NED REFORM vs. NICKY SYNZ

♪ "Prime Mover" by Zodiac Mindwarp (covered by Synister Sledge) ♪

Lance:

Welcome to Uncut, ladies and gentlemen! On deck first, we've got a rare Ned Reform in-ring appearance.

DDK:

Fresh off a loss to The Pop Culture Phenoms in a... trivia contest of all things... Ned Reform is set to square off with this man.

Nicky Synz, your favorite rock star and mine, emerges through the curtain to a lukewarm positive reaction. Synz's long blond hair ripples in the wind as he headbangs along with his theme song. On his way to the ring, he continues to headbang and slap the outstretched hands of some of the younger fans in attendance.

Darren Quimbey:

The following contest is scheduled for one fall! Introducing first... from Los Angeles, California... weighing in at 205 pounds... he is NICKY SYNZ!

Synz is on the apron, playing a little air guitar and rocking out, before he enters the ring. He jumps up the top rope and plays a little more guitar to the people as his theme fades out.

♪ "Fur Elise" by Cole Rolland ♪

BOOO!

The Good Doctor, in full ring attire, walks out from the back flanked by a business-casual dressed TA Cole. One might expect Reform to be in a bit of a foul mood... but there's no sign of that, as he wears his usual condescending smirk and waves with insincere joy to the fans in attendance. The camera gets close up on Reform's face as he waves.

Darren Quimbey:

And his opponent! From Litchfield, Connecticut and weighing in at 227 lbs... NED REFORM!

The camera is close enough to Reform's face that it picks up the obligatory..

Ned Reform:

That's DOCTOR Ned Reform.

Ned begins a slow walk to the ring, keeping one of his hands behind his back while he strokes his beard thoughtfully with the other. The Good Doctor reaches the ring and gives his feet a swift wipe on the apron before stepping into the ring.

DDK:

Last time we saw Ned Reform in action, he was breaking Jessica Fear's arm. You have to think he's looking to continue that momentum.

Lance:

On the flip side, while his win/loss record might not be stellar, Nicky Synz is a talented young man who is only one big win away from changing his career trajectory.

DDK:

Don't forget, partner, that because he lost the trivia contest last week, he's got an in-ring date against Elise Ares at DEFtv 171. Taking a loss here heading into that match would surely do bad things to Reform's ego.

DING DING

Reform looks around to the people, waving and smiling and in a seemingly joyous mood before the contest even begins. He puts his arms up in a grappler's position as he begins to circle Nicky Synz and look for an opening to make his move. Synz, however, simply holds up an open palm in a "stop" motion. Reform breaks his stride, looking quizzically as the "rock star" moves to the center of the ring and begins to absolutely shred on an air guitar. The people laugh and cheer as Reform looks around as if to say, "is this guy for real?" Synz finishes his set and looks to Reform, motioning for The Good Doctor to take his place in the center of the ring and answer the air banding challenge.

Lance:

I think Synz wants to see what Ned's got!

Ned smirks, shaking his head in amusement before again resuming the grappling stance. Synz won't play his game, however, as he again takes center stage in the middle of the ring and again air guitars his little heart out - this time more intensely than before. The crowd eggs him on as Ned puts both his forearms on the top rope, leaning out toward the people and taking in their reaction. As uncharacteristic as it seems... Reform seems to be enjoying this display. He waits for Synz to finish, and then points to himself as if to say, "my turn?" Synz breaks out into applause and asks the crowd to encourage Ned to take part. They're less than enthusiastic, but The Philosopher King breaks out into a wide smile and moves into the middle portion of the ring!

DDK:

I don't believe this.

Reform positions both his arms at both the top and bottom of the "guitar"...

...before turning and using his air guitar to smash Synz over the head! As nonsensical as it may be... Synz falls down, holding his head as if he'd been hit. The crowd laughs as Ned sneers, pointing at the fool and shaking his head like a disappointed father.

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO!

DDK:

What are we watching right now?

Ned begins to put the boots to Nicky Synz, who tries to cover up as these shots actually hurt. Reform brings Synz up to his feet and into the corner, rocking him with a series of blistering chops to the chest. Reform whips Synz into the opposite corner and charges after him... but instead of colliding with the turnbuckle, Synz is able to leap up and off the turnbuckle, turning in mid-air to catch the charging doctor with a flying shoulder block!

