams his head into the ring bell.

Jestal:

Ring my Bell!

The Faithful are laughing at Ken and cheering Jestal on.

Jestal tosses Ken in at the eight count. Ken tries to crawl to Tom begging for help. Jestal wraps his legs into a Crossed Leg STF!

DDK:

Jestal calls that the No Laughing Matter!

Lance:

Ken is quickly tapping here!

Tom and Jack enter the ring.

♪Stairs and Flowers by Skinny Puppy♪

Jestal releases the submission as the music cuts.

Tom Morrow:

Congratulations on your big win, Jestal! Jack... give the man his championship.

Jack hands the box to Jestal.

Jestal:

So what now first money, then girls and now what flowers?

Tom Morrow:

I'm not an idiot, Jestal. There's an adage that everyone has a price. Sometimes, that's money. Women.

Championships. Glory. You just have to know where to find it... luckily...

He looks at Mace.

Tom Morrow:

I happen to know a guy who knows a thing or two about you.

Ken is trying to get up with help from the ropes, but can barely keep his balance behind Jestal. He opens the box and his eyes widen. He looks at Tom then Jack and pulls out...

DDK:

CLUCKY! They actually found that loaded rubber chicken!?

Lance:

Oh brother, seriously?

Jestal stares at the chicken.

Jestal: {panting a bit}

A rubber chicken...that's your gift? What are you expecting me to believe you actually found Clucky?

Jack nods, Jestal seems unconvinced. Ken who has no idea where he is finally has gotten to his feet. Jestal turns around and nails Ken with Clucky. Ken drops like a bag of rocks and is out cold. Jestal looks at Clucky and slowly he begins to smile.

Jestal: {off Microphone in a excited tone}

CLUCKY!!! YOUR ALIVE!!!!

DDK:

A damn rubber chicken! I guess I should not be surprised that something so mundane would be the thing to give him his smile back.

Lance:

I got to say at least he is happy again. Maybe we finally can get our fun loving jester of Defiance back again.

DDK:

You do realize we would have Tom Morrow of all people to thank for that!?

Lance:

Ugh...forgot about that.

Jestal celebrates getting his best friend back, he turns to Tom who has his hand extended. Jestal walks past Tom ignoring his hand shake, too excited about being reunited with Clucky to care about Tom or Jack for that matter. Morrow smiles and fist bumps Mace as the two head out... perhaps with a new ally in tow at long last.

DON'T DO IT

Cut to backstage.

DEFMed to be exact.

The camera shoots from just outside the door frame. Very sneaky.

Inside Iris Davine's office, Scott Douglas sits where he has sat many times in his DEFIANCE tenure, atop Iris' exam table waiting for the results. Iris looks over the paperwork on the clipboard but she already knows the outcome. She's stalling.

Iris Davine:

You know? ... I could just deny your clearance.

Scott sighs and raises his brow, widening his eyes almost to ask "really?"

Scott Douglas:

We both know you would never do that.

Iris Davine:

And why not?

Scott's amused by the defiant nature of Dr. Davine's question.

Scott Douglas:

Hippocratic oath, for starters.

Iris Davine:

Spell Hippocratic.

Scott Douglas:

Now, is this part of the concussion protocol ...? Or have I already cleared that?

Iris is over the witty repertoire or lack thereof. She drops the airs of a stern potential to withhold and defaults to true concern.

Iris Davine:

You, literally, just watched Kerry make the same mistake. All the time you've put into DEFIANCE ...

Scott jumps in.

Scott Douglas:

Most of it, in here.

Iris Davine:

I'm being serious. You are willing to risk all of that just to be the boy scout again? You have the title shot! You earned the title shot! Demand it ... with no caveat!

Scott is slightly entertained by this browbeating Dr. Davine is dolling out. It's not the first.

Scott Douglas:

... stipulation.

Iris Davine:

Shut it!

A grin spreads across Scott's face.

Iris Davine:

This isn't funny! Go to the board. Someone. Something... don't just capitulate and fall right into his stupid little trap, Scott.

