The arena parking lot comes to life as a long stretch limo approaches. A bunch of secret service agents sprint alongside the vehicle, trying to keep pace with it.

DDK:

What the heck are we witnessing here?

The Faithful are left in anticipation as the vehicle finally comes to a stop. The agents try to catch their breath. One agent turns and opens the back door.

Using his renowned strength to his advantage, Cyrus drives Brock backwards a few steps and Newbludd reacts by lowering his base to bring things to a standstill. Rolling to the outside floor, Brock helps Cyrus out of his predicament by grabbing an ankle and yanking it, causing Bates to fall back first onto the mat. Reaching underneath the bottom rope, Newbludd latches onto Bates' other foot. Realizing what is happening, Cyrus looks up in dismay to see the ringpost positioned directly between his split legs and begins to shake his head in protest. Keeping a tight grip on his opponent's ankles, Brock looks out to The Faithful for their judgement and they respond with an encouraging cheer. Stomping over to Newbludd, Cyrus drops to his knees and wraps both of his hands around Brock's neck to blatantly choke The Innovator. With boos raining down on him, Bates ignores Carla's warnings and continues to choke Brock, slamming the back of Brock's head into the mat as he does so!

Lance:

Cyrus is choking the life out of Brock and The Faithful do not approve one bit!

Hearing Carla hit four on the disqualification count, Cyrus relents and breaks the choke. On the outside, Cassidy raises his free arm (the other is still around Malak) and encourages the fans to get behind Brock. Bates quickly gets back up to his feet and stomps Brock in the chest a few times for good measure. Maneuvering around to Newbludd's feet, Bates grabs both of Brock's legs and swiftly applies a Boston Crab!

DDK:

Bates has got the submission and he's using that raw power of his to bend Newbludd in half!

Eyes bulging from the sudden pain in his lower back, Brock tries to push himself upwards but Cyrus puts a stop to that by wrenching back even farther. Shaking his head back and forth, Brock screams "NO!" at Carla while on the outside Pat Cassidy urges his partner on by slapping a hand against the mat. The Faithful quickly join in and stomp their feet in rhythm with Cassidy. Needing to break the hold, Newbludd begins to drag himself and Bates to the nearest set of ropes.

Lance:

Brock's going for the rope break! Cyrus has the crab locked in tight and this might be the only option Newbludd has!

Grimacing in pain with every pull, Newbludd closes the gap between his fingertips and the ropes as Bates fights against him. With only inches left to go, Brock lets out a cry and stretches his hand out as far as it can go...

It's juuuuust far enough! He latches onto the bottom rope!

DDK:

Newbludd made it to the ropes and Cyrus can't believe it!

Shaking his head in disbelief, Bates onces again milks the hold for all it's worth and breaks it at the last possible second. Cyrus shoots the pesky ref a dirty look and flips Brock over onto his back. Grabbing both of Newbludd's legs, Cyrus tucks them under his arms and falls backwards onto the mat, catapulting Brock throat-first into the bottom rope!

Lance:

Nasty move there by Cyrus. He's repaid Brock for his antics earlier by targeting The Innovator's throat a couple of times since he's taken control of the match.

Holding his throat and coughing, Brock rolls to the ring apron. Stopping just short of falling to the floor, Newbludd tries his best to fight through his aching throat while behind him Cyrus stalks his way.

DDK:

Newbludd is in rough shape here, partner.

Lance:

Cyrus makes it to the ropes and reaches over them to pull the groggy Brock up to a standing position. Brock lashes out with a couple of instinctive punches but Cyrus manages to fend them off and return fire with a couple of hard shots to Newbludd's head. Brock nearly falls off the apron but Bates grabs him at the last second to keep him in place. Building off the work he had already done, Cyrus applies a front facelock on Newbludd and drops down to his knees to choke him with the top rope!

DDK:

Cyrus with ANOTHER blatant choke! C'mon!

With a shit-eating grin spread across his face, Cyrus basks in the boos raining down on him as the now obviously agitated ref starts the rope break. Once again Carla reaches four on the count and once again Cyrus breaks it just in the nick of time, directing his arrogant smile at her as he does so.

Lance:

Cyrus is playing with fire messing with Carla like that. You don't want to be on her bad side, especially with so much at stake!

Clad in an obnoxious three-piece Hawaiian themed suit, the ever fashionable Arthur Pleasant walks towards the DEFplex with his black, polycarbonate carry-on rolling on its squeaky wheels behind him. Arthur Pleasant:

It's a beautiful day in the neeeeeeeighborhood, a beautiful day for a neeeeeeeighbor!

He jumps unexpectedly into the air, clicking his feet together.

Arthur Pleasant:

Could you beeeeeee mine? Would you beeeeeee mine?

As if the birds were chirping (they're not) and the sun was shining on his back (it isn't), Arthur sighs happily as he approaches the door to a fire exit near the indoor pool area that was not at ALL supposed to be used as a side entrance to the DEFplex. But given how Pleasant isn't particularly liked amongst the locker room, he rigged it up some time ago with a little stone at the bottom of the door's corner aluminum guard so that it could be opened from the outside.

That's when his peripheral vision catches someone else approaching what he thought was a secret entrance to the dungeon of DEFIANCE, too.

