MY SIGN GOT CUT O—

An even bigger pop. Wow, okay.

Malak Garland:

I purposely got this DEFtv scheduled right here in the center of the universe, my luscious hometown of CHEYENNE, WYOMING-

BIG POP!

Malak Garland:

Right after I crushed Pat Cassidy's skull, retired his ass, divorced his sister, retained my belt, got this cool new scar above my eye and became the baddest champion in company history because I KNEW this place would be [EXPLETIVE] LiT!!!

They are losing their minds.

Malak Garland:

In reality, you know, THE REAL REALITY and not the fake one everyone else seems to live in but the real one dictates that I am INDEED THE GOOD GUY!

The fans can't disagree. They cheer even louder.

Malak Garland:

I've done it all. I've beaten everyone to retain my belt as champion. This reign has now officially gained some weight to it.

DDK:

Side note for the television audience tuned in at home, Malak has not beaten everyone. That's fake news!

Malak Garland:

And seeing that I am the hero and I slayed every challenger, this means I will now usher in a new era of epicness that has never been seen before. I know it's easy for all you people here tonight to cheer me. I get it. It's not lost on me that we're in Wyoming but let me get this straight. Without a doubt, I am the good guy and, therefore, by the start of next year, I guarantee that WHEREVER I go, I will be cheered. The other towns will soon not have a choice in the matter but to provide their unwavering support TO ME!

RRRAAAHHH!

Malak Garland:

For I am the representative of the very best of this company. I am no longer the Malak Mirage. I am the Malak Mystique!

Lance:

Buzz word central over here. What else is new?

Malak Garland:

I can't wait for all the fans around the globe to start cheering and chanting my name for I am he. He is me.

MALAK! MALAK! MALAK!

MALAK! MALAK! MALAK!

MALAK! MALAK! MALAK!

Garland basks in the moment before continuing.

Malak Garland:

This is why I came out here alone, tonight. To prove that I got here on my own and, therefore, I deserve to take all the credit. I am the singular best entity DEFIANCE has ever seen. The single best. Full stop. Lots to unpack with that statement because after I walked out of ACTS of DEFIANCE as champion, I had many people come up to me and ask what was next. You want to know the answer I gave them? I said to them that nothing was next because I've done it all! I am still the champion! It's time to rest on my laurels!

A "rest on your laurels" clap-clap, clap-clap-clap chant naturally breaks out, followed by a "you deserve it" chant. Malak wipes the glint away from his tear ducts.

Malak Garland:

You fans are the greatest. Thank you. I can't believe what we've kicked off here tonight and what will surely carry on with future events DEFIANCE holds. Everyone will cheer me. Slam dunk. Guarantee.

Garland shoots a wink over to his large family gathering ringside.

Malak Garland:

So seeing that I'm a champion without a challenger and that I've done it all, I feel like I've earned THE RIGHT to sit here and take pot shots at a locker room that, quite frankly, is full of sucky babies not including myself.

Lance:

Who is he kidding!?

Malak Garland:

Like, okay, I don't want to ruffle any feathers when I say this but I've noticed how soft the roster has become. Let's name some random trash panda clowns like Dan Ryan, Rezin, Corvo Alpha, MP1, Ed White, heck, even the Fuse Bros can't hold a candle to my frostiness. They are all titty tip nip sucklers!

DDK:

Two things real quick. Firstly, Malak just named some pretty heavy hitters in that bunch. Former champions at that and secondly, even if the roster was soft, which it isn't, I don't think it would be ideal for Malak to shine a light on something like that during his title reign. Reflects poorly on him!

Lance:

He doesn't care, Darren. Look at him. The fame has gone straight to his head! He thinks he is an enlightened chakra spirit!

Malak Garland:

So I don't think I'll have a challenger waiting for me in the near future and that's okay! I think I might take this cycle off anyways. I could use a break, HOWEVER, if by some miracle a singular foe awaits me at the end of the "road," you can make damn well sure that I will DEFY and overcome them. After all, I have the capacity to ruminate freely on anything now that I'm the longest reigning personal bonafide champion.

DDK:

What does that even mean?

Malak lowers the microphone and can't believe the crowd is still backing him. He's loving it.

Malak Garland:

Who wants to see me get enhanced!?

RAHHHHHHHHH!

Malak Garland:

Mark Shields! I'm feeling frisky! Get down here IMMEDIATELY! Favored Saints, send me a lob ball so I can unpack on them in front of my hometown crowd! Give me a bump champ RIGHT NOW!

Mark looks visibly shaken.

Mark Shields:

Malak, Malak!

Mark is out of breath as he pants. He needs a cigarette.

Mark Shields:

I'm not late. Shit no. I was on time for once but I was just held back by one of the executive members of the Favored Saints.

He stops to get a breath.

Malak Garland:

And? Hock tuah, spit it out. My rizz be draining.

Mark Shields:

Well, champ, they, they said you can have your match tonight but it's going to be for the FIST!

DDK:

The FIST is on the line!?

A gasp rifles through the arena.

Mark Shields:

And and and, they didn't take kindly to what you just said, specifically you calling out the entire locker room so they told me to tell you and everyone else here tonight that if you happen to retain your belt, you'll be competing in a first ever RUMINATION CHAMBER match at DEF ROAD that will feature MULTIPLE competitors! EIGHT TOTAL, TO BE EXACT! I- I tried to stop them but they blackmailed me with cocaine! I was defenseless!