Knowing he has been toeing the line, he reels it back.

Scott Douglas:

I hear you. I really do... I get what you are saying completely. I hate what happened to Kerry and if I could - I'd go back and make it right.

Iris Davine:

Make this right. Don't do it! ... it's completely unnecessary. You are being set up for failure, Scott. You have to see that.

Again, he can't help but be amused by Iris' incessant insistency.

Scott Douglas:

Wait ... you mean to tell me Mikey Unlikely has something up his sleeve and this whole thing is one long con contrived from the start to manipulate me into falling for the okie doke. Come on, does that really sound like the Mikey Unlikely that you know?

Joking or not, Iris has had enough. She tried. He won't listen. He won't be reasoned with.

He also won't say directly if he has accepted.

Iris Davine:

Fine. Whatever, Scott. You're clear.

Iris tosses the clipboard toward Douglas, catching him a bit by surprise and landing in his lap. He chuckles and shaking his head and she storms out of the room, nearly bumping in the camera on the way.

Cut to elsewhere.

THE HERO'S JOURNEY

A crane cam shot from high above shows the Faithful cheering before slowly lowering, the camera panning to show DDK and Lance Warner sitting at the announce table. DDK relaxes while Lance, as always, is shuffling through papers in his hand before dropping the stack in front of himself with a nod.

DDK:

And now we turn a complete 180 here, Lance. From a DEFIANT the fans love, to one they're starting to love to hate.

Lance:

With all the mayhem he's brought here to the WrestlePlex since he debuted, Keebs, I'd say you're right on the money.

DDK:

Rick Dickulous is the man we're talking about, ladies and gentlemen - The Lumbergiant. He and Chris Richards have been at odds ever since Defiance Road, and he's got a few words for Chris Richards here tonight.

Lance:

Let's just hope it's only words. We all know how often anything involving Rick Dick--

Suddenly the crowd is bathed in deep blood red lighting as a powerful kick drum resonates through the building's sound system and the crane camera pans over to the entrance ramp, slowly swinging itself out over the rampway and pointing at the stage.

♪ "Face Fisted" by Dethklok ♪

Rick strolls out onto the entrance ramp, his massive frame making the entryway seem tiny, eyes narrowed and staring daggers into the crowd as they begin to voice their displeasure.

DDK: [voiceover]

That's the man right there who has Chris Richards zeroed in his sights. Big Rick Dickulous. Easily one of the biggest men to compete here in DEFIANCE.

His shaven head glistens in the crimson light, along with his shimmering, oiled upper body. An axe occupies his massive and taped right hand (both are, up to his wrists), resting against the bare flesh of his shoulder. His legs fill his brown industrial work pants - his quads flexing through the thick material, and he sports a pair of plain black boots. He slowly makes his way to the interview stage and removes a microphone from its stand before walking back to the centre of the entrance stage. As his music cuts out suddenly, a small chant begins as the lights inside the WrestlePlex return to normal:

LET'S GO RI-CHARDS!!

Rick Dickulous:

Yeah, you go ahead and chant his name. Remember it, because I promise you when I finally get my fucking hands on your little golden boy that's all that'll be left.

Rick's statement is met with a chorus of boos, quiet at first, but eventually picking up steam as he motions for the crowd to keep going.

Rick Dickulous:

Here's what I'm gathering. Clearly it can only be one of two bloody things here, and frankly, if I were you I wouldn't cheer either fucking one of them. Chris Richards is scared shitless, see? No matter how you slice it, he's scared shitless of one of two things: it's either Rick Dickulous, or he's scared to keep moving forward in his Hero's Journey, and either way, you poor goddamned slobs clearly have had the wool pulled over your eyes and can't see it - I mean, let's be fair here, most of you have no idea what the fuck I'm talking about when I say Hero's Journey because you're all still reading books with pictures in them.

Rick mimes reading a book, turning the page while speaking in a mocking tone, slightly hunched over.