Arthur Pleasant:

Oh. You... you come in this way, too? I thought I saw the rock displaced a few weeks ago. How did you find out about this.... Uhhh... what's his name... that guy who had that thing with the other dude at that show, right? Help me out here.

The camera pans back to reveal Scott Stevens. Looking at Pleasant rather unpleasantly, he sighs.

Scott Stevens:

You know what my name is, Arthur. Knock your stupid shit off. I'm not about to start playing any games with a fucking child right now, thank you very much.

Pleasant looks appalled by Scott's cynical response and attitude.

Arthur Pleasant:

Whoa. Calm yourself, Scott! Turn that frown upside down! You're gonna stroke out if you don't, man! Wooo Saaaa. I'm not trying to play any games with you, believe it or not. Pinky promise! I'm just... trying to have some fun around here! Y' know, lighten the mood a little after such a downer of a close at DEFCON with Scott Douglas getting shit canned.

He shrugs.

Arthur Pleasant:

But hey, I try to look on the bright side of ALL things: in this case, it's one less boring "Scott" whose name I have to remember or pretend to give a shit about.

Stevens looks at Pleasant as both men now stand in front of the wrong side of the fire exit.

Scott Stevens:

Right. I've seen your idea of "fun". It's tasteless and has no place around here. Now get out of my way, Arthur. I'm serious. You don't want none of this.

Arthur's eyes narrow. He sucks his teeth incredulously, allowing a slight grin to escape his lips.

Arthur Pleasant:

Oh, I see. You're not a fan of my style, is it? Well boo-fucking-hoo. Why don't you go cry about it to your Uncle Tim while you're at it?! Maybe you can jerk each other off while watching a best of ten series between two amateur dudes trying to dry hump each other in a stupid white circle. Oh and give him my regards, by the way!

Pleasant steps a little closer to Scott, effortlessly living up to his namesake by provoking him to do something. Stevens changes his stance into a defensive position, ready to drop Arthur if the situation calls for it.

Arthur Pleasant:

And if we're being honest with each other? I haven't seen anything from you here. Nope, not a thing. You might as well be a fucking ghost, mon ami. In fact, are you even real? Do my eyes deceive me?

Arthur pokes Stevens in his chest rather rigorously. Scott feigns a laugh and before Arthur can even prepare for it, Scott Stevens WAYLAYS him with a HARD right fist that knocks him completely on his ass! Stunned that this just happened, Arthur's eyes wince as he clutches his jaw firmly.

Scott Stevens:

I warned you, asshole.

Scott pulls on the slightly ajar aluminum door guard with great force and NAILS Arthur in the shoulder and ribs so hard that he rolls forward about four-feet. Now clutching his shoulder, ribs, AND jaw, finding great need for a third hand, Arthur Pleasant just grunts in pain. It's clear that he's still trying to gain his bearings after what just happened, but before he can follow up the attack with anything, Scott disappears into the DEFplex.

Arthur Pleasant (yelling loudly):

ASSAAAAAAAULT! ASSAAAAAAAULT!

His yells go unanswered as there does not seem to be any security within the immediate vicinity.

The D:

Too soon?

Elise Ares

Never. I just... need a shower, but these people need a new hero! Now... I'm confused, English isn't my first language so is it FAVORITE or FAVOURITE? You guys can't seem to make up your mind on it and I need to know for merchandising reasons. D, can you call my lawyer?

The D looks across the frame.

The D:

Hey Klein, Elise needs you.

Klein walks across to Elise, who produces a stapled packet of papers and begins tracing them with her fingers. Sir Reginald K. Boxman III, Esq. nods and puts his arm around the Leading Lady of DEFIANCE and escorts her to the next section while reviewing her next big promotional project. Flex continues to move the banner slightly up, then slightly down, then slightly up to get it just right as The D and O-Face supervise. O-Face lays her head against The D's shoulder with a smile on her face. The D jumps away, startled.

THE LUCKY SEVENS vs. PCP (FLEX KRUGER & KLEIN)

DDK:

We have a great tag team match coming up next and it will be a big tag team match in more ways than one!

Lance:

That it is! It will be The Lucky Sevens of Better Future Talent Agency taking on Flex and Klein of the Pop Culture Phenoms in a battle of powerhouse teams! Earlier tonight they promised an Appreciation Night for Elise Ares after she beat Perfection at DEF-CON! If they beat the Lucky Sevens tonight that would be icing on the cake.

DDK:

The Lucky Sevens weren't involved in the decision, but their team lost at DEF-CON against the Saturday Night Specials and Los Tres Titans. Tom Morrow finally get a beating from the four of them and even Titaness and Thomas Keeling got in on it. Except for Jestal DEF-CON was a bad night all around for BFTA so we will see if they can get back on track.

Lance:

DEF-CON is long gone and these two teams want to get back to the hunt for the Unified tag team titles. We have heard that Tom Morrow is going to be out with injuries for a few months so we have someone else doing the introductions for the Lucky Sevens and it is ...

Alvaro de Vargas:

Cállate, pendejos!

Out from the back, the crowd BOOS Alvaro de Vargas. Clearly not happy with how DEFCON or the most recent match on UNCUT 93 with Uriel Cortez went, ADV isn't in a mood. Next to him stand "The Mad Prince" Jestal and "The Damn Fine Pro Wrestler" Jack Mace. Mace disappears backstage for a moment and then comes back with a large portrait of Better Future Talent Agency's mastermind... Tom Morrow. He holds it out and The Faithful boo even louder.