DDK:

I HIGHLY doubt that.

Malak's eyes grow wider than the big sky of Wyoming during a sinfully beautiful summer's day.

Lance:

A FIST MATCH RIGHT NOW! A RUMINATION CHAMBER MATCH AT DEFIANCE ROAD!? I don't even know what that is but Malak is reaping what he sows!

DDK:

IT WON'T BE A SINGULAR CHALLENGE NEXT UP FOR MALAK. IT'S GOING TO BE THE WHOLE ENTIRE LOT OF PRO WRESTLERS COMING AFTER HIS BELT NEXT!

A double feature replay shows Malak lifting a shoulder off the canvas at the last possible moment. Mark Shields also pulls his arm from hitting the mat for a third time no more than a fraction of an inch from the canvas.

DDK:

No, Malak kicked out at two! I can't believe what's going on! Malak starts the show out with a king's reception, says he needs a break and then not only gets into this match for the FIST but also the Favored Saints have announced some sort of multiman battle for the title at DEFROAD!

Lance:

Not just any multiman match, a RUMINATION CHAMBER! I can't wait for details!

Enraged but also disoriented, Malak gets to his feet and pushes CCK away. The New Orleans fury rushes the champ but is met with a clothesline! Garland tosses CCK with a fallaway slam and then runs his challenger over with a pair of I TRIGGERS! Malak covers, blatantly snatching the tights in front of Mark Shields who still looks extremely worried.

Malak Garland:

Hold on a second!

The Cheyenne Faithful boo mercilessly as Malak Garland relocates to the center of the ring for safety purposes.

Lance:

It's the ACE of DEFIANCE.

Tyler Fuse appears and immediately marches to the ring, ACE in his left hand and staring down the FIST of DEFIANCE with a stone cold glare. Malak, who's back inside the squared circle, tries to hide in plain view but obviously that's not possible.

Fuse rolls under the bottom rope, pops up and stands directly in front of Malak as his theme dies down but the boos do not.

The OG Player smirks. He reveals a mic in his back pocket but gives Garland a heavy look over before raising the mic to his face.

Tyler Fuse:

The Faithful are shocked, providing a strong OHHHHH in response. Malak, on the other hand, staggers back two steps and looks like he's going to piss himself. Literally. He's clutching his crotch.

Fuse finds it entertaining. He looks down at his ACE, over to Malak's FIST... and then pie faces Malak, who takes another step backwards.

BBBBBBBBBBBBBBBBBOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO.

Another pie face.

Tyler Fuse:

Don't worry, Garland. I'm not going to hurt you... yet. I just wanna talk, man-to-toddler.

By now, Tyler has physically imposed his will and walked Malak into a corner of the ring.

Tyler winks.

Tyler Fuse:

On your first DEFtv as champion you wanted to run away because this was too much pressure... and now you're claiming you want to be the FACE of DEFIANCE?

The crowd cheers, they love the idea!

Tyler Fuse:

Tyler drops the ACE to the canvas, so he can bring his free hand up to Garland's head and tussle his hair sarcastically. Malak is at Tyler's mercy, quivering with anxiety.

Tyler Fuse:

I'm going to promise you something and I want you to listen to me, loud and clear. When I am done with you... when I am HONESTLY done with you, Garland... and this goes WELL beyond just taking the FIST from you... when I am OFFICIALLY god damn done with you, bud, I'm going to make your dreams come true!

Fuse removes his hand from Malak's head. For a second there, it looks like the champion is buying into what Tyler is saying. His dreams will come true! Yeah. Yeah! YEAH, Malak's cool with that-

Tyler Fuse:

Fuse points to the champion and the Wyoming Faithful cheer.

We cut over to Downtown Darren Keebler and Lance Warner sitting behind the commentating station.

DDK:

So as we move on here, we've got some exciting new- wait a tick.

Keebler listens to someone in his earpiece for a moment.

DDK:

Folks, I'm told we've got something particularly violent developing backstage.

Lance:

Do we have cameras back there, anybody in production, come on. There we go.

As we cut away from the commentary booth and shift to the handheld backstage camera clamoring upon the scene, we're immediately greeted with a chair whizzing right past the cameraman's head. As the camera focuses on the mob, we see most of it. Wyatt Bronson and his DEF security team are all trying desperately to hold back one man we're collectively unsurprised is the central catalyst of this wild locker room disruption.

With veins popping out of his neck and spittle flying from under his bushy handlebar mustache the Bombastic Bronson Box finds himself in a familiar position.

Bronson Box:

WHERE IS HE?! WHERE IS THE LITTLE REPROBATE?!

He pushes against the many pairs of hands trying to hold him back from storming any further down the hallway. He full on punches several guys and lands a sickening headbutt across another's nose, blood immediately pouring both from the man's nose and a small contusion on Box's forehead. His wild bloodshot brown eyes are wide as dinner plates as he scans his surroundings like some sort of predator hunting prey in a jungle somewhere.

Bronson Box:

I'LL KILL THE LITTLE BASTARD ALL OVER AGAIN! GET OFF ME, YOU BLOODY PRICKS!