Rick Dickulous:

See Spot run. Run, Spot, run! [Turns page] See Spot speak. Speak, Spot, speak! [Turns page] See Spot shit his pants because Rick Dickulous is after his ass. Shit your pants, Spot, shit your pants!

DDK: [voiceover]

Rick Dickulous isn't holding back here, Lance. Seems he's attacking everyone and everything in some manner.

Lance: [voiceover]

That's the behaviour of a predator on the defensive, Keebs. I don't know if I like this at all.

Rick Dickulous:

Let me do my good deed for the day and fill you in on what the hell I'm talking about, since I know they don't teach this shit in elementary school, and I know DAMNED well none of you made it through junior high. The Hero's Journey is a storytelling tool that revolves around a hero - who we'll call Chris Richards - who goes on a quest, is victorious in a decisive crisis, then comes home changed or transformed. Rick waits for a few seconds before gesturing up and down at himself with a smug grin as the crowd begins to chant again, this time louder.

DDK:

Lance, he's six feet nine inches tall...everything about that man is high.

Rick Dickulous:

There's just one little problem though, y'see? Chris Richards can be just like Harry Potter, or maybe Frodo...hell, he can pretend he's fucking Beowulf for all I care - at the end of the day, mark my words, I - Rick Dickulous - will be his decisive crisis...and I guaran-goddamned-tee you that I WILL put an end to his adventure. Your little golden boy? As much as he seems to always get back up? I promise you, after he steps into that ring again with me one-on-one, it will be where his Hero's Journey ends. See, I AM the biggest man in all of DEFIANCE. I AM the strongest man in all of DEFIANCE. And I am most assuredly the MEANEST man in all of DEFIANCE.

Rick looks directly into the crane camera, the shot zooming in so his face fills the screen.

Rick Dickulous:

At DEFCON, Chris Richards, I'm issuing a challenge to you. You can continue to hide with your bloody tail in between your legs, looking for a way to disappear...or maybe your balls can drop and you can accept. HENRY KEYES vs. REZIN

Fade to an overhead crane shot of the WrestlePlex, slowly moving in on the famed “commentation station” situated in the northwest corner of the arena.

DDK:

We’re well into the first night of yet another monumental installment of DEFtv, ladies and gentlemen, and this next match is sure to shake things up on the side of unconventional!

Lance:

Unconventional is right, Keebs. While everyone is looking forward to watching the stalwart hero of DEFIANCE, HENRY KEYES, finally get his hands on the nefarious Kabal firestarter, REZIN, the two have agreed to settle this battle in a “GANG WAR”.

DDK:

What exactly is a “Gang War” type of match, Lance?

Lance:

I have no idea, Darren, as it was the latest “punk rock” challenge laid out by Rezin at the last Uncut, so it is likely to be elaborately convoluted and nonsensical at the same time.

♪ “Imperial March / Alderaan” by Noothgrush ♪

The shot cuts to the stage, overwhelmed in a haze of smoke and a mess of strobes. Four of the Kabal’s nefarious REAPERS file out of the entry-way, led by the notorious GREEN REAPER, which is quite obviously REZIN, as given away immediately by his overactive physical mannerisms, in addition the mosaic of tattoos across his torso below the mask, cowl, and cape. He’s accompanied by three new Reapers: CYAN, MAGENTA, and CHARTREUSE, clad in the standard Kabal uniforms.

DDK:

How many of these goons do the Kabal have at their disposal?

As the Faithful boo them with contempt, Escape Artist leads his charge of “Reap-troopers” down the rampway. Along the procession, he spies a sign held over the barricade and promptly SNATCHES it out of the fan’s hands. Pantomiming as if he's pulling an invisible rope towards him from backstage, he continues swaying to the beat as two more Plague Doctors emerge, each giving their own occasionally-successful interpretations of what it means to dance rhythmically in 2021. After a solid 20 seconds of truly wonderfully amateur rhythmic expression, we're bordering on a full dance routine by the Plague Doctors; based on the hackslap jibberjabber mishmash of dance moves, it looks like they maybe did more "visualization" of the process than actual practice.