Alvaro de Vargas:

First off, un momento de silencio for the dearly departed from DEFIANCE... Tom Morrow is nursing his injuries INFLICTED upon him by those SNS drunks, that little pendejo, Minute and... Uriel Cortez. Cierra la puta cara y muestra algo de respeto! Moment of Silence starts now!

ADV, Jack Mace and Jestal all bow their heads as Mace holds up the portrait. The crowd JEEEEEEERRRRSSS during the moment while they have their heads bowed. At the conclusion, ADV shoots a hate-filled stare at all sides of the DEF-Plex.

Alvaro de Vargas:

While Morrow is gone, Better Future will look to ME to guide them! You think just because Morrow isn't here that we won't rule DEFIANCE? DEFCON was made of two very big nights... but DEFCON was ONLY nights still, pendejos. DEFIANCE has MANY nights ahead! That means from this point forward, not only will Better Future DOMINATE, The Lucky Sietes will start our year off by beating HGH Kruger and a man who will only get close to box by putting one over his head. The D desperately kicks ADV in the junk, rushing under the ropes into the ring.

On the outside, Jestal cackles as Jack Mace drops down and begins to stretch out the leading lady of DEFIANCE with the Jack of All Holds. This allows Jestal to charge toward Klein, slamming his entire body into the barricade where Klein rests, breaking clear through.

In the ring, the D backpeddles away from ADV, who lumbers onto the apron. The D scrambles to his feet, turns, and sees the Lucky Sevens. They loom over Flex Kruger's unconscious form. Then slaps the D in the face, hard. Stunned, the D spins before both Luck brothers squash him with "Push Your Luck" to heavy jeers from the Faithful.

The D doesn't fall after the collision, as both Max and Mason catch and hold the D up. Max and Mason even step inside the D's legs on opposite sides as if they were planning for a dual russian leg sweep, exposing the D's tender D.

The D, dazed, gains just enough time to look out to the outside. Jack Mace is pulling Elise apart by her limbs, as Jestal unloads all the aggression he has for losing Dandy with a brutal brawl to the Box man. Flex, just stirring, unrealizing, is hit in the chest by the storm that is ADV's running knee.

O-Face rushes forward, grabbing the D by his face. The DEF crew gets in close to pick up the audio.

O-Face:
I loved you. I gave you EVERYTHING. I only wanted you to LOVE ME.

The D looks to O-Face, and then back to Elise Ares, clutched in the grip of Jack Mace's Jack of All Holds. He realizes what he's done. He looks to O-Face. He mouths "I'm sorry."

O-Face screams in his face, a primal angry scream only of a jilted lover scorn.

And then soccer punts the D square in the junk.

DDK:
...My God.

Lance:

DDK:

He came to an agreement with management to play ball, that's about as much as we know about his new contract. Ladies and Gentlemen; Faithful of all ages, tonight we witness the first event in this challenge that will test our competitors' strength, endurance, and most importantly their control. Before me in the center of the stage sits an atlas ball - it is a cast iron ball with an overmolded rubber exterior, and it weighs in at a whopping TWO HUNDRED POUNDS!

Lance:

That's an impressive amount of weight, Keebs. These atlas balls are used by powerlifters in order to develop their core strength, and they're not something that's commonplace in many gyms.

DDK:

I'd assume they're more a specialized kinda thing. Regardless, a two hundred pound sphere is a problem in itself - how do you carry it? It's only about a foot and a half in diameter, but that's still gonna make that a task.

Quimbey:

Each competitor will retrieve the atlas ball in front of me in turn and lift it into a carrying position. Each competitor will then carry the atlas ball down the entrance ramp, and continue to the waist high platform erected on the competitor's right.

Each competitor will retrieve the second atlas ball to his left, and at ankle height, again carrying it around the outside of the ring to the competitor's left, all the way to the opposite side of the ring from the entrance ramp. Each competitor will deposit the atlas stone inside the two foot by two foot square marked in red tape, exactly as the one in front of me at the far side of the ring. The atlas ball's resting point must be within the marked square in order to continue.

From there, each competitor will sprint back to the waist high platform that they deposited the first atlas stone on and retrieve it again, carrying it all the way back up the ramp and bringing it to rest within the marked square on the stage.

DDK:

This is admittedly sounding way more interesting than I thought it would be, Lance. I'm looking forward to watching Bronson Box shut Rick Dickulous up with a win here, right out of the... well, box.

Quimbey:

Finally, each competitor will be timed in this event - the winner will be the DEFIANT with the lowest overall time, however the loser of this initial contest will choose the second event in the DEFIANCE's Strongest Man challenge, and moving forward it has been agreed that the loser shall retain that right.

Lance:

Now that's an interesting twist, Keebs. The loser of each event gets a chance to swing things back in their favor.

DDK:

Yeah, but don't forget, Rick Dickulous works on multiple levels; he's not just a giant meathead. If I was a betting man, I'd say this was his idea...it's a good way to make someone overconfident, and that could be their undoing.

Quimbey:

To determine the first competitor, we will have an old fashioned coin toss with this special edition DEFIANCE's Strongest Man Competition commemorative coin! The winner will go first and have the advantage of setting the bar.