Reform hits the ground and tumbles. Synz brings him back to his feet and sends him off the ropes before catching him with a big baaaaack body drop that gives Ned some serious air time. Synz fires up and rocks out as Ned decides rolling under the bottom rope and to the outside is the best course of action. Nicky tries to follow him out, but Brian Slater holds him back and instead begins a ten count. Ned milks the count, holding his lower back and using the guardrail for support. He snaps and threatens to slap a ringside fan. At the count of seven, Synz grows impatient. He gets a running start off the ropes and flies through the middle rope, looking to catch Ned Reform (who has his back turned to the ring) with a suicide dive - but at the last second, Reform moves! Synz collides with the guardrail!

DDK:

Big risk by Nicky Synz and it did not pay off.

Ned can't help but take a moment to smile at the crowd and point to his head reminding us of how smart he is. Reform grabs Synz by his long hair and tosses him under the bottom rope and back into the ring.

Lance:

This is where we've seen that Ned Reform, despite his bluster and bravado, can actually be quite dangerous.

Back inside the ring, Ned Reform positions his opponent's neck over the bottom rope before grabbing the top rope for support and standing on his back, driving Synz's neck into the rope. Slater begins a five count and Reform breaks the illegal hold at four. Nicky tries to take refuge by sitting in the corner, but The Good Doctor is right there to meet him with a Good Boot to his Good Face. Again, he holds his foot on Nicky's head until Slater gets to the count of four. Brain Slater begins to give Reform an earful about his cheating and Ned throws up his hands in innocence. While he does this, TA Cole takes the chance to reach into the ring and choke Synz on the bottom rope. He releases the chokehold just as Slater turns around. Ned again picks Synz up to his feet before dropping him with a bodyslam. Reform points to the top rope and smirks as the crowd lets him know exactly what they think of him.

DDK:

Speaking of high risk, Mr. Smarty Pants seems to think it's a good idea to head to the top rope...

The Sage on the Stage goes between the ropes and steps onto the ring apron. He again turns to the crowd and smirks as he takes a few steps to climb to the top rope. Just as he reaches the top and begins to position himself, Synz springs forward and reaches out with a hand to jostle the ropes - and Reform loses his footing and falls groin-first onto the nearby top rope! Synz climbs back to his feet and grabs the rope, bringing it up and down causing Ned to go up and down and up and down and up and down in a very painful way!

Lance:

Somehow I think this is not how someone as "dignified" as Ned Reform wants to be seen!

Reform topples over into the ring holding his little prized pupils and his eyes bugging out as Nicky Synz again hits the air guitar, firing up The Faithful in attendance! Synz brings The Good Doctor back to his feet... sit out jawbreaker! He waits for Reform to slowly climb back to his feet... running bulldog!

DDK:

Nicky Synz is firmly in control! We might be in for an upset here!

Reform takes refuge in the corner, but that's exactly what Nicky Synz wants. He takes position in the opposite corner and calls for his running knee finish... but that's when TA Cole jumps up onto the apron. Slater immediately moves in to intercept him and Synz assumes a defensive position. Cole throws his arms up, and as he does... he "discreetly" throws a small shiny object through the air, over Slater's head, and right in front of Reform. The camera zooms in on the object - it's the bulky class ring that Reform has used to win numerous times. The Good Doctor reaches down to grab it - but he's stopped by the foot of referee Brian Slater, who covers the ring with his shoe! Ned begins to protest his innocence while Slater leans down to pick it up. With Slater's back turned, however, TA Cole is able to grab Nicky Synz and drop down off the apron, hanging Synz's neck over the top rope. The rock star bounces backwards holding his neck... and that's the only opening Reform needs to lock on the Ad Homineum!

DDK:

AD HOMINEM! Ned Reform's version of the Crossface Chicken Wing!

Lance:

As many shortcuts as Ned Reform takes in the ring, he's proven time and time again to be an absolute master of that hold, and when he locks it in... it's likely over.

Synz's arms flail as he struggles... but Ned is able to fall back and grapevine the body with his legs... and that's all she wrote as Nicky has no choice but to tap.

DING DING DING

Ned holds on the hold for a little longer than necessary before releasing poor Nicky Synz. He allows Brain Slater to raise his hand in victory as he smiles and laughs in amusement at his victory while the crowd lets him have it.

DDK:

A win for Ned Reform here as he looks to DEFTv 171 and his match against Elise Ares, who with all due respect to Nicky Synz, will likely push him to his limits more than this contest.