Keyes's first look of intrigue turns to a look of concern, and he turns back and approaches the smallest Plague Doctor, whispering something in his ear. Though masked and mute, the Lilliputian's body language clearly expresses "You SURE?!", before Keyes nods with a sense of finality. Shrugging, the Plague Doctor's band leader gives a wide lasso motion with his index finger and points to the back. The other Plague Doctors follow his lead and exit stage right. While some boos come from pockets of the crowd, disappointed the Plague Doctors are leaving instead of fighting, the majority give their cheers and applause for having seen this strange magic happen at all.

Keyes, all set after that friendly interruption, turns on the stage and looks ready to march towards his opponents. Rezin, impatiently pacing back and forth in the ring, rips the Green Reaper mask off and stares at the lone man on the stage.

Rezin:

Wait... WAIT... what about those dudes with the bird masks? Where'd your posse go?!

Keyes gives noticeable Elevator Eyes to the three still-masked Reapers standing beside Rezin. Unimpressed, he shrugs his shoulders.

Rezin:

WELL?! Say something, why don't ya! This is supposed to be a GANG WAR, and your GANG just up and walked out of here!

Keyes takes one step forward, which seems to shake Cyan, Magenta, and Chartreuse immediately. Keyes grins.

Rezin:

Keyes takes another two steps forward, and Cyan, Magenta, and Chartreuse have all made the decision to step outside the ropes and stand on the apron, still "bravely" within reach of the action in the ring, but also an easy hop away from safety.

Rezin:

And so you decided to come into this match all on your own, knowingly outnumbered, but still courageously determined to face the challenge and stand your ground, regardless of whatever outcome may come? Is THAT what you're telling me, HENN'RRYY KEEYYEESS??

Keyes raises his right arm and points his hand finger-gun style squarely to Rezin's chest, tunnel-visioned gaze locked on the Escape Artist.

Rezin stands in stunned silence for a moment, and facepalms in sudden anger.

Rezin:

Keyes charges forward and delivers a crashing elbow smash into Cyan's head, which crashes into Magenta's head, which crashes into Chartreuse's head, and once again all three Reapers collapse to the mat. A fan in the crowd might wonder if a foley artist timed the sound of crashing coconuts perfectly, or more worrisome, if that was the genuine loud smacks of three skulls colliding.

DDK:

This "Gang War" has been nothing but Henry Keyes thus far, as he--HEY!!

Spying an opening, Rezin slips in from behind Keyes while he's tugging Cyan off the mat and chops the leg. The Faithful BOO loudly as Rezin stomps the Airship Pirate furiously, soon joined by the other Reapers after they get it together.

ALVARO de VARGAS vs. LEVI COLE

DDK:

Folks, the issues between Better Future Talent Agency and the unlikely duo of Oscar Burns and Scott Stevens may have reached a fever pitch two weeks ago. On the 150th edition of DEFtv, we saw a rematch from DEFIANCE Road where Burns and Stevens not only worked together as a cohesive unit, but also scored the duke over Alvaro de Vargas and Jack Mace. But what happened after the match was the big news.

Lance:

After the match, ADV threw Burns into the ringpost and busted him open and as retaliation for Scott Stevens winning his match, ADV threw one of his signature fireballs into the face of Scott Stevens! We understand that Scott Stevens will miss some action as he suffered first degree burns and has been checked for eye damage. ADV was subsequently fined an undisclosed amount for that specific attack using fire, but Better Future paid it in full.

DDK:

We've seen Alvaro de Vargas and Jack Mace just turn up their collective viciousness against the two former FISTS of DEFIANCE, but right now we're gonna see Alvaro in singles action against recent BRAZEN graduate, Levi Cole! Cole is coming off a big win over Gunther Adler on UNCUT, but with respect to Adler, Levi is stepping up in competition in a huge way against a more dangerous ADV. Let's go to Darren Quimbey...