Lance:

And the big man doesn't seem particularly thrilled about it!

Before we can blink Box has already squatted down and accepted the second stones weight up and onto his double wide frame. The Faithful and his Conclave students alike are all in concert as they cheer on The Original DEFIANT as he makes his way to the left around the ring. A sea of wild and screaming Faithful at his back, Boxer continues his flawless yet methodical approach.

DDK:

Not setting any speed records by any stretch, but if there's any points to be had for consistency...

After finally depositing his heavy load Bronson... who mind you is not really a "runner" if there's not ropes involved... does his best to do his best imitation of sprinting back around the far side of the ring to reacquaint himself with the first atlas ball, right where he left it.

His face hasn't betrayed him once during the entire proceeding. The stone cold, gritted teeth of pure DEFIANT resolve to send this challenge back to "this bloody pretenders doorstep" to paraphrase the Wargod himself. It's plain as the mustache on his face. He approaches this last leg of the challenge much like he did the first, with that same DEFIANT resolve.

Just uphill this time. The incline makes very little difference though for Bronson. With his fans and compatriots cheering him on he deposits the original atlas stone back within its square on the stage. He once again sets the enormous stone in its place flawlessly.

Quimbey:

Bronson Box, setting the time to beat at TWO MINUTES, TWELVE SECONDS, FIFTY EIGHT!

The Conclave approaches, each member getting a handshake and some acknowledgment... everyone but Rhys. The slight is accepted by the junior Collins with stride but noticed by... well, everyone. As Rick Dickulous approaches to take his run he smiles at the situation, physically unable to not comment. "Don't be too hard on the kid, Hollis. Not his fault his uncle is a senile old blabbermouth." Bronson and young Rhys Collins have the exact same negative reaction despite obviously being at odds with one another to some degree.

A pretty intense shove and push begins at the top of the ramp...

Lance:

Rick's really picked his target hasn't he? And he's just TWISTING that knife, brother.

DDK:

Bronson's circle is pretty small, partner. He defends those he values fiercely. Rhys' uncle Spud is in his seventies and has forgotten more about this fine sport than RICK will probably ever know. He taught Bronson wrestling. Treated him like a son for a really long time.

Lance:

So essentially Rick is preying on Bronson's wrestling grandpa. Dude, that really IS really low. Leave grandpas alone, man, always!

Buffalo Brian Slater and two faceless DEFpolo-clad security drones immediately step in and defuse the situation.

Before his job role as referee, Brian Slater was head of DEF security for a number of years. So he's more than acclimated to keeping peace between Bronson Box and whomever he wants to maim or hurt on any given day. The largest DEFIANT laughs with evil barrel chested glee watching Bronson twist in the wind even the slightest.

Rick looks up at Box's time on the DEFIatron with a smug smile and a chuckle. Brian Slater motions for Rick to step forward and the cheers slowly shift to boos as the lumbergiant confidently strolls from his place on the stage towards the atlas ball resting in the red taped square. He reaches down and positions the ball where he wants it within the taped area, planting his feet and squatting a few times in preparation.

Patting the ball one last time, Rick sets himself at the ready, half squatting with his arms open, his massive hands flexing in anticipation.

DDK:

Rick Dickulous now waiting for the bell to begin his run, and I'll be honest, I don't know whether he'll be able to beat that time from Bronson Box!

Lance:

I think Boxer even surprised Rick, Keebs, but you'll never see him show it. Rick Dickulous definitely has his work cut out for him.

Brian Slater:

Competitor, ready?

Rick nods and inhales deeply.

Suddenly, there's a commotion from behind the curtain to Guerilla.

??? [muffled]:

WHERE ARE YOU, SCOTT?! YOU BIG DUMB SHIT! STOP HIDING FROM ME!

DDK:

Lance:

Oh no... please, this segment is already long winded enough, come ooon...

A befuddled Arthur Pleasant stumbled out from behind the curtain, accidentally running into Brian Slater who walked closer to the commotion before it could spill out and interrupt things. The Provocateur turns slightly, seeing Brian Slater and immediately accosts him as if he has all the answers he's looking for.

Arthur Pleasant:

He stops, sensing something behind him. Arthur turns slowly, then jumps back about a foot.

Arthur:

OH DEAR GOD WHAT THE HELL IS THAT?!

Arthur nearly falls on his ass as he realizes Rick Dickulous now towers over him, and to that the presence of Bronson Box waiting a few feet away and Pleasant looks to feel true, pure dread. The lumbergiant's eyes narrow as he motions to Darren Quimby to hand over his microphone, which he begrudgingly does.

Rick:

What. Do. You. Want? Come on, little man, speak up - did humpty dumpty fall off the wall again? Hmm?

Rick reaches out a giant fist and knocks on Arthur's forehead gently. The whole ordeal is now becoming a true spectacle. Bronson, Reinhardt and the Conclave all huddle together on the far side of the altercation, thoroughly enjoying themselves at Rick's expense.

DDK:

This definitely isn't how Rick wanted this first event to go. He's trying to raise his stock challenging the Wargod... the LAST thing he wants to deal with this mental patient in the middle of his well orchestrated plan.

The big man notices Bronson and his cohorts laughing... only serving to make him that much angrier. His wide frustrated eyes bore holes through Arthur's forehead. Rick addresses him through gritted teeth.