GOLFING WITH JERRY

As the ref tends to Nicky Synz and TA Cole enters the ring, Reform gestures for a mic as his theme fades out. He pauses before he speaks, both catching his breath and giving the fans a chance to get their jeering out of their system.

Ned Reform:

...perhaps Mr. Synz should have stayed in school, hmmm?

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO!

Ned Reform:

But nevertheless. Some of you might be thinking to yourselves, "but why, Dr. Reform, do you appear to be in such a good mood after the scoundrels known as the Pop Culture Phenoms cheated their way to victory at DEFtv?" Actually... that's a fairly insightful question, and as I'm sure none of you have more than three brain cells to rub together to generate such an inquiry, it's doubtful any of you are thinking that. Nonetheless, I will address it.

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO!

Ned Reform:

I know that those of you who punch a timeclock and scrap by day by day in your miserable existence are not aware of this, but for those of us who have experienced even a modicum of success, we know that the key to thriving in this world is networking.

Reform grins.

Ned Reform:

I would like to tell you all about my close and personal friend, Jerry. Jerry is a successful man - a man who knows talent when he sees it. A man who I had the pleasure of getting to know late last year. A man whose children I had the honor to tutor. A man who makes it a point to get nine rounds of golf in with yours truly every time I am in town. A good friend, Jerry is. Jerry is also a member of the Favoured Saints board.

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO!

They can see where this is going.

Ned Reform:

And while Elise Ares "earned" the chance to face me at DEFtv 171, Jerry has agreed with me that what happened last week was a miscarriage of justice by every definition of the phrase. And so Jerry, in his infinite generous spirit and wisdom, has made some changes. Dr. Ned Reform will NOT be facing Elise Ares next week on DEFIANCE television.

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO!

Ned Reform;

Never fear, children! You will still be graced with the in-ring presence of the Sage on the Stage. But instead of singles competition, I will be teaming with Mr. Cole here...

Reform puts his arm over Cole's shoulder.

Ned Reform:

...when the Honor Society defeats The Saturday Night Specials to become the NEW Unified DEFIANCE tag team champions.

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO!

DDK:

Wait, what? Seriously? They aren't anywhere near the top of the rankings.

Lance:

There's going to be a lot of teams upset about this, Keebs. Not the least of which is The Lucky Sevens.

Ned Reform:

That's right! In seven days time, yours truly and Mr. Cole will defeat those belligerent drunkards to finally bring some prestige and dignity to the tag team championship. I look forward to serving you as ONE HALF of YOUR tag team champions!

Reform grabs TA Cole's hand and lifts it high into the air as The Honor Society's theme kicks back in and the fans shower the duo with jeers.

SOUR THE KRAUT

The front doors to Ballyhoo Brew fly open and The Saturday Night Specials, along with new manager “Bally Cat” Ophelia Sykes, walk into the bar. A cheer erupts from the tavern’s patrons upon seeing the tag team champions enter, and SNS responds by raising victorious fists up to them. As Pat Cassidy throws a friendly arm over Ophelia’s shoulder, Brock Newbludd takes a step ahead and reaches behind him to unsnap the tag team title belt wrapped around his waist.

Hoisting the belt up, Brock points out to the eager and excited customers.

Brock Newbludd:

BALLY!?

The Ballyhooligans:

HOOOOOO!!

Brock Newbludd:

The champs, baby! That’s who! Now, who wants to throw down and party with SNS tonight!?

Pat Cassidy pumps an approving fist as the riled-up locals let out a cheer. Turning his attention to the heart and soul of Ballyhoo Brew, the bar. Scanning the length of it, Pat locates Davey LaRue standing behind the bar and signals for him to throw over a few beverages. LaRue is quick to comply and expertly tosses Brock a bottle of beer. Newbludd snatches it out of the air just as Davey hurls two more bottles in Cassidy’s direction. Catching one right after another, Pat hands one of them to Ophelia before climbing up on top of the nearest table. Brock and Ophelia are quick to join Cassidy on top of the table. Clearing his throat, Cassidy raises his bottle up for a toast.

Pat Cassidy:

My esteemed scoundrels, I thought it might be a good idea to take a second to thank our very special Ace in the Hole...

Cassidy makes a grand gesture to the young lady to his left.

Pat Cassidy:

“Bally Cat” Ophelia Sykes!