Quimbey stops and the crowd JEERS the hell out of Morrow when he appears on stage. An unnamed stagehand that isn't Ken Ellis tries to fasten his signature microphone/earpiece in his ear. Since Ellis is still out thanks to Titaness attacking him at the end of 150, Night One, Morrow shoos the stagehand away. Burns then goes to the leg and STOMP STOMP STOMPS it viciously, not forgetting what he's endured at the hands of his former protege turning his back on him. Burns then goes for a knee bar this time and then locks it in tightly! Mace is yelling out now, trying to try like hell not to tap out.

DDK:

There's only so much that one man can take, but I called many matches with Oscar Burns and the WrestleFriends team of Mace and Batts. I'm shocked things have gotten this bad between these two.

Lance:

The Team Graps Cap stands up and then fires off a series of his own European uppercuts, rocking the big man until he ends up in the corner. He grabs the leg of Mace and once again rips at it with another big dragon screw off the ropes! Mace favors the knees and lets out a curse word, but as he's reeling, he gets ROCKED with a huge running European uppercut in the corner. While Mace is seeing stars, Burns hits the ropes and then comes off the side with a huge running high knee to the chest! When he's sure Mace is down, he grabs the leg... then goes into the Graps of Wrath II and the crowd goes into a frenzy! Morrow is freaking out with Alvaro de Vargas growling and yelling at Burns in the ring!

DDK:

Rolling Heel Hook by Burns! He's tapped out numerous stars in DEFIANCE with that hold including former FIST Lindsay Troy! Is Mace gonna tap out, too?

Lance:

That rolling heel hook is a deadly move! Either Mace taps or Burns finishes what he started on that leg!

The Faithful go crazy as Mace shakes his head frantically and roars like a wounded animal trying to get to the ropes! He tries to get to the ropes, again, but Burns has it locked in tight. Instead, Mace does what he can and uses his size to roll over, then tries to kick his way out, but Burns stays clear of his boot and cranks on more!

DDK:

I think Mace is about to tap... oh, come on!

Morrow is about to climb up on the ring apron, perhaps to distract the official, but before he really can, Jack Mace manages to roll again and reaches out to CLAW the eyes of Burns!

Lance:

Slater took his eyes for just a second to contend with Tom Morrow! And now he rakes the eyes of Burns! Remember when Burns jabbed Mace in his eyes last week as a counter to ADV doing it to Stevens!

Burns holds his eye and then leaves himself open for Mace to BLAST him with a dizzying lariat! The Faithful jeer as Burns gets turned inside out. Mace does not let the opportunity pass him by when he grabs Burns by the side...

DDK:

THE JACK OF ALL HOLDS! THE ARM TRIANGLE CHOKE LOCKED IN!

Lance:

You aren't crazy, folks! One of his nicknames? Also the name of that submission!

The Damn Fine Pro Wrestler has the hold locked in and when Burns still tries stubbornly to fight it... Mace HOISTS him up and slams him down with a massive sit-out side slam called Jack's Driver! He then goes right into a seated Arm Triangle Choke now and has it locked in. He cranks back...

DDK:

Is Burns gonna tap out?

The Technical Spectacle tries to fight his way out still, but in the vicious grip of his the massive Mace, it's rapidly more futile! Morrow and ADV watch as Mace CRANKS back even further and tightens his grip. Burns starts to fade fast... and his arm goes limp. Slater checks... and BURNS ISN'T MOVING! HE CALLS FOR THE BELL!

DING DING DING

DDK:

...No way.

Mace lets go of the hold while Morrow raises both arms like his client just won three Super Bowls! He jumps into ADV's arms and gives his large client a hug while Mace screams at Slater to raise his hand.

♪ "The House Jack Built (instrumental)" by Metallica ♪

Darren Quimbey:

Here is your winner as a result of referee stoppage... "THE DAMN FINE PRO WRESTLER" JACK MACE!

Mace screams again and Slater raises his arm as he stands over Burns, putting a boot over him. The burly Brit fumes over Oscar and screams with a boot down in his chest.