Rick:

Shouldn't you be off somewhere rigging bombs on ferries loaded with innocent people, you creepy prick? Can't you goddamn see we're in the MIDDLE of something here?

Arthur Pleasant looks at Rick quizzically. Then at Brian Slater. Then over at Bronson. Boxer hazarding a little two fingered wave towards the maniac currently eating up their segment time.

Arthur:

Boxes? Bombs? Ferries? Huh? I love ferries. I love ALL the ferries. What... uh, what are you doing out here? You know, if I may be so kind to ask, good sir.

Pleasant realizes his predicament, with Scott Stevens suddenly being the furthest thing from his mind.

Rick:

SHUT UP, ARTHUR.....SHUT YOUR GODDAMNED MOUTH BEFORE I SQUASH YOU LIKE THE ROACH YOU ARE....

Rick is seething now. More angry than a shaken up bee hive as spittle forms small gobs of foam at the corner of his mouth. This only continues to entertain The Wargod. Bronson rests his foot with uncharacteristic casualness atop the atlas stone as he bears witness to this madness. Rick can feel his upper hand in his war of words with The Wargod slipping away every minute Pleasant occupies his attention.

Rick:

...or maybe that's EXACTLY...what needs to happen.

As Rick accentuates his words sharply he bends his large face down to Arthur's level, the microphone the only thing separating their foreheads from touching. The lumbergiant looms over Arthur like the fucking apocalypse incarnate.

COMICALLY LARGE GULP.

Arthur:

Ooooooooookay.... Let's just take a big step back and all just calm down. Like I tried to tell Scott Stevens earlier when he was about to make the biggest mistake of his career? Wooo saaaaaa. Come on now, Ricky Dicky. I was uh, I was looking for someone and it seems like I took a wrong turn. Hehe...heh. [Chuckles nervously] So um, what do you say we grab a couple beers at Superkicks and chill out before, you know, you murder me? Because I think that would be a GREAT idea. I'll even buy you a bucket, or wheelbarrow, of chicken if you want. Whadda ya say... PAL?!

The Original DEFIANT puts a cupped hand to his mouth and shouts from the wings like a heckling fan at a football game.

Box:

OR YE' COULD FOOK OFF SO WE CAN FINISH OUR BLOODY CONTEST YA' BLOODY MENTAL PATIENT!

The comment only amplifies the awkwardness... deepening Arthur's realization he's mindlessly stumbled right in the middle of just the worst possible situation. Pleasant tries to lessen the tension with a playful smack to the side of Rick's shoulder. Probably a little harder than he intended or wanted to. Making a, "Yikes, sorry!" type of face, he scratches the back of his neck.

Lance:

Is this seriously still happening? I've literally forgotten what we were doing.

DDK:

[sigh] ... Arthur has that effect, doesn't he? I'm sure he'll be done soon. Sour Patch Kid?

Lance:

Oooo, yum.

Rick straightens himself, again towering over Arthur as he looks between his shoulder and Arthur with a dark stare - any overconfidence and bravado replaced with sheer rage and contempt for Pleasant's interruption.

Rick:

What do I say? Well, how about this: what will it take to get you off of...MY...stage? I mean, I'm sure I could simply wave my hand and Mr. Slater here will easily send you packin...but no, see, this presents an opportunity. You're clearly out here for a reason, and it's not just convenient timing, so cut the fuckin shit.

Arthur Pleasant's eyes narrow as he stares right back at Rick. It's as if something just clicked inside his brain. The camera catches a now very impatient Bronson Box, across the stage, staring his own set of daggers into the Provocateur.

Lance:

Does this idiot not even realize he's pissing off two giant nightmare people like... literally at the same time? Who stands out here and ignores Bronson Box?

The Provocateur continues blindly, obliviously undeterred.

Arthur:

Maybe you're not hearing me, Rick. But I already TOLD you why I'm out here. I was looking for someone. Took a wrong turn. That's it. If you want to ASSAULT me and BULLY me like Scott Stevens did? Then make your move and squash me like the bug that you obviously can. You'll feel better about yourself, no doubt.

Arthur can see the twitch in one of Rick's eyes. He can't help but chuckle.

Arthur:

So, opportunity you say? What exactly did you have in mind? A pathetic "match" with me just to take out your clearly roided up rage on someone smaller than you? I think that's a hard pass from me, Dick.

Arthur turns but Rick immediately puts his big bear claw on Arthur's shoulder. You can literally hear the "gulp" coming from Arthur's throat as Rick turns Pleasant right back around.

Rick:

Seems someone needs to beat some manners into you, Arthur, because clearly the most expensive therapists in New Orleans can't get that simple concept through. So, let me give these people what they want...Arthur shutting up! Two weeks, Pleasant; DEFtv 154...name your m-

The words erupt from his mouth before his synapses even fire to make sense of what he's saying...

Arthur:

-HARDCORE MATCH!! Wait, wait, wait, wait no...

Suddenly, Arthur realizes the mistake he just made.

Arthur:

No, wait. Uhhhh... hold on... I'm thinking..... still thinking..... help me out here..... Uhhhh...

DDK:

That's it, Lance. It's official. We are actually going to see a murder on live television in two weeks. You thought DEFCON was bad?!