It's about this moment we see an exhausted looking Angus Skaaland just an arms length from the fray doing his best to shout to his client over the din.

Angus Skaaland:

Boxy, baby, PLEASE calm the fuck down, bud!

He shakes his head, talking quietly to himself now.

Angus Skaaland:

Eric Dane, this maniac... what's wrong with me? Am I a magnet for sociopaths?

His internal train of thought is lost as he JUST ducks under another piece of thrown furniture.

Angus Skaaland:

HEY, GOD DAMNIT! WOULD YOU GORRAM CHILL?! FUCK!

The intensity and volume of the scene are instantly reduced to nil as a single voice cuts through the packed hallway like a knife.

"OYE, BALLBAG!"

Gage Blackwood stands with his arms crossed over his chest and a cheeky smile on his face.

Gage Blackwood:

You lookin' for me, partner?

The two Scotsmens eyes meet and that's pretty much it. Gage wastes zero time launching himself at the writhing pile of humanity getting enough distance on his jump to land almost in Bronson Box's arms. The two men tear into each other not with fists but fingernails and goddamn teeth. They both without hesitation go directly for the jugular. Wyatt and his DEF security teams are joined by referees Brian Slater, Benny Doyle, Hector Navarro and Carla Ferrari in trying desperately to break these two bloodthirsty titans apart before they kill one another.

Frothing at the mouth and held back by Skaaland and at least four or five others Boxer hollers down the hallway like some sort of crazed beast as they drag him away.

Bronson Box:

YOU AIN'T CAYLE! YOU AIN'T ANDY! YOU'RE A GRAINY COPY OF A COPY OF SOMETHIN' SPECIAL, YA' UNORIGINAL PRICK! WHEN I GET MY HANDS ON YOU IT AIN'T GONNA' BE SOME BLOODY STARMAKIN' MOMENT, SUNSHINE! IT'S GONNA' BE A FOOKIN' MURDER!

The rest of the mob stands arms outstretched holding Gage back. They do so less furiously but with no less intensity as Gage looks primed and ready to take yet another flying leap over the crowd to lock horns with his one time former tag team partner once again.

Gage Blackwood:

YE' KNEW TIS WAS COMIN'!!!!

As the two men are slowly pulled in opposite directions down the hallway we cut back to Darren and Lance out at the commentation station.

Lance:

Jesus.

DDK:

I haven't seen The Wargod that unhinged in years, partner.

Lance:

He mentioned the Murray brothers there. For newer fans not in the know Andy and especially his younger brother Cayle Murray were two of Bronson's longest tenured and bloodiest adversaries dating back to their days on the British indie scene at the onset of their careers.

DDK:

A feud that rolled over into their time here in DEF... Boxer's blood feud and ultimate loss to Cayle in a now classic no holds barred no ropes match, some say defined Bronson's career. Even in loss he wears that feud, that memory, that loss like a badge of honor.

Lance:

Seems like he looks at Gage as some sort of living "insult" to that memory.

DDK:

God knows what the Original DEFIANT is cooking up for Gage on the DEFroad, partner.

Lance:

Scottish Warfare 2.0, commence!

DDK:

DR. AYUMI SATO'S HALLOWEEN BASH!

Suddenly, DEFtv gives way to static, until we find ourselves standing in front of a well in grayscale.

An unsettling, cacophonous din fills the air, as various “glitches” occur, changing the scenery temporarily. Then... a figure slowly rises from the well.

A feminine figure, draped only in a long white dress, long tresses of black covering her entire front, including her face. She slowly climbs out of the well, until she now stands in front of it, smoldering in anger and fright.

Then... she slowly walks towards us. We start to feel like we've seen this before. You haven't been watching any cursed video tapes lately, have you?

Closer. Closer. Before long, she stands directly in front of us, her long black hair the only thing on our screens, as it slightly rustles. A low growl fills the air... then, her hair parts, revealing a familiar, evil face...

...or should I say... EVIL~!

“GREETINGS, PUNY MORTALS!!!”

With a cackle and a grin, the scary onryo reveals herself to be none other than DEFIANCE's resident Mad Science Queen herself, Dr. Ayumi Sato!

Dr. Ayumi Sato:

...oh, goodness, the door...

She hurriedly power-walks to the door of her mobile backstage laboratory and dramatically pushes it open, calling out to the throng of costumed DEFIANTS all gathered and waiting.

Dr. Ayumi Sato:

GREETINGS, TREASURED GUESTS!!! Dr. Ayumi Sato's Halloween Bash... HAS BEGUN!

The throng of DEFIANTS all hoot and holler, making their way in through the standalone door into Dr. Sato's mobile lab, outfitted for tonight's festivities. Gliding into the shot is an oddly smiling Lord Nigel Trickelbush. Wearing a weathered brown fedora and matching corduroy blazer, the martini glass in his hand looks somewhat out of place. Beaming, he greets the hostess with a reverent bow, his beady gray eyes never leaving her, studying her.

Lord Nigel Trickelbush:

Good evening, fair doctor! I do not believe we've shared the pleasure.

He plants a dry pair of leathery lips on the top of her right hand, a kiss such as it is. The scientist visibly cringes, and a pair of costumed partygoers seemingly rush into frame, only to be held back with Dr. Sato's free arm.