Jack Mace:

I TOLD YOU I WAS THE BETTER WRESTLER, YOU UTTER TWAT! THIS RING BELONGS TO ME!

DDK:

You have to credit that slight assist by Morrow, but tonight it's Jack Mace with a career-defining singles win tonight!

Lance:

And if that happens again at DEFCON... Oscar Burns and Scott Stevens both will become property of Better Future!

ADV, Tom Morrow and Jack Mace all celebrate in the ring over the fallen body of Oscar Burns as we go to a commercial.

DINNER AND A SHOW

Teresa Ames:

Thanks for meeting with me. I really appreciate it.

It's an overly busy night at Ballyhoo Brew. Teresa sits across from none other than Kristie Bellis. Both women are dressed to the nines and are seated at a kitschy heirloom patio table.

Kristie Bellis:

Oh, no problem. I was skeptical at first but then I realized I could really use a night out like this.

A waiter swings by and fills up their water glasses while Ames and Bellis open their menus.

Waiter:

Hello, ladies. My name is Jonathan-Christopher. It will be my pleasure serving you today.

Ames looks over Jonathan-Christopher and rolls her eyes.

Jonathan-Christopher:

Say, you two girls look familiar. Do I know you from somewhere?

Again, Ames rolls her eyes.

Teresa Ames:

No water.

She turns to Kristie and smiles warmly.

Teresa Ames:

Get us your second-most expensive bottle of champagne and make it snappy.

Jonathan-Christopher pokes a playful finger in the air.

Jonathan-Christopher:

Right away my dear.

The night speeds up a little until it slows back down again to regular time. Teresa rolls a wine glass stem between her fingers before taking a swig.

Teresa Ames:

We deserve this, Kristie. Girls night. It's nice to have a sit down dinner with you to clear the air.

Her eye can't help but twitch after she swallows a mouthful of fermented grapes.

Teresa Ames:

I had a long and stressful day.

Bellis looks at Ames with concern.

Kristie Bellis:

Oh my, about what?

Ames sighs obnoxiously.

Teresa Ames:

Men. They think they run the world. Is it sad I've made more money objectifying myself online as an ASMRtist than I have with wrestling contracts? Like, I am more than just a piece of meat. Yet here I am, pigeonholed into gender norms.

Kristie nods profusely.

Teresa Ames:

I am strong. I am a woman. But I can do so much more than whisper into a microphone and flutter my fingers around like Jestal pantomiming.

A second waitress walks to the table. She's of similar size and build of Teresa and has a warm yet uneasy glow about her.

Waitress:

Hello, girls. My name is Vickie. Are you two ready to order?

Ames looks over at Bellis.

Teresa Ames:

I'm only ready if you're ready, girlie.

Ames giggles while Bellis gives an honest nod to the waitress.

Kristie Bellis:

Why yes.

The two place their order and continue to converse.

Teresa Ames:

So, you went with the banquet burger and fries after all! Nice.

Kristie chuckles.

Kristie Bellis:

And you got the salad.

Ames blushes.

Teresa Ames:

Gotta keep my girlish figure if I'm ever going to find myself a husband.

The night of talking and conversing carries on as the scene speeds up again. The women indulge in their meals and even get their own desserts.

Teresa Ames:

I wanted the chocolate explosion cake ever since I saw the picture of it on the menu.

Kristie Bellis:

You go, girl!

The Cute N Qwerty Gurl finishes up her cake and downs what's probably her twelfth glass of alcohol.

Teresa Ames:

[Burps] Shit, son. I think I have tied one too many on. [Burp]

Bellis laughs annoyingly like a valley girl.

Kristie Bellis:

Bahahahahaha, you so funny, T!

She's obviously blasted, too.

The cheque comes and Teresa snatches it first.

Teresa Ames:

Nuh uh, girl. My treat. You were so sweet to get all dressed up like that and listen to me bitch and moan all night. It's the least I could do.