Lance:

Arthur Pleasant might have just got himself into some incredibly hot water here. He's just accepted a Hardcore Match in two weeks with Rick Dickulous at DEFtv 154, and if Rick is as angry then as he is now, Keebs, Arthur Pleasant may BE a smear on the canvas.

Pleasant sighs defeatedly as Rick waves to Brian Slater, who quickly takes hold of a struggling and objecting Arthur Pleasant and drags him back over to the curtain. After a brief struggle, Slater and his DEFsec goons get Pleasant back through the curtain and he returns to his place on the stage, motioning for Rick to finally take his position.

Bronson again cups a hand beside his mouth.

Box:

If'n yer' quite done flirtin' with yer' boyfriend there, lad, I'd love to get this fookin' shite over with maybe before the end of the main event tonight, yeah? Ya' big longwinded prick?

Rick's been made to look like a fool in front of his prey.

The lumbergiant shoves the microphone back into Darren Quimbey's chest so hard the wee little announcer nearly cracks a rib. The biggest DEFIANT of them all stomps over towards the atlas ball at center stage like it just screwed his girlfriend. His former state of cock-sure readiness is utterly gone, Rick instead looks like a rage filled grizzly bear standing over downed prey as he prepares for his run to begin.

Slater:

Competitor ready?

DING DING!

Rick squats down and in a single, fluid jerk, he seems to toss the atlas ball up onto his right shoulder, supporting it in the front with his left hand. He steadies himself for a split second before stalking quickly down the steep entrance ramp and down to the end of the aisleway, depositing the atlas ball with a resounding thud onto the waist high platform to his right.

DDK:

Rick Dickukous is on fire. He's in his element, Lance, there's no doubt about that.

He quickly reaches down for the ankle high atlas ball to his left and begins to lift, but he is unable to get a grip and with a roar his hands slip off the rubber covering. Quickly adjusting, Rick snatches the ball and carries it in a bear hug around and to the left of the ring area. He rounds the ring corner and avoids the steps, making his way to the back of the ring area. In a hurry he drops the atlas ball from mid thigh, causing it to bounce and roll out of the marked square on the floor as Rick struggles to reign it into place.

Lance:

Rick struggling with the control aspect of this event, getting that heavy atlas ball to stay inside the marked area at ringside.

DDK:

Arthur Pleasant must've got under Rick's skin - serves him right after what he's been doing to Bronson Box.

As he takes off sprinting, Rick uses the ring posts to help swing him around the corner without needing to slow down - a tactic allowing him to take advantage of the height difference between he and Box.

Rick pulls the waist high atlas ball towards him and with another clean, jerking motion, the atlas ball is again on his right shoulder and being supported by his left hand as he looks up at the DEFIatron displaying his time versus Bronson Box's...if Rick wanted to come out with a win it was going to take everything he had. With a growling roar, Rick begins full out running towards the ramp, getting to the base in four large bounds.

His powerful legs push he and the two hundred pound ball up the ramp and to the marked out square, Rick taking the extra moment to place the ball on the stage instead of dropping it as the timer stops at 2:12:48.

Quimbey:

Rick Dickulous' time, ladies and gentlemen...TWO MINUTES, TWELVE SECONDS, FORTY EIGHT! RICK DICKULOUS TAKES ROUND ONE!

You wouldn't know Rick Dickulous just won this opening salvo in this contest of strength. The closeness of the win, the fact he let that befuddled fool Provocateur wriggle into his brain and make him look the fool in front of his current target. This was supposed to be a clear statement of dominance. Instead he achieved what's essentially a near loss and put on an unintended sketch comedy show for The STARMAKER with the single worst person on the DEFIANCE roster.

KEEEERRRRRRRRSNAPKLANG!

The sound of the robber coated iron ball CRACKING through the wood of the announce table and slamming down onto the steel floor of the announce platform garners an enormous reaction from the Faithful. Rick Dickulous stands directly in front of the wreckage, veins still throbbing in his giant neck, dusted and wrapped hands still shaking from the absolute herculean effort it must have taken to accomplish this particular bit of mindless, anger-fueled destruction.

Calming down enough to once again take in his surroundings Rick shifts his now quite bloodshot eyes slowly to his left, back over on the stage where he finds the Bombastic Bronson Box. Slowly clapping. Surrounded shoulder to shoulder by the members of his Conclave... his friends.

A pleased little smiiiiile stretched thin across the ACE's mustachioed mug.

DEFcrew and DEFsec immediately swing into action, clearing the stage of people, atlas balls and announce debris. Immediately wheeling out the "break glass incase of shenanigans" spare announce desk they have assembled and ready to go at every live show.

FALLOUT

The scene switches to Conor Fuse walking the backstage hallway. There's a loud !RANK chant beginning on cue, since this is the first time The Ultimate Gamer is seen after his all out, intense loss at the hands of The Comments Section at DEFCON. (Let alone what happened post match.)

Head down, walking slowly, Conor is nowhere near his normal, chipper self. He sports a green t-shirt with nothing on it and dark green Adidas track pants. It seems like he's simply going through the motions.

Upon turning the corner, Conor bumps into Henry Keyes. Another massive cheer from The Faithful follows.

Henry Keyes:

GAMESMAN! Good to see you - been meaning to ask! Did you get a chance to meet up with my associate? Play a few rounds and what have you?