Lord Nigel Trickelbush:

Lord Nigel Trickelbush of Fannyshire. But please. Do call me Nigel.

The Atomic Punks stand behind their manager; Fission, dressed as Astro Boy, all the way down to those two funky cowlicks, visibly seethes, while Gigaton, in a wrestling singlet and bald cap, looking like Strong Mad, hold him by the shoulders to keep him from running loose.

Gigaton:

WAIT. FISSION.

Dr. Ayumi Sato:

...charmed.

She says this with a very obvious tint of displeasure in her voice, as Nigel coolly saunters away.

Nicky Synz is dressed as Alice Cooper and looks up at The Gulf Coast Connection with Wingman Titus Campbell, Theodore Cain and Crescent City Kid all dressed up in Mardi Gras jester hats and masks.

Nicky Synz:

Guys, get a load of Nigel going as Nigel. Original!

Lord Nigel Trickelbush:

Yes, well, I must admit I only just heard about these festivities. Hence, my blatant lack of costumery. I do hope you'll forgive this transgression. You must understand... me only just having returned to DEFIANCE... you can't blame a man such as myself for wanting to know what passed as a MONSTER these days.

Standing in one corner appears to be Travis Bickle of Taxi Driver fame...

Then the camera pans closer and it is in fact, Butcher Victorious!

Standing next to him is Punch Drunk Purcell of The Lads, dressed up as King Hippo from Mike Tyson's Punch-Out, complete with dark purple boxing shorts, boots, a crown and two bandages in a "X" around his belly-button.

Butcher Victorious:

BUTCH VIC HAS THE STICK...

He then takes a drink of punch -- presumably spiked. Then hands the cup over to Punchy.

Butcher Victorious:

AND BUTCH VIC IS READY TO GET LIT!

Punch Drunk Purcell:

That makes two of us, guy.

Punchy and Butcher both take drinks and finish off the cups in quick fashion.

Butcher Victorious:

Punch Drunk Purcell:

Thanks. It was nice to send the Blood Diamonds crying back home. Ed's pissin' his Pampers thinking twice before he comes at us again.

Fission, in his Astro Boy get up, smiles at the Lads and chuckles.

Fission:

Butcher Victorious:

Oh, yeah, seeing you put him and Katze in their places was a hoot! Hey... where's Dex?

The Brick Hithouse finishes his drink.

Punch Drunk Purcell:

Said he was working on his costume? I kept telling him he better be here. We got the night off tonight and I think we're gonna enjoy it. Figure out what's next for us as a team.

No sooner does Punchy finish his sentence when the doors burst open to reveal "The Biggest Boy" Dex Joy dressed up as Chris Farley from "Tommy Boy"! He is wearing a blue and yellow striped shirt with a short coat over his large body.

Dex Joy:

BIGGEST BOY IN LITTLE COAT! BIGGEST BOY IN LITTLE COAT!

The room save Nigel Trickelbush erupts with laughter!

Dex Joy:

WHERE'S THE FOOD? DEXY WANT WINGY!

Punchy and Dex jump and bump chests together.

Punch Drunk Purcell:

Over there! Let's go!

The camera follows Dex and Punch over to the catering table, where a man wearing a mask of injured DEFIANCE star Jack Harmen stands, scarfing down sandwiches. Dex does a double take but the man just places a finger over his mouth, pointing to the free food. Dex nods.

Behind Dex, the door opens once more... and a man pokes his head in. Oddly, this man doesn't appear to be wearing a costume. He appears, in fact, to be your standard middle-class white dude: khaki pants, polo shirt, haircut you could set your watch by. There's something oddly familiar about him but nobody can quite put their finger on it. He does a dorky little wave before stepping fully into the room.

Hello. Is this the party?

Dr. Ayumi Sato:

♪ "World On Fire" by Corrosion of Conformity ♪

Red and green lights fill the arena! Walking towards the ring, Mason Luck wears new white trunks with playing card patterns, along with a black vest! Behind him, Max Luck holds up his portion of the Tag Party Six trophy! Lonnie Luck is the last to follow, feeding off the response of the fans.

Darren Quimbey:

And his opponent, representing the Lucky Sevens! Accompanied by Lonnie Luck and Tag Party Six winner Max Luck ... He is "The Maim Event Monster" ... MAAAAAASSOOOOON LUCCCCCKKK!!!

DDK:

What a match we are about to see! The rumors were this match was made because Madam Melton was furious that Max Luck and Rowzilla aka The Triple Sevens eliminated JJ Dixon and Nick "Lotto" Otto from the annual competition!

Lance:

MP1 is in a very dangerous place these days, but Mason Luck is seven feet tall and that's not something that can be taught!

Mason Luck steps into the ring where he and MP1 meet in the middle. Outside, a very angry Madam Melton watches Max Luck laugh as he waves the trophy around. Lonnie Luck just looks up to see where Lord Nigel Trickelbush is sitting. The bell rings.

DING DING

The Maim Event Monster wants to maim the Masked Marvel, but Melton's Most Precious 1 evades an early clothesline and he kicks his leg. MP1 kicks the leg a second time and then moves under a big swing from Mason to kick the leg a third time. He tries to shoot the leg on the seven foot Sin City monster, but Mason grabs his waist first and then hurls MP1 across the ring in a big show of strength. Melton can't believe it and even Lord Nigel looks concerned, sitting up straight in his chair.