Cassidy and Brock start a cheer, and the crowd despite any misgivings they might have about Ophelia, join in on the fun. Ophelia pretends to be modest and does a quick little curtsy.

Pat Cassidy:

We all had something to prove tonight, and with her help, we shoved all their tough talk right down Morrow’s goons throats. And it led to a hissy fit of epic proportions to boot!

Slapping his partner on the back, the fired up Brock lifts his beer up high and addresses the jovial crowd.

Brock Newbludd:

And here’s to The Lucky Sevens! I take back my previous words when I called them Tom Morrow’s prize whores. That’s clearly not what they are. Whores know what to do when they’re put on their back. Max and Mason? Not so much. That’s two times now I’ve rolled one of them up and pinned them to the mat for the win. And both times they just take it like a bitch. So, my apologies, fellas! You’re not a couple of soulless whores. You guys are just your run-of-the-mill, every day, bitches. Here’s to ya, boys! Thanks for the roll-ups! BALLYHOO!

With that, the whole room toasts SNS’s rivals. Hopping off the tabletop, the champions and their manager work their way through the party people towards the bar. Reaching it, the trio each plop down on a barstool in front of LaRue.

Pat Cassidy:

David, my good man... where is Captain Sourpuss, anyway?

Davey looks confused.

Pat Cassidy:

My sister. I'm itching for a good "told ya so." It's been so long.

Davey jerks his thumb over at Siobhan, who is cleaning a glass and staring daggers through her brother. Pat grins and fires her a big thumbs up... but Ophelia puts her hands on his shoulder.

Ophelia Sykes:

Maybe you don't antagonize her tonight? I'm trying not to be the source of bad blood here. Besides, we won. Our actions can speak louder than words. Let's just celebrate.

Cassidy sighs.

Pat Cassidy: [begrudgingly]

Fine.

Sykes raises her eyebrows. Waits for her to meet his gaze.

Ophelia Sykes:

No. I mean... let's celebrate.

A beat. Now it's Pat's turn to raise his eyebrows.

Pat Cassidy:

Ohhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhhh. Yeah.

He turns to Brock.

Pat Cassidy:

You mind holding down the fort, buddy? I'm gonna go...

Cassidy thinks for the correct euphemism.

Pat Cassidy:

Bake a cake. NO! Check the oil. Storm the castle. Hit one to right field. Drive Ms. Daisy, you know what I mean? Hunt the white whale. Tip the ol' valet. Sour the kraut. Mow the lawn. Unclog the...

Ophelia Sykes:

Holy shit. Please just be an adult human man.

Newbludd raises an eyebrow and grins at the two.

Brock Newbludd:

Toss the salad?

Cassidy's mouth instantly shuts and the Bally Cat cocks her head to one side. Brock chuckles nervously and gives both of them cautious pats on the shoulder. He looks at Pat and winks.

Brock Newbludd:

I get it. Too soon. Listen, it sounds like you got alot of boxes to check. I'll take first shift, know what I mean?

Brock smoothly looks over to Siobhan but she's oblivious as she glares almost menacingly at Ophelia.

Brock Newbludd:

Or not. Anyways, you guys go have fun. Big win tonight. Big fuckin' win.

Cassidy and Brock share the kind of fist bump that only tag team partners can share. Cassidy puts an arm around Ophelia and flashes Brock a thumbs up. As they turn to leave... you'd have to be super perceptive to catch the glance and small smirk that Ophelia shoots over toward Siobhan. It was just half a second, really.

But Siobhan sure as hell caught it. So did Davey. And most importantly, so did Brock. Or at least he thinks he saw something. Taking a drink out of his beer, Brock watches his friend and manager leave. Concerned eyebrow raised, Newbludd turns his gaze to Siobhan.

Brock Newbludd:

Did anyone else...

Siobhan angrily throws her bar rag down to the floor and points a finger at Brock.

Siobhan Cassidy:

I sure as shit did. I think me and you...

She jerks a thumbs in Davey's direction.

Siobhan Cassidy:

...and him. We better keep an eye on her. I don't trust her one bit. Especially with my brother. Just promise me you'll keep an eye on him. No matter what.

Seeing the seriousness in her eyes, Brock thinks for a moment and nods his head.

Brock Newbludd:

You know I will. Just don't worry, alright?

Siobhan Cassidy:

I'll stop worrying when Ophelia Sykes is out of my life.