Conor smiles faintly and nods. He looks to walk past Henry but The Airship Pirate stops him.

Keyes almost instinctively puts a hand to his black-and-studded suspender-belt, his gift from DEFCON that he's incorporated into his gear.

Keyes continues to hunt for the exact words he's looking for, apparently not totally satisfied with what he's come up with so far.

Henry Keyes:

The Power-Up King's smile grows a little more this time but he still doesn't say anything. Keyes extends a hand.

The younger Fuse pats Henry on the shoulder politely and strolls past him down the hall. Keyes' eyes follow Fuse as he leaves, a clear wave of concern washing over Henry's face. Ophelia Sykes:

I joined DEFIANCE with the guidance of "The D" with the promise of becoming the next big thing. I was told he would turn me into a star... but the only thing the Pop Culture Phenoms ever did was turn me into a joke. Every other fucking week I caught a plane to come to this dirty ass town and put on a smile and the skimpiest clothes I could find for all of you just to be ignored. Excuse me?! Look at this body!

Ophelia does a little spin and shakes her hips, slightly mocking Elise Ares before rolling her eyes.

Ophelia:

How could you ignore this? Elise never looked this good in this outfit. I make that "Queen" look like a four at best. I'm demanding it. Let me introduce myself officially. My name is Ophelia Sykes. O-Face is what you all did when I just took down your heroes. I'm not here for your entertainment. I'm here for a better future.

A smile crosses her face once again as "Living Legend" begins to play over the arena once again to a chorus of boos. ADV walks up and grabs Ophelia around the shoulder and escorts her out of the ring, but she maintains a gaze at the hard camera until just before she steps out of the ropes.

DDK:

THAT is why she turned her back on Pop Culture Phenoms?! All of what happened earlier... for THIS?

It's insane to me... even without Tom Morrow here... Better Future Talent Agency showed tonight they may be more dangerous than ever...

ADV and Ophelia both wave at the camera and then head to the back before the show moves on amidst a sea of MASSIVE jeers.

WHEN THE SAINTS GO MARCHING IN

DDK:

Coming up next we will be hearing from a man that has to still be feeling the effects of one of the most brutal matches of DEF-CON and that was the last man standing match for the Southern Heritage championship between defending champion Dex Joy and his longest rival in DEFIANCE Wrestling: Scrow.

Lance:

They fought each other tooth and nail and we'll take a look at that match briefly.

The DEF-Tron shows off several still shots of the brutal match. Shots such as Dex Joy hitting Dexy's Midnight Runner on Scrow and knocking him out of the ring.

Scrow choking Dex and spitting his signature mist attack in his face.

Scrow's drop kick to Joy while prone against the guard rail.

Dex Joy hitting Jump for Joy.

And finally, the super Dex Drive off the top rope.

And Dex holding the title.

DDK:

It was pure action. They used only a few weapons but mostly relied on the respective skills both men possessed but in the end, Dex Joy remained triumphant and is still the DEFIANCE Wrestling Southern Heritage champion!

Lance:

And now we will hear from Dex about that match and what lies ahead for the Biggest Boy!

The lights in the arena start to flicker on and off before simulating a blackout. The lights go out. Fans reach out for their cell phones and try to light up the Wrestle Plex. The lights slowly come back in the arena, section by section until on the big screen a cell phone battery display charges ... charges ... charges ... and soon it's at 1000%. "BIG DEX ENERGY!!!!" is on the screen!

♪ "Go Big or Go Home" by Chuxx Morris ♪

The man is wearing a black tank top with the new "DANGER: BIG DEX ENERGY HIGH VOLTAGE" logo and has the Southern Heritage title proudly draped over his shoulder. The Biggest Boy walks to the ring looking proud of his most recent accomplishments. After he gets to the ring he steps inside it and then he holds up the title belt.

DDK:

Whether it was the original title, the placeholder paper title after Tyler Fuse destroyed the original or the current one ... you cannot say Dex isn't a fighting champion. He has defended it on Uncuts, on DEF TV episodes including an amazing match at 150 with The D, and at DEF-CON itself in last man standing match he has done it all.

Lance:

He has taken on any challenge that he has been tasked with! We'll see what is next for Dex!

The Biggest Boy's music cuts and Dex takes hold of the microphone.

Dex Joy:

Ladies and gentle-pallies ... how the hell are you tonight?!

The fans respond with loud cheers.

Dex Joy:

DEF-CON has come and gone. Scrow did everything that I thought he was gonna do to me and then some. He bashed my head many many times and I saw way more stars that night than I thought I would. I got mist in my eyes, I got slammed from pillar to post. I gave him some of my best shots early on and you know what the hell happened? He laughed most of that off!

The Biggest Boy is now looking at the title.

Dex Joy:

Ya Biggest Boi had to dig deep, pallies and I'm talking real deep! I had to go so deep, I had to go to reserves that Big Dex Energy hasn't been tapped into since first walking into DEFIANCE Wrestling ... but I was not going to let you down and I wasn't going to let Nate down after Scrow took a few months of his career away from him! I was not going to let Scrow take this title away from me and I wasn't going to let him get away with everything he had done all these months because my name couldn't stop passing through his lips and I would like to think ...

Dex shows the title up close to one of the cameras at ringside.