Lance:

MP1 tried going low on the monster and he got thrown high!

DDK:

Understatement of the year! Now Mason is going after MP1 in the corner.

Mason wraps a hand around the head of MP1 and runs his face right into the top turnbuckle pad. The Most Precious 1 has no idea where he is. Mason holds his hands out and then chops him four separate times right in the chest!

DDK:

Four of a Kind! I'd say he's got a pretty good hand, don't you, Lance?

Lance:

MP1 just found that out first hand!

Melton can't help but look worried by MP1 getting picked up by one arm out of the corner, spun like a roulette wheel and then dropped with a one-armed side walk slam. Mason hooks a leg.

One ...

Two ...

No!

Melton breathes a little easier knowing that MP1 has survived for the moment, but Mason continues. He swings his hand and gets ready to fight but sees Melton trying to distract the ref. Mason steps by the ropes and tells her to back off.

DDK:

The Lucks had Tom Morrow at their side for years doing the same thing. They know these tricks.

Mason sees MP1 getting up with the ropes. Mason wants to kick the mask off his face with a big boot but MP1 evades the kick and Mason's right leg gets caught over the top rope leaving his left leg wide open to take a chop block from the Most Precious 1!

DDK:

Madam Melton's distraction worked! MP1 finally gets the chance he needed to turn this around on the seven footer!

The Maim Event Monster is hobbling on the knee barely but MP1 finishes the job he started with a drop kick aimed at the same leg. Mason is reeling but a dragon screw finishes the job and with that, Mason has been grounded!

Lance:

MP1 is illustrating his persistent technical acumen. This is a man who started training for fourteen hours a day at the age of sixteen. His determination and doggedness eventually earned him a place in this business when he took on the masks of the Violators and was paired with his "number two", the man we now know as Corvo Alpha.

DDK:

He certainly knows how to target and pick his opponent apart!

-as MP1 starts working on Mason's leg; kicks, elbows & slamming it to the canvas.

Lance:

MP1 broke in as a tag team specialist. While certainly not as decorated as Mason & Max, MP1 has worked to assert himself as more of a singles wrestler since his return to DEFIANCE more than three years ago.

DDK:

It's safe to say he is far from the man he was when he first came back.

The camera finds Lord Nigel on the interview stage, reclined in the wooden chair. An eyebrow is theatrically arched.

Lance:

The same can easily be said for Mason & Max Luck! Think about their growth these last few years! And now with Lonnie in the mix! The future is bright!

MP1 bounds off the ropes and comes down with a knee onto Mason's own knee.

DDK:

...You sure about that?

Gritting his teeth, MP1 wrenches on Mason's leg, dragging the big man to the center of the ring before dropping an elbow on it and applying a tight hold. The crowd revolts as Mason Luck bellows out in discomfort.

Lonnie and Max slap the mat, urging Mason to fight. Across the ring, Melton prowls like a ravenous cat.

Lance:

On his back, Mason Luck doesn't look so tall, does he? If MP1 can keep him off his feet, keep Mason Luck on the canvas, then MP1 just may have a chance to come out on top!

Luck reaches out, stretching his long frame and nearly grabs the bottom rope before MP1 quickly identifies the threat and neutralizes it by releasing the leg lock and dropping a quick elbow across the back of Luck's head.

Frustrated, perhaps with himself, MP1 pulls Luck back to his feet. Luck throws an elbow low to MP1's proverbial breadbasket and MP1 tries to apply a side headlock to retain control.

DDK:

MP1 gets LIFTED in the air!! Luck POWERS him up and OVER!

Lance:

But MP1 lands on his feet, avoiding a monstrous suplex and undoubted disaster!

But Mason GRABS MP1 by the throat! MP1's eyes bulge out of his mask, his hands working woefully to free himself from Luck's grip.

DDK:

Will we see a chokeslam?! OHHH!

Lance:

MP1 JABS a kick at that knee of Mason Luck! Hold broken!

Bouncing off the ropes, then hitting the far set, MP1 chop-blocks the legs right out from under Mason Luck, who goes down in a heap once more.

Immediately, MP1 goes to apply a Figure Four.

Lance:

He once called this hold the Figure 1, Keeps! But look! Look at MP1's own knee brace and how it's ACTUALLY being used! He's got it acting as the fulcrum! He's doing MORE damage than a normal figure four might! That brace is of course legal... but the way he is using it... He is getting away with something there!

Max and Lonnie start slapping the mat once again and the Faithful join in. Glaring at the fans in confusion, MP1 cranes his head around - his focus faltering.

DDK:

LOOK! Mason TURNS IT OVER!! He's reversed the Figure 1!

Screaming in agony, MP1 scratches and claws for the ropes but seems to get nowhere. Melton wheels around the ring, finally getting in his line of sight. All of her beauty seems to fade as she screeches and screams unintelligible words of encouragement. Behind her, in the distance, the camera spots Lord Nigel rising to his feet, no doubt quite bothered by this turn of events.

Lance:

MP1 wants out of this in the worst way! Remember; he has had MULTIPLE surgeries on that knee! I don't know if his in-ring career can survive another!