Picking the bar rag off the ground, Siobhan storms off and Brock sighs. Concern still etched on his face, Brock looks back to the exit that Pat and Ophelia just escaped through.

Brock Newbludd:

I hope you know what you're doing, buddy.

THEODORE CAIN vs. "CUNNING" CURT CUNNING

DDK:

Welcome back to more action here on UNCUT! Last week, we saw the Gulf Coast Connection combo of "Wingman" Titus Campbell and Crescent City Kid victorious in tag team action. Tonight, their third member Theodore Cain is in singles action momentarily!

Lance:

The Gulf Coast Connection are looking at putting some wins together to parlay this into future shots at gold. We'll see Theodore Cain in action next against the masked "Cunning" Curt Cunning of BRAZEN!

Lance:

Over the past weeks, we have examined the sometimes triumphant and often tumultuous 2016/2017 run of the Masked Violators in DEFIANCE Wrestling and saw how the spectre and dark influence of Lord Nigel Trickelbush dogged them all along the way, their respective careers seemingly intertwined.

Lance:

Welcome to UNCUT: UpClose, MV1! And welcome back to DEFIANCE.

Bright red mask stretching with his bright smile, #1 offers a curt nod.

MV1:

Thank you so much for having me, while I'm proud to be back I truly wish the circumstances were different.

The warm smile melts into something closer to melancholy.

Lance:

I understand you are set to make your in-ring return to DEFtv next week.

Another masked nod.

MV1:

I am! I am looking forward to getting back in front of the DEFIANCE Faithful, performing in front of some of the most fun, passionate fans in the world and testing myself against the very best in the sport. Like I said, I wish the circumstances were different... I wish I was competing in a tag team match with the greatest partner I've ever had. But that's clearly not possible. Not today.

Glancing down at the papers on his crossed-lap, Lance artfully finds his opening.

Lance:

I'd like to talk about why that isn't possible, if I can, and what brought us to today.

Still images from the stunning post-match moment at DEFCON 2022 scroll painfully across the screen. The MV1 window remains open in the top right corner of our screen as images of a plague doctor unmasking to reveal a more colorful lucha mask. MV1 offers an exhausted and confused Corvo Alpha a yellow wrestling mask of his own, a microphone pressed to MV1's lips. Another shot of Alpha's bewildered eyes, locked on the mask.

Lance:

You left DEF in Summer 2017... can I ask when and how you'd lost contact with MV2?

Pursing his lips and furrowing his brow, MV1 watches the still images as they scroll on his own monitor. It takes a moment for him to return his attention to the question at hand.

MV1:

Well... as you said, we'd left DEFIANCE, rather abruptly and bounced around some southern independents before a tour of Mexico presented itself. We were putting on great matches, really finding our groove again... we had two shows one Saturday afternoon in Mexico City. Outdoors, a really beautiful day, wonderful fans. We did the first show, no issues. Two had said he wanted to grab a beer before the second show. I personally wanted a pedicure, so we'd split up as we'd done a half dozen times on this leg... and he just never came back.

Lance:

Were you worried?

1 bristles.

MV1:

I wasn't. Not immediately. It wasn't the first time this had happened. Look... MV2 has never lived a "clean" life. He's struggled with demons for as long as I've known him. Whether it was drinking, drugs, or loose women, my friend has had his moments. But... this time was different... he just never turned back up. Days went by. We missed other bookings. Then I got concerned.

Lance:

And when was this?

MV1:

April 2018. I stayed in Mexico for another six months looking for him. I couldn't imagine returning to the States and telling his family I'd lost him—

Lance raises an eyebrow.

Lance:

Family?

MV1 offers another nod, this one quite solemn.

MV1:

Yes. A daughter. And a cat. I stayed in Mexico, searching, for as long as my work visa allowed. I was devastated when I had to come home. Without him. We... we all were.

Lance:

When, and how, did you learn that he was back in DEFIANCE, working under the Corvo Alpha name?

Absently adjusting the mask on his face and head with both hands, MV1 shifts his weight in his chair.

MV1:

I never suspected he'd come back here. Honestly, he wasn't the one who caught my attention. It was Nigel.

Lance:

Lord Nigel Trickelbush?

MV1 takes a long slow breath with a cleansing exhalation.

MV1:

The same. I'd heard he had resurfaced. It was a morbid curiosity that led me to turn on DEFtv. There was some bizarre promo profiling the arrival of a "Corvo Alpha"--

The words are clearly uncomfortable coming from his lips.