Teresa pays and slips the male waiter an extra little wink and some cash before the pair of ladies gather their things.

Teresa Ames:

Oh, Kristie! Look!

Teresa points to the table just before they can walk away. Kristie looks and sees nothing.

Kristie Bellis:

What? White table cloth? I know, so tack, girl.

WHACK!

Teresa bounces Kristie's head off the table.

Teresa Ames:

YOU WANT TO KNOW WHAT'S SO FUCKING 'TACK, GURL?' DO YOU? YOUR FUCKING FUCKED UP SLUTTY ASS BITCH FACE GITTEN ALL UP IN MY BUSINESS!

Ames unloads stiff right hands into Kristie's skull, immediately busting her open.

Teresa Ames:

FUCKING TRASH PANDA BITCH! YOU THINK I INVITE YOU OUT TO A QUIET QUIET LITTLE GIRLS NIGHT WITHOUT AN ULTERIOR MOTIVE TO CAVE YOUR HOMEWRECKING SKULL IN!?

Kristie gulps for air as Teresa shoves the blood stained tablecloth down her throat.

Teresa Ames:

YOU DESTROYED MY LIFE! YOU RUINED MY LIFELONG LOVE FOR GAGE BLACKWOOD BY GETTING INVOLVED!

Ames cracks a few glasses over Kristie's head.

Teresa Ames:

I AM GOING MOTHERFUCKING BALLISTIC!

Waiter and waitress Jonthan-Christopher and Vickie try to contain Ames but her wildness simply cannot be tamed.

Teresa Ames:

GET YOUR HANDS OFF OF ME!

Thoughts of Gage Blackwood dance inside her head. She's become completely unhinged as Kristie Bellis loses consciousness. A group of Ballyhoo workers finally contains Teresa and drags her away.

Teresa Ames:

I WILL END YOUR DNA CHAIN, KRISTIE! DON'T EVEN LOOK MY WAY EVER AGAIN!

Everyone on the Ballyhoo patio shows grave concern for Kristie as Ames continues to scream in the background.

DDK:

It's Main Event time, Faithful, and you'd struggle to put together a more star-studded tag to close DEFtv One-Fifty-One Night One!

Lance:

This is a crazy lineup for sure, Keebs. We've got three former FISTs and one almost FIST in the match. JFKayle are also undefeated since first coming together under the 24K banner, including that big win over the Pop Culture Phenoms at DEFIANCE Road, but Harvey and Troy? That's a dream team.

DDK:

It is, and both have a MAJOR Bone to pick with their opposite numbers... but will the all-star duo have the cohesion required to take down the more established tandem? That's always the question coming into matches like this, and we're about to find out!

ǒŸŽμ "Gold" by Sir Sly ǒŸŽμ

The mood in the arena immediately turns sour as 24K's theme tune kicks in. Fancy lighting effects make the building look like a carnival of golds and silvers as Cayle Murray and Kendrix emerge from beneath a shower of golden sparks, eyeing the Faithful with disdain. Jack Hunter stumbles out behind them but immediately trips over and falls headfirst off the stage to the ground below.

Kendrix wants no part of Jay Harvey! Cayle Murray now starting things off for JFKayle.

Cayle Murray makes his way into the ring as Jay Harvey jaws at Kendrix for not wanting to fight. So Harvey and Murray circle each other and meet up in a Collar and Elbow Tie Up. Harvey uses his strength and height advantage to push Murray down but Murray is able to transition to Harvey's back.

Murray locks in a Hammer Lock that has Harvey wincing in pain. Harvey grabs at the back of Cayle's head and is able to Snapmare him down to the mat. Harvey is all over Cayle Murray and gets him in a Reverse Chinlock. Murray struggles to escape but Harvey isn't letting go.

Cayle Murray wants nothing to do with Lindsay Troy!

Murray takes the blinded Lindsay Troy and Body Slams her near the JFKayle corner. Murray tags in JFK and the former FIST of DEFIANCE enters the ring to a round of boos. Kendrix lays the boots to Troy and obvs has to flip Harvey the bird.