Seemingly feeding off of the dissonant pitch and power of Melton's intonation, MP1 fights to reach the bottom rope – and when he does, Melton's manic panic turns into an unhinged delight.

DDK:

Mason Luck, forced to break that reversed Figure Four! You know that had to take a lot out of him! MP1 has targeted that specific lower extremity for the entirety of the match!

Lance:

But these fans, and his family at ringside, have WILLED the man back up to his feet! Listen to this ovation!

Embittered and annoyed, MP1 charges at Luck who SNATCHES MP1 up like a baby and PLANTS him with a COLOSSAL ONE-ARMED SIDEWALK SLAM!!

But did you see Mason's leg, Keebs? I think that knee might have buckled under the weight!

The camera sweeps the electric crowd slowly, finally coming to a rest at the Interview Stage, where Lord Nigel nervously kneads the fedora with both withered hands. His face is a rancorous scowl, gone is the plastic smile. The mask is off.

DDK:

Finally, some signs of life! Both men stirring! Both men struggling and pushing themselves up!

Luck uses the ropes to help find his footing, gingerly stepping on that wounded leg, shaking it out. Across the ring, MP1 uses the middle turnbuckle pad to help balance himself upright.

As long as you take it upon yourself and vow to go around checking things, making sure everything lines up perfectly for Malak, you will be back in his good graces in no time.

Bates plants his fingers to his chin in deep contemplation. His furrowed brow tells the story.

First order of business... OSCAR BURNS sends his regards to two people. The first, is to you, the OSCAR BURNS Faithful. He wishes he could be here tonight, but he's STILL recovering from his post-Acts of DEFIANCE victory celebration. To also be blunt... he wouldn't dare waste one of his contractually obligated dates in... pfft, Wyoming.

BOOOOOOOOOOO!

Mil and DLJ laugh behind him along with Bonita I y II.

Sonny Silver:

Second order of business... OSCAR also sends his overdue regards to a fellow Vae Victis comrade-in-arms. He's had a lot on his plate with people trying to steal his spot lately, but he doesn't foresee that being an issue any more. He's been keeping an eye on things since he came back a couple months ago. Kerry Kuroyama... OSCAR says hello and wants to catch up soon, friend.

Another former Vae Victis member, DLJ, smiles at the thought... but Mil seems less enthused behind him. Sonny doesn't notice, but when he puts an arm around The GLOAT, Mil grins again.

Sonny Silver:

And to the business at hand... What Mil Vueltas did in this ring was just another example of what the GC Universe can do for you! We reshape careers! We help people unlock their true potential! We help people get to where they need to go! And in the case of what OSCAR BURNS did to Elise Ares at ACTS of DEFIANCE... we put down the competition when they disrespect us!

BOOOOOOOOOOO!

Sonny Silver:

You people boo me, but how soon you forget history... Elise started this by ATTACKING OSCAR BURNS when she wasn't even on his radar. Let me repeat: She. Attacked. HIM. She came out here, crying her little heart out, pissing, moaning and bitching about being ignored, being as good as OSCAR, being a top name and wanting to be the FIST by next year or she'd take her ball and go home. She's come close... REAL close several times, but when she had the biggest match of her career at Acts of DEFIANCE and she came face to face with greatness... greatness nearly broke her in half and beat her so bad, nobody's heard from her! No excuses. No help from us. He just DID IT.

The boing persists but Sonny isn't done.

Sonny Silver:

And I've also been instructed to tell you now that OSCAR BURNS has moved on from Elise Ares, another lucky young punk is going to get the chance to come face-to-face with The Center of the GC Universe itself! Another unlucky victim looking to get famous will get a chance to step up just to lose to OSC...

Conor Fuse:

Hey man.

Ryan looks up, gives a slight nod, and goes back into his wrestling bag. However, it looks as though Conor intends to say more... but doesn't. He's simply standing there, attempting to find words.

The legendary Ryan doesn't need to look up to know exactly what Conor is trying to do.

Dan Ryan:

You can spit it out anytime now...

Despite the polite, albeit to-the-point manner of Ryan's voice, it catches Conor off guard. Fuse takes a small step backwards rather literally and also figuratively, becoming even more tongue tied.

Ryan continues to shuffle through his bag. Meanwhile, Conor is about to go on a full blown ramble.

A few moments pass, but then Dan's voice breaks the silence, surprising Conor.

Dan Ryan:

Brock Newbludd:

Third, and most importantly, you throw a load of your man's dirty clothes into the washer. Then, you head upstairs and meet me in Malak's room where I proceed to throw a load--

Zane reaches Brock and taps him on the shoulder, startling him and causing him to drop his phone. Looking over his shoulder to see Zane smiling at him, Newbludd gives her a mocking smile back and snatches his phone up. He holds a finger up to Zane as he puts it back to his ear.

Brock Newbludd:

Babe, I gotta go. You go tell Mort to get his ass to the barn because the new Southern Heritage Champion is coming over and he's gonna be ready to party.

Newbludd hangs up on Margot, stuffs his phone in his pocket, and looks at Zane.

JFK spots Dex Joy and walks over with his best Mikey impression.