MV1:

--and I knew. I didn't have to see him. I knew.

Lance:

How?

MV1:

I... don't know. I know it doesn't make sense. But it's the truth.

Still shots of Corvo's arrival at DEFIANCE Road 2022 scroll brutally across our screen. MV1 narrows his eyes at his playback monitor.

MV1:

...I've only seen this once.

A still shot of Corvo rising from the rubble of Henry Keyes' then-shattered body and a mass of broken sound and lighting equipment. MV1 turns away, staring down his camera.

MV1:

I knew. But I had to get close. I had to be sure, for his daughter... and for me. And knowing that Trickelbush was involved, I had to move quickly and quietly, without arousing any suspicion. I'd seen what he did to Henry Keyes that night and felt a tremendous amount of guilt... so I did what anyone would do in that situation and secured passage on Keyes' airship as a junior Plague Doctor. I lent a hand aboard as much as I could, but my true purpose was to get close enough to be absolutely sure and, if I could, remind Two who he was.

Lance:

There's... a lot to unpack there. I have a lot of questions--

Raising a hand, MV1 cuts Lance off.

MV1:

The point is, I got close enough. I confronted him. And it wasn't enough. I counted Trickelbush out and paid the price for it. That's a mistake that I won't make again.

We cut to a full screen of MV1 with Lance in the corner box.

MV1:

I don't know exactly what Trickelbush did to him, but I'm determined to help him and bring him home. I owe that to him and more.

Lance:

Your "old friend" has put more top stars on the shelf than any other performer in recent memory, most recently

breaking the neck of former FIST of DEFIANCE, Jason “Stalker” Reeves. It seems that your arrival in DEFIANCE has broken Lord Nigel’s hold on Alpha, as if Trickelbush can’t even control him anymore. Is this... a positive development?

Another deep breath from the Red Rocket of DEFIANCE.

MV1:

Anything that takes Two away from Trickelbush is a positive development. I’ve been trying to get on television as much as possible since Houston, hoping he’ll see me, he’ll hear me... and he’ll let me help him! I’m going to be in Mississippi next week at DEFtv 171, Two! I’m on the road with DEFIANCE. Let me help you!

Lance:

And what about Lord Nigel? He’s been uncharacteristically quiet since failing to stop Corvo from breaking Stalker in half almost a month ago. Are you at all concerned that–

MV1:

Lord Nigel should be concerned about seeing ME, Lance. I hope he makes the drive to Hattiesburg. I won’t make the same mistake I made at DEFCON. He won’t get a chance to nail me from behind because I... am coming... for him. I said at the beginning of this interview that I re-signed with DEFIANCE to save my friend, and gosh darn it, that’s the truth. But I *also* came back to finish what we couldn’t finish 5 years ago... I’m going to rid this business of the blight that is Lord Nigel Trickelbush so he can never ruin anyone else’s life ever again.

Lance:

How can you–

MV1:

MV2, if you can hear me... come to Mississippi next week! TALK to me! I can help you!

Lance takes a breath and interjects himself.

Lance:

Masked Violator #1, thank you again for coming on our program. I wish you luck. In all of your efforts.

MV1 nods again.

MV1:

Thank you, Lance. See you at DEFtv! See you, too, Nigel.

Lance tosses out a nod of his own and turns back to a different camera.

Lance:

We are out of time for now. Join us in two weeks when we get UNCUT: UpClose with another edition of... the MV Story.

One more god awful nod as we fade out.

THE LUCKY SEVENS vs. THE LOUISIANA BULLDOGS

Now the show is back to ringside with Darren Quimbey and Lance Warner.

Lance:

I think DEFIANCE Wrestling is still reeling from the news of Gage Blackwood. The Lucky Sevens were the ones that attacked Gage Blackwood following DEFCON Night Two! They aren't answering questions as to why they did it; it was only revealed after they went ballistic. After their loss to the Saturday Night Specials, they destroyed our ring, they once again injured DEFSec members without any regard for anyone's well being and revealed they injured Gage.

DDK:

I understand what the Louisiana Bulldogs want out of tonight's match. They want that big win ... they've fallen twice previously to the Lucky Sevens but I haven't seen them more dangerous than I did last week when Ophelia Sykes ... their own ex-manager ... cost them that matchup.