Dex Joy:

I did a pretty good job of that didn't I?

He pauses for more cheers to rise up!

Dex Joy:

So now the question is what's next for Dex Joy? Well I do see a lot of names throwing their hat in the ring for that FIST held by Mikey Unlikely but before I can get to that level I want to leave my mark as one of the best - no the best Southern Heritage champion ever! I've taken this belt and defended it successfully on every type of show that DEFIANCE puts out and that is a lot these days! And I need to leave no doubt in my mind that I have taken every challenge available to me. And if you paid attention to another title that was successfully defended there then you'll know who I'm talking about! For all you Star Wars pallies ... there is another ...

He is now pointing his finger at the stage.

Dex Joy:

MATT LACROIX!!! COME! ON! DOWN!

The Faithful roar when suddenly...

Lights Out.

Dex Joy paces back and forth in the ring as he watches smoke begin to rise from the entrance. Then one defense away from his shot at the Southern Heritage Championship and he falls just short to Trashcan Tim, before taking the title back in a rematch at the following DEFtv. Then a strange and controversial back-and-forth with Arthur Pleasant led him to this very moment.

Inside the ring now, DEFIANCE's First Favoured Saint goes toe to toe with Dex Joy and the music cuts. The only audio remaining is a booming chant from the Faithful.

TWO!!

THREE!!

NO!!!!!! LT LOST HER GRIP AND ARTHUR KICKED OUT!!

DDK:

How is that even POSSIBLE?!

Lance:

That knee, Darren. I think I saw her reach for it just before the two and Arthur was able to force his way out of that. Otherwise? She might've had him there.

Pissed off that she couldn't get the three on Arthur there, LT starts punching at her own knee, grimacing... but FIGHTING through the pain with gritted teeth. Saliva flies through her teeth and drips off her chin like an undaunted warrior. LT then stands up. She plants her feet on the mat and yells out before jumping and nailing a spinning roundhouse heel kick!

Arthur goes down hard as LT tries to land on her feet, but her leg buckles and she falls to the mat alongside Arthur.

DDK:

Dammit! Her knee is WRECKED.

Lance:

Watching her try to stick the landing on that one made me cringe, Darren. Not gonna lie.

With LT still down on the mat, this gives Pleasant enough time to recover from the spinning roundhouse heel kick. As he gets to his feet, he sees LT struggling to get to hers. Pleasant backs up into the corner turnbuckles so hard that it sounds like someone whipped him into them. Rushing forward, Pleasant extends his foot again and hits a harrowing Provocation that flips LT back onto her stomach!

DDK:

Ugh...

Lance:

... Provocation.

Pleasant makes a throat slit motion, and pulls Lindsay's near lifeless body up from the mat. He then sets her up into a fireman's carry before immediately pushing up underneath her, clutching her face as he brings her down across his knees as vertical as a tent spike!!!

DDK:

OH GOD!!!!!! That was an utterly BRUTAL Calamity Pain!!!

Lance:

For the love of... kick-out, Lindz? Maybe?

The DEFplex falls silent as they see an inevitability happening before their very eyes. Pleasant hooks a leg as he makes the emphatic cover.

One.

Two.

Three.

The winner of this match via pinfall... The Provocateur... ARTHUUUUUUUR PLEEEEEEEASANT!

♪ The Swan (Carnival of the Animals)" by Saint-Saens ♪

The soothing orchestral sounds of Saint-Saens' other piece, The Swan, begins playing in front of the Faithful. Covered in his own blood, Arthur Pleasant closes his eyes and takes in the calming beauty of his victory theme, moving his hands like conductor's batons next to LT's unmoving frame.

DEFmed make their way out from the back with ice packs, water, various med supplies, and if either competitor needs it, a stretcher. Pleasant continues to sit in the middle of the ring as a brave member of the medical team begins working on the gash above his clearly broken nose. Washing the blood away with water, she holds an ice pack against the wound.

Lindsay Troy, meanwhile, is starting to come around and immediately clutches her knee. Pounding the mat with her fist as she realizes what just happened, several people from DEFmed hold ice to her knee and neck, but she slaps away the icepack from her neck in frustration.

DDK:

Considering how harsh that Calamity Pain was and the first thing Lindz does after regaining consciousness is hold her knee? That shows you how messed up it might be.

Lance:

These two beat the unholy hell out of one another. What a match. It didn't go the way everyone wanted it to, but it was a hell of a contest anyway. Man. Can't wait to re-watch this one at home!

DDK:

Well said, Lance. Lindsay has nothing to be ashamed of here. Arthur has been proving match after match what a tough and ruthless son of a bitch he is, and with one mistake he can end your day in a heartbeat. Lindsay may have made the grave mistake of going for one knee too many, but she hung on like a true warrior.

With the DEFIANCE Wrestling copyright logo no doubt materializing in the bottom right portion of the screen for the fans watching at home, the camera gets an up close and personal look into the disappointment etched onto the face of Lindsay Troy.

DDK:

We're out of time tonight, folks! Stay with us tomorrow for Night Two of DEFtv!

Lance:

Take care, folks! See you tomorrow night!

The final shot before the broadcast ends is of Arthur Pleasant finally opening his eyes with the icepack over his nose. Underneath it, though, you can tell there's a great big smile.