JFK (as Mikey):

Heyyyy there Big Boy! I got a Hollywood Contract with your name on it! You're going to be huge, enormous, the next star on the Walk of Fame! Dex Joy.... THE FRANCHISE! You're going to make it baby, but you can only do it with me!

JFK looks back over his shoulder to see if Mikey is laughing. He is.

That one was for the long-time DEFIANTS.

Fission:

M4NTRA size up against Fission and Gigaton.

Makayla Namaste starts spritzing her mint and patchouli combination again.

Makayla Namaste:

Nathan Eye keeps on laughing.

Nathan Eye:

Let's go guys! My books can do everything but cure illiteracy. These pearls are wasted on ... whatever these things are. Don't bother trying to pre-order Thirty Pages of Gold!

DEC4L:

For all of you... it's sold out.

M4NTRA leave the party through the nearest exit and keep laughing all the way down the hallway.

A long, drawn-out pause fills the air, as Gigaton looks around and groans. Dr. Sato shakes her head and joins in the groaning.

Dr. Ayumi Sato:

Another pause, thankfully not as long as last time.

Dr. Ayumi Sato:

Cut to Backstage.

Cyrus Bates rounds a corner, moving with purpose, when a familiar voice catches his attention. He stops and hears Iris Davine's scolding tone drifting down the hall. The camera rack focuses over Bates' shoulder, zooming in on DEFmed at the end of the corridor. The door left slightly ajar, allowing Iris' dressing down to carry down the hallway.

Iris Davine:

I told you, reunion or not ... you shouldn't have entered the Tag Party. You were banged up enough as it was. You just can't help yourself, can you!?

A new voice drifts down the hall and well into Bates' earshot.

Scott Douglas: [stifling a laugh]

You know I can't.

Iris flips through a medical chart with several papers, reviewing the information provided as she continues to browbeat her patient; Scott Douglas. She knows him well enough to know she is mostly talking to herself and any attempt to knock some sense into him is useless. Otherwise, someone would have done it by now... but it makes her feel better to give him hell.

Iris Davine:

You couldn't take even a few weeks off after what Cortez put you through? Oh, no ... let's get the team back together! You and Kerry had to bend the rules just to be there!

Scott Douglas: [jokingly]

Yeah ... but it was pretty cool though, wasn't it?

Douglas attempts to smooth things over with levity, trying to brush off her concern, but Iris remains unwavering. Intrigued, Bates' expression shifts, a smirk tugging at the corner of his mouth as a plan begins to form.

Light bulb.

Bates makes his way down the hall, his smirk widening as he approaches DEFmed. The camera follows close behind and he pauses outside the door, listening.

Iris Davine: [exasperated]

Fine, make a joke out of it if you want, Scott. But you're not invincible ... what could have been minor injuries ... you risked making them serious life-changing conditions. I don't like what I'm seein' here. Especially considering, somehow ... every --

Iris waves the chart in Douglas' face but he just shrugs and gives her a smile hoping to get her to break and put an end to this lecture.

Before that can happen, Bates makes his presence known. He pushes open the door, sauntering in without a second thought, cutting off Iris mid-sentence.

Cyrus Bates:

Well, well, if it isn't Scott Douglas. Didn't realize you were so... banged up. Guess that explains why you've been ducking out lately.

Douglas's expression shifts, catching Bates' gaze head-on, his relaxed demeanor vanishing instantly.

Scott Douglas:

You lost, Bates?

Cyrus Bates: [grinning]

No, not at all. Just thought maybe you'd make a good tune-up for Malak. You know, see if you've really been able to shake off the ring rust since your "triumphant" return ...

Douglas narrows his eyes, standing and approaching Cyrus as Iris watches, unimpressed by Bates' antics.

Cyrus Bates:

Whoa, whoa ... slow down their, Scotty.

Cyrus puts his hands up to back Douglas off.

Cyrus Bates:

Sure, you came back hot. Got yourself a win or two ... but as of lately; Cortez took you to the woodshed and ...

Cyrus looks toward Iris.

Cyrus Bates:

... and how'd Tag Party go?

Douglas has had enough. He closes the gap between them, stepping up to Bates.

Scott Douglas:

You want a match, Bates? ... You've got it.

Douglas and Bates stare at one another. Bates with a grin, Douglas with a scowl as Iris, who lets out a long sigh.

Iris Davine:

As I was about to say... everything looks great. I don't know how but you're probably in the best shape you've been since you got back.

Douglas and Bates trade expressions in an instant. Now it's Douglas with the smirk, while Bates, caught off guard, scowls in frustration.

Cyrus Bates:

Alright ... alright. DEFCON, then.

Scott Douglas:

Whenever you want, Bates. We can go right now, next week ... whatever you want.

Cyrus Bates:

Oh, no - no. I've got to do my due diligence first. I'm not so sure a medical assessment done by your girlfriend is enough to prove you are of the QUALITY to even be evaluated in the ring by THE Quality Control Officer ... so how about next week you take on Thurston Hunter and I'll give my own assessment.

Scott Douglas: [scoffing]

Fine... I suggest you take notes!

Bates glances at Iris, fakes a quick smile, and then shoots Douglas one last glare before backing toward the door. He doesn't turn his back until he's almost out, letting his smugness drop just long enough to reveal his frustration.