Harvey tries to enter the ring but Hector Navarro cuts him off. With the referee distracted Kendrix lifts Troy to her feet and brings her into the corner. Kendrix goes back to taunt Harvey as Cayle Murray starts choking the life out of Troy, having unraveled part of his wrist tape to truly cut the windpipe off. LT's face quickly turns a deep shade of crimson.

DDK:

Hey, Hector! Turn around!

Lance:

Blatant cheating from JFKayle here! They should be disqualified!

Navarro finally turns around in time with Murray quickly pulling away from Troy and hopping off the apron, holding his hands up in innocence. Hector admonishes him nonetheless.

DDK:

Well, Hector didn't see it, so there isn't anything he can do about it, but LT is already hurt here...

Indeed, Troy falls forward onto all fours after being choked with the tape. JFK takes some time to work her over. Stomps keep LT downed and she tries to rise through them but eats a boot to the gut for her troubles. Kendrix hits the ropes, comes back with a leaping elbow drop, then stands up, puts a boot on her chest, and blows a kiss at Harvey.

Kendrix goes to LT's neck, looking to inflict further damage. He slaps his seated opponent into a sleeper and works the hold for a while, but Troy rises, jabbing her elbows into JFK's ribs to loosen his grip. LT breaks free hits the ropes, and sends JFK staggering into the ropes with a high knee! Back against the ropes but Kendrix goes low and Cayle low bridges the top rope. Troy lands on her feet on the outside, going right after Cayle, who immediately flees...

And Troy runs right into JFK's dive through the ropes! Putting LT back inside, Kendrix goes back to that sleeper, working the windpipe. After another half-minute or so of struggling he breaks of his own accord, spins round, and chops Troy brutally across the throat! Harvey is screaming for a tag but LT is way too far away.

DDK:

An excellent, focused attack on Lindsay Troy's neck here from Kendrix, thanks to the damage inflicted earlier by the wrist tape.

DDK:

Just when it looked like Troy had reached safety, Cayle cuts it off completely! Harvey's gonna be a little dozy after that one!

Back on the apron after making sure to give everyone at ringside the middle finger, Cayle immediately tags his partner, entering the ring completely full of himself. LT isn't as dead as he thought though and fires straight in, obliterating the Scot with standing kicks. A whip to the corner gets followed by a leaping forearm as the crowd comes alive! Troy puts Murray into the opposite corner but eats a mouthful of boot as she charges again. She stumbles backward while Cayle bounds out this time, right into a Spanish Fly from Troy!

Unfortunately, Murray has the wherewithal to roll out of the ring before LT can attempt the pin. He's down on the outside and Kendrix tends to him. Unbeknownst to them, Troy charges across the ring, getting ready to dive... and when JFK pulls Cayle out of the way, she stops dead, rolling back into the center of the ring. Ripples of applause fill the building as she checks her throat again.

Cayle finally gets back instead after screwing around for a nine-count. When Troy tries to come at him, he slides his torso through the top and middle ropes, preventing her from touching him. He scoots over to JFK in this window, tagging him in.

Lance:

You can see, clearly, that Murray only wants to engage with Troy when he thinks he has the advantage here! I think he's still reeling from that punch a few weeks ago.

DDK:

Truly, it's all fun and games until someone punches you in the mouth.

A more careful, considered battle plays out. The two wrestlers circle, waiting for an opening, with JFK talking smack. Murray literally lunges over the top rope and grabs Troy's shoulder as she reaches the heels' corner, spinning her around, so Kendrix charges. He puts her in the corner and wails away with strikes. A quickfire tag to Cayle, who kicks LT in the side so many times she falls onto her ass. Murray then puts a boot against her throat, choking her for the four-count.

More quick tags follow, with JFKayle working Troy all the way over. Harvey is back on the apron on his side of the ring and calling encouragement towards her. With JFK the legal man, he hits a hanging vertical suplex then goes for a pin, pushing his forearm into the throat as he goes!