Iris Davine: [to Scott]

... don't go thinking you're invincible. You got lucky ... lucks gonna run out, Scott!

After the conclusion to a strange Halloween evening of festivities, and the unexpected confrontation of Cyrus Bates and Scott Douglas, I'm told we have an in-ring announcement up next.

Up next on the show tonight, we've got a budding grudge that escalated in a big way after Tag Party VI last week! Butcher Victorious goes one-on-one with "The Pretty Powerful" Titaness!

Lance:

This all started on UNCUT a couple weeks ago! Titaness tried to attack BRAZEN star "Mellow Yellow" George Othello after her victory, only for Butcher to run out and stop the attack. Titaness would retaliate in a BIG way, attacking Butcher Victorious with and BRAZEN reporter and co-host SuperDEFFan64, during their hosting duties of last weekend's Tag Party VI event, won by Max Luck and Rowzilla!

DDK:

A hefty fine was lobbied at Titaness, which she paid promptly, for attacking SuperDEFFan64, who is a member of DEFIANCE staff and not an active competitor. Suspension was also considered, but Butcher went to management and asked for tonight's match instead and that request was granted! With that out of the way, let's get to the action now!

The sight of Brock being ganged upon by Reform's understudies breaks the crowd out of their dumbstruck trance. The heat is borderline radioactive as they put the boots to him, medium-style, from all angles. At ringside, TA Black is cackling in delight.

DDK:

This was all a trap! No doubt orchestrated by that poor excuse of a "doctor"!

Lance:

And Pat Cassidy is unfortunately at home tonight, after re aggravating a bicep injury over the course of his match against Malak at Acts!

TA Black scales the steps and casually enters the ring. Official Carla Ferrari, fecklessly trying to restore control in the ring, attempts to stop him. What happens instead is Black seizes her by the collar, leads her to the ropes, and... gently escorts her out of the ring. By now, the rest of Honor Society have backed off of Newbludd, who is lying prone and helpless on the mat.

Black slowly runs the ropes and drops a perfunctory Atomic Legdrop, and hooks the leg for a cover. Cole drops down for the count.

One!

Two!

Three!

BOOOOOOOOOO!!!

DDK:

What an absolute mockery! These men should be ashamed of themselves!

Lance:

I'm absolutely speechless, Keeps.

The four TAs of the Honor Society -- Cole, Horrigan, Roosevelt, and now also Black -- celebrate, while Newbludd lies motionless at their feet. The jeering audience launches volleys of garbage into the ring, protesting this horrendous turn of events. At some point, Chris Trutt comes out from the back and crawls into the ring with a mic in hand to get some answers.

Chris Trutt:

Rezin! Excuse me... excuse me... WHAT in the WORLD are you thinking?!

He holds the mic up for TA Black to speak.

TA Black:

Mutt Trutt, the first thing you need to do, is to tell these people to PLEASE KEEP THEIR VOICES DOWN, if you want to hear what I have to say!

BOOOOOOOOOO!!!

Chris Trutt:

I have been with you for so many years! For you to join up with the likes of Ned Reform... absolutely makes me SICK to my stomach! Now I think that these people here--and a lot of people around the world--have had just about enough of the Good Doctor, and you want to be a part of his group? You have got to be... JOSHING ME!

TA Black:

Well the FIRST thing you have to realize, Trutter, is THIS right here is the future of wrestling! You can call this... the NEW REFORMATION of WRESTLING, Trutter!

A fan who hopped the barricade gets halfway under the ropes before Horrigan intercepts him and stomps the bejesus out of him before DEFsec carries him off.

Chris Trutt: [pointing to the trash in the ring]

Look at all the crap in this ring! That's what's in the future for you if you want to hang around with the Good Doctor and the Honor Society!

TA Black:

As far as I'm concerned, all this CRAP in the ring represents these fans out here! For four years, Trutter--for FOUR YEARS--I held my head high! And GOT high! I did everything for the freaks! I did everything for the outcasts! And the reception I got when I came back here... you fans can GO SHIT UP YOUR OWN DICKS, Trutter! Because if it wasn't for Erik Black, you people wouldn't be here! If it wasn't for Erik Black, Favoured Saints would still be selling gator jerky from a truck in New Orleans! If it wasn't for Erik Black, all these Johnny-Smoke-Lately's you see wrestling wouldn't be here! I was burning down the WORLD, Trutter, while they were bumming power outlets to charge up their electric cars to get to high school! So the way it is now, Trutter, with Erik Black and the Honor Society of wrestling, Trutter, and the blue bloods by my side... what are you going to BALLYHOO when the Good Doctor runs wild on you? WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO BALLYHOO?!

He points down the camera, wish smash zooms in on his grinning face.

TA Black:

Remember kids... say NO to drugs... RESPECT authority... and ALWAYS listen to your teachers! DOPE is for DOPES!!

♪ "Ode to Joy" by Marcin Jakubek ♪

More pyros. More jeering. More celebrating amongst the Honor Society. More trash raining down from all directions. To make matters worse, WHITE CONFETTI begins to fall from the rafters.

DDK:

This is unbelievable, ladies and gentlemen, but they're telling us we are completely out of time! For Lance Warner, I'm "Downtown" Darren Keebler... we hope you have a good night! Erik Black, you can go to hell!
